

The image shows a page from an old handwritten music manuscript. It features ten horizontal staves. The top right corner is dominated by a large, dark, illegible scribble. In the middle of the page, the word "Gloria" is written in a large, elegant cursive script. Below this, there are some faint markings and a few notes on a staff. At the bottom of the page, the number "111" is written in a simple hand.

111