My Dear Sir, I believe I might safely trust to your kindness to excuse the liberty I take in recommending the bearer to your attention, even though the announcement of his name were not sufficient to interest you in his favour.

He is the eldest son of Professor Dilson, and is sent by his father to Bonn to prosecute his studies there till he is called to reside here in Oxford, which will be, I believe, in October next.

I am, My Dear Sir,

with very great respect,

Most sincerely yours

Monsieur

En vous présentant par cette lettre le prospectus d'un ouvrage qui doit sa naissance à une de ces idées que vous avez exposées dans votre Lettre sur l'Etat de la littérature orientale, je suis assez honteux pour remplir un devoir que m'imposent les con-venances et pour faire une chose qui m'est personnellement très agréable. Je desirais depuis longtemps solliciter en faveur de ce travail et l'approbation que vous accordez peut être au mérite de l'avoir entrepris et les conseils que vous ne me refusez sans doute pas pour en suivre l'exécution: Mais j'ai voulu attendre que le prospectus fût publié, pour qu'il vous fût possible de prendre une connaissance plus exacte du plan que que je me propose de publier, des ressources littéraires dont je puis disposer et du résultat que j'espère obtenir: les détails que donne le prospectus sur la forme de la rédaction, sur les diverses questions qui seront examinées dans le commentaire de chaque inscription, vous mettent à même de m'adresser des observations plus spéciales sur les différentes parties de mon travail et sur les conditions nécessaires de son exécution.

Je m'empresse d'avouer que le titre seul promet beaucoup plus que je ne pouvais tenir de toute ma vie; mais j'ai pensé que les titres ne devaient jamais être pris dans le sens absolu des mots qui les composent, et je me suis satisfait de cette consolation commune; je n'hésite donc pas à dire: hoc est corpus meum. Je vous demandais la permission de prendre pour épigraphe de mon ouvrage le passage de votre Lettre dans lequel vous signalez l'utilité d'un semblable recueil.

Des considérations de convenance littéraires que vous appréciez également, me font un devoir de vous demander si'il vous est agréable que je prenne pour objet d'une autre publication le commentaire de Śrīdharaśāmin sur la Bhagavadgītā et que je me réfère dans mes citations à la seconde édition que vous préparez de ce texte: je me plais d'autant plus à vous donner cette marque de déférence, que je me propose d'écarter encore dans cette publication une partie de votre programme et de faire de cette édition des gloses de Śrīdhara une introduction à l'étude du style des commentateurs.

Je salue assez en votre bienveillance pour les études orientales et pour ceux qui y apportent au moins leur zèle, pour vous prier d'accorder une réponse à mes questions et des conseils à mes premiers travaux.

Veuillez agréer,

Monsieur,

l'assurance de la considération très distinguée avec laquelle j'ai l'honneur d'être votre très humble et très dévoué serviteur

Monsieur,

Si je ne me suis pas plus empressé de répondre à la lettre obligeante que vous avez bien voulu m'adresser, c'est que j'avais le desir de faire excuser l'importunité de ma correspondance en l'accompagnant de l'envoi du plémier fascicule de l'ouvrage que je vous avais secrètement annoncé; c'était un desir, c'était une espérance; que l'un et l'autre ne soient pas accomplis et que je ne puisse vous présenter l'hommage que je vous réservais, je dois en excuser plusieurs causes dont la plus grave et la plus fâcheuse pour moi est certainement l'état déplorable de ma santé depuis plusieurs mois; le travail est devenu pour moi une fatigue et près qu'un ennemi; ces dispositions, qui ne sont pas celles qu'on doit apporter à un travail tel qu'un Recueil d'Inscriptions, n'ont d'ailleurs pas été améliorées par les encouragements que le Gouvernement a donnés à cette entreprise littéraire; M. Guizot sollicité d'accorder des fonds pour une partie de la publication de l'ouvrage, m'a répondu avec une extrême politesse que les frais que devait occasionner une aussi importante publication seraient trop considérables pour que le Gouvernement se trouvât en mesure d'en supporter une partie. Et c'était bien juste; car je n'avais fait appuyer une demande simplement littéraire ni par un seul député, ni même par un seul pair de France, car il ne s'agissait pas de littérature orientale, mais seulement de littérature d'histoire Indienne. Comme je tiens néanmoins à publier ne fût-ce qu'une feuille de mon recueil, pour prendre date et pour réaliser en échantillon celui de mes travaux projetés auquel j'attachais le plus d'intérêt, le titre au moins du Corpus I. I. se relèvera en même temps que ma santé, si elle se relève jamais de terrible atteinte qui l'ont éprouvée dans ces derniers mois. Quant aux matériaux, j'ai l'espérance d'en recueillir d'assez abondants dans un voyage à Londres; pour ce qui manquera à l'exactitude des copies, ce sera la tâche des indianistes européens, la vôtre surtout, de suppléer par les moyens si puissants de la critique, les monuments une fois mis entre les mains de tous les savants par l'édition que je me propose d'en donner.

On commence à Calcutta à expliquer les anciens documents de l'histoire Indienne avec une certaine prédilection; mais le pandit du Dr Mill, sans lui joindre d'assez mauvais tours que celui de Mr Wilson, est aussi l'auteur de singulières méprises qui retombent sur la réputation de son patron; c'est, si je ne me trompe, un mauvais poète qui prête souvent de mauvais lambeaux de glôkas aux inscriptions qu'il ne déchiffre pas très facilement; il cherche de très insignifiantes allusions poétiques dans des passages qui ne font rien pour le rapport de l'exactitude, de déshonneur à nos plus habiles administrateurs de domaines de la couronne, on peut en trouver dans ou trois exemples dans la dernière partie de son interprétation

De marbre de Sekhavarî, ou il n'y a point, quoiqu'on dise m. mill, fait mention du signe de la Balance, mais bien d'une division territoriale.

J'ai éprouvé une vive satisfaction d'apprendre que votre seconde édition de la Mahāvāgītā était en cours d'impression assez avancée pour que nous puissions avoir l'espérance d'en jouir vers le milieu de cette année. Ce que vous voulez bien me communiquer du plan d'exécution et de l'intention en vous étant de donner dans vos notes un dépouillement complet de toute la terminologie philosophique contenue dans le commentaire de Grādharaśrāmī me de ādva sans doute à m'adresser à un autre livre, peut-être au commentaire de Chankarāśhārya sur le même texte, dont j'espère recevoir une copie de l'Inde. Vos observations sur la liberté que prennent souvent les commentateurs avec la pensée de l'auteur original, trouvent malheureusement pour eux et pour nous de trop fréquentes applications, même dans les meilleurs glosses; mais il faut alors prendre le commentaire comme un nouveau texte, ayant aussi son importance proportionnelle, puisqu'il nous représente des opinions modernes qu'il faut sur des textes anciens qui avaient un autre śāśa.

Je vous demande la permission de rectifier votre opinion au sujet de l'estime que fait des orientalistes européens M. J. Vriessing l'ingénieur éditeur du journal asiatique de Calcutta; j'ai l'honneur de connaître M. Vriessing et par sa correspondance et par ses amis, et je puis vous assurer qu'il professe pour les travaux philologiques exécutés en Europe dans ces dernières années une estime qui n'a pu faire doute vous paraître un instant suspecte.

que par suite vous en avez interprété l'égévation par un sentiment d'idolie.
M<sup>r</sup> J. Crinly est même assez dégagé de préjugé de toute espèce pour ne faire de cas que de ceux des travaux européens relatifs à l'Inde et à sa littérature qui sont écrits sur le continent; aussi ses rapports sont ils beaucoup plus fréquents et beaucoup plus intimes avec la Société asiatique de Londres qu'avec une autre Société qui semblait avoir plus de droit à sa prédilection: je suis personnellement assuré qu'il a une grande admiration pour le coly indien de l'Allemagne et en particulier pour celle de Bonn. Je tenais à rétablir la vérité de ce fait parce que j'avais regretté à ce que les bonnes intentions de M<sup>r</sup> J. Crinly fussent inconnues faute d'une application et parce qu'il vous sera sans doute agréable d'apprendre que nous avons des intelligences dans le camp ennemi.

Le Gal attend fort à l'instant de chez moi et je viens d'arriver pour ainsi dire avec lui au nom de la Société asiatique <sup>les conditions d'</sup> une capitulation qui si elle n'ajoute pas beaucoup à l'illustration de cette Société, pourra du moins ajouter quelque chose à ses moyens pécuniaires de servir la science.
Le Gal désire que Handjit Singh soit nommé membre honoraire de notre Société, pour lui donner un intérêt personnel à secondé de tout son pouvoir les intentions de la Société et ses efforts ou plutôt ses vœux en faveur du progrès des études orientales: Handjit Singh est par malheur le seul pour être des souverains de l'Asie qui ne sache pas lire; le nommer membre honoraire d'une Société scientifique était chose difficile; le souverain n'ele permettaient pas. j'ai imaginé de couvrir son incapacité d'un titre plus éclatant et de le placer là où aucune comparaison ne put être faite ni pour lui ni pour ses collègues; je l'ai traité comme le roi, si le conseil ratifie mes articles, Kaung Sit Singa sera patron de la Société, et ce sera à ses frais que j'imprimerai l'histoire du Cachemire publiée par mon digne et savant ami le C<sup>e</sup> Evoyé. C'est une vie bien pénible que celle que mène le g<sup>al</sup> pendant son séjour à Paris; il se couche à 2 h. du matin et se lève à 5 h., tout le temps qui s'écoule entre ces deux points, il le passe à rendre des visites, à accepter et à refuser des invitations, tous les soirs je le disputais; car il n'y a pas de petite comtesse ou marquise qui ne veuille apprendre de lui comment se fabriquent les cachemires, qui ne veuille admirer sa barbe blanche en queue d'oiseau de paradis, qui ne desire savoir combien de fumy a Kaung Sit Singa &c., pas d'homme du monde, de négociant député qui ne lui demande avec gravité si la mer vient à Lahore, &c.

Je dois vous avoir fait part dans ma précédente lettre de l'espérance, je disais peut-être même de la certitude, que j'avais d'être nommé à l'une des chaires de Lh. 00. récemment créées dans les universités Belges. Un ami de ma famille était alors directeur de l'instruction publique et je pouvais me promettre beaucoup de son influence personnelle et de son influence de position.
Éloigné depuis lors à la suite d'une contestation avec le ministre, je suis entrée dans les rangs des candidats ordinaires, appelé à produire à l'appui de ma candidature les témoignages des hommes qui font autorité dans la science et de l'opinion desquels le ministère doit s'éclairer dans son choix. J'ai solicité les témoignages de M<sup>r</sup> al. de Humboldt et de quelques autres savants illustres; ne sera-t-il pas indigne de vous prier de m'accorder le vôtre, si vous croyez pouvoir le faire sans vous compromettre. Je crains que cette demande ne vous paraisse bien hardie et bien importune; mais je fais pour tout de toute votre indulgence pour l'excuser, et je la sollicite.

M<sup>r</sup> E. Brunonf vient de faire faire un plagiat immense à l'usage des inscriptions cunéiformes du premier et du 3<sup>e</sup> système; je ne vous dis rien plus à ce sujet, parce que son mémoire s'imprime en ce moment et que vous ne tarderez pas à juger par vous-même du mérite de sa décou-verte.

Monsieur,

l'assurance de la considération souverainement distinguée humble et dévoué serviteur

Je me plais à reconnaître que M. E. Jaquet, membre de la Soc. As de Paris, dans son Memoire: Mode y a fait preuve d'une connaissance approfondie de la langue Sanscrite et fourni des éclaircissements lumineux sur une méthode fort compliquée des mathéma-ticiens Indiens. M'étant borné à la l'étude de la littérature Sanscrite je ne suis pas en état d'apprécier l'érudition de M. Jaquet dans les autres langues Asiaticques; mais j'ai lu avec intérêt ses divers memoires dans le M. J. Asiaticque, j'y ai trouvé une critique <sup>judicieuse</sup> et beaucoup d'éclaircissements utiles.

Monsieur,

Le desir même de répondre sur tous les points à la lettre obligeante que vous m'avez fait l'honneur de m'adresser, m'a presque entraîné à négliger le seul mérite que pût avoir ma réponse, celui de la brièveté. Dois-je ajouter, de l'opportunité. C'est un peu tard, j'en conviens, que je vous offre l'expression d'une gratitude qui n'est d'ailleurs pas affaiblie par ce délai, pour la bienveillance que vous avez eue de m'accorder un témoignage aussi flatteur de l'approbation que vous voulez bien donner à mes travaux; je ne puis d'ailleurs accepter ce témoignage et les termes dans lesquels il vous a plu de me l'adresser, que comme un présage favorable pour l'avenir. J'y ai attaché d'autant plus de prix, et je suis d'autant plus flatté de l'avoir obtenu, que je dois moins le considérer comme un titre officiel que comme une marque de bienveillance. Ce que vous dites de la centralisation scientifique est parfaitement juste; la science s'est retirée des provinces envahies par l'industrialisme; elle reflue vers Paris, comme le sang vers le cœur dans un corps malade; concentrée là au milieu de toutes les passions bonnes ou mauvaises qui peuvent l'enflammer, l'activité intel-lectuelle trop souvent étouffée ou corrompue les éléments de la vie sociale; c'est un grand bonheur quand elle ne dégénère pas en fièvre cérébrale c'est à dire en fureurs politiques. Nous sommes d'ailleurs bien loin de croire que les limites du monde civilisé et littéraire soient aux barrières de Paris; mais lorsque nous sortons de la capitale, nous n'espérons le retrouver qu'au delà du Rhin; quand nous voulons trouver la conversation des livres, nous au lieu de celle des hommes, nous passons la Manche. La science est d'ailleurs à Paris beaucoup plus modeste que les savants; elle sait qu'elle y est tolérée et elle compose en conséquence son modeste maintien; elle n'osait paraître dans la bonne société qu'en se venant elle-même, de peur d'être sifflée et lestement reconduite par le monde élégant; aussi vit-elle avec un soin prudent les dehors légers et brillants des petits formats, des livres de salon et de boudoir, et lorsqu'elle veut rendre visite à deux ou trois amis honnêtes, s'affuble-t-elle du grand manteau de l'in 4°; à ce vêtement insolite on la reconnaît, on se détourne et on la laisse passer. Nous sommes si peu habitués, <sup>surtout</sup> depuis la mort de M<sup>r</sup> A. Remusat, à voir la littérature élégante affiliée à la littérature scientifique, que je n'ai pas même soupçonné l'existence dans le Calendrier Royal de Berlin d'un memoire sur l'Inde ancienne: j'ai fait depuis la reception de votre lettre de nombreuses et vaines tentatives pour me procurer soit dans les etablissements publics, soit chez mes amis le memoire que vous m'avez signale: c'est un nouveau motif pour moi et mes amis de desirer que vous en donniez une seconde edition dans un format plus reconnaissable et qui parle pour lui meme. Je regrette beaucoup de n'avoir pas connu ce travail avant la mention que vous en avez faite; j'y aurais trouve un double avantage, de la science toute faite à recueillir et de motifs pour ne pas faire un mauvais memoire.

Je souciais à tout ce que vous dites du bouddhisme, autant que ces observations s'appliquent au bouddhisme moderne; je vois pouvoir etabli pour le developpement de cette grande heresie du brahmanisme deux epoques principales, celle des deux premiers compilations des livres sacres en prâkrit ou en pali, et celle de la traduction successive de ces livres en sanskrit, vers le 7<sup>e</sup> ou le 8<sup>e</sup> siecle de notre ere; la premiere epoque est celle ou le bouddhisme se montre avec tous les caracteres d'originalité d'une reforme religieuse et politique, celle ou ses traditions sont derivees de la source commune des vedas; la seconde epoque est celle ou le bouddhisme etint par la persécution dans le midi de l'Inde, se fait tolerer dans les provinces du Nord, en s'alliant au culte sivaite, en ne conservant du bouddhisme primitif que des noms propres et des legendes; c'est le bouddhisme du Nepal, du Tibet, de la Mongolie et en grande partie de la Chine. C'est également à l'aide de la distinction des époques que je maintiens l'opinion d'Ellis sur l'origine de l'astronomie indienne, tout en acceptant la vôtre; il faut je crois distinguer l'astronomie primitive c'est à dire <sup>l'astronomie</sup> d'observation et d'imagination, de l'astronomie plus récente, celle qu'on peut appeler mathématique et systématique; de la première on trouve des traces incontestables dans les Vedas et particulièrement dans le Yadjour; c'est l'astronomie d'Hésiode et d'Homère; quant à l'astronomie mathématique, les Indiens se disent eux mêmes les disciples de Yavana, et il faut toujours croire une nation, quand elle fait honneur d'une découverte à une nation rivale.

Je vins de me retirer comme un piqueur punit dans les montagnes de l'Himalaya et jusque dans les grottes de glace du Kailasa, pour étudier ces grandes chaînes de rochers qu'un auteur chinois nomme les restes de Latona. J'ai été assez heureux, joignant mes instances à celles de plusieurs autres personnes, pour décider le G. al. à faire une expédition au delà de l'Himalaya, pour reconnaître le cours supérieur de l'Indus depuis le Tibet occidental jusqu'à Atok, et toutes les chaînes de montagnes comprises entre les glaciers de la Yamounâvatâsi, <sup>de la</sup> Gangavâtâsi et jusqu'à ceux de Karakorum sur les frontières de Yarkand. Je trace en ce moment les directions de ce voyage scientifique ou plutôt de cette promenade sentimentale dans laquelle le G. al. compte se faire suivre par dix mille hommes pour sa sûreté personnelle. Ce travail m'a donné occasion de retourner la position des anciens Koulouta.

Veuillez agréer, Monsieur, l'assurance de ma considération très distinguée;

Votre très humble et très obéissant serviteur

E. Jacquet

Monsieur

Je ne puis résister au desir que j' éprouve de vous offrir mes complimens empressés pour l' honneur que vous avez bien voulu me faire de m' adresser vos sentences sur l' antiquité du Zodiaque dans l' Inde; je dois qu' elles sont portés de manière à ce que M<sup>r</sup> Lotzonne y échappe difficilement. Je ne pense pas que le mléchttha ose maintenant se représenter sur quelque autre point de l' ayavalka; je vous conseille cependant d' y prendre garde; car c' est un apoura déguisé qui cherche à supplanter l' ambita dans le sabbā de Diuz, un lakohasa qui s' est caché dans l' acnama pour saisir quelques parcelles de siince échappés aux mounis, mais qui n' en laisse pas moins pointés by dents. Je vous offre mes félicitations avec plaisir et avec joie pour la belle réponse que vous avez faite aux prétentions de M<sup>r</sup> Lotzonne de tout abaissés dans l' Inde au dessus by temps ou by communications de cette contrée avec la Grèce devinrent plus fréquentes et plus suivies; il se fut de l' astronomie qu' il ignore d' ailleurs, et qu' il fait <sup>à son usage</sup> par quelque uns de ses amis, peut attaquer l'Inde dans ses connaissances mathématiques et chronologiques, peut jeter la confusion dans la chronologie afin de la dissiper, puis passant de là à l'histoire et à la littérature, prouvent qu'il n'y a rien d'antique dans l'Inde, ni pas même dans le reste de l'Asie, ce qui est le grand demonstrandum de M<sup>r</sup> Letronne.

On peut dire de vous comme de Valmiki : facit indignatio versus : vos clōkas respirent une verde toute juvénile, et je n'y trouve absolument qu'un seul défaut, c'est que la Modeste et la force doivent en rester toujours inconnus à M<sup>r</sup> Letronne.

Vous avez bien voulu prendre intérêt à ma candidature en Belgique et j'ai conservé un précieux souvenir des témoignages que vous m'en avez donnés pendant mon séjour à Bonn.

J'ai depuis longtemps abandonné toute poursuite à ce sujet, on ne voulait rien faire, mais on ne voulait cependant pas en faire un public avoué ; averti de cette mauvaise volonté, je n'ai pas voulu laisser traîner mon nom dans les bureaux d'un ministre aussi inepte, et je me suis retiré sans qu'il m'en coûtât beaucoup de regrets ; car j'avais prévu que les études orientales de l'Université de Gand devaient être un peu moins fortes que ses études grecques et latines, et Dieu fait si illy font brillantz!

Nous sommes toujours dans l'attente de la publication de votre Bhagavadgita et de votre Kamayana; nous vous entendons avec les mêmes prieres et les mêmes desirs que ceux de Monnis sangs autour de Saoti.

Je vous demande pardon si je n'ai pas respecté le secret de votre epigramme anonyme, mais il en est déjà divulgué; votre poësie vous avait trahi.

Veillez agréer, je vous prie, l'assurance de l'admiration et du respect avec lesquels j'ai l'honneur d'être

Monsieur,

avec ses humble et très dévoué serviteur

Empfangen Sie, mein hochachtungsvoller Herr College, meinen herzlichsten Dank für die Danksagung Ihrer werthevolligen Absendung.
Ich werde sie noch einmal flüchtig lesen können, um desto besser viel davon zu erfahren. Die Bestimmung sie gütlich und wiederholt zu lesen, muß ich mir für jetzt vorbehalten, weil ich von allen Dingen im unten Abzugesen-keine Gelegenheit finde.

Zu demnach Erwähnung wurde ich von Auf-abgegebenen Exemplare, was sich auch in der Fülle in Göttingen, sind mir noch herzlich zu erkommen. Ich glaube Ihnen meine schon zu Anfang des vorigen Jahres geschriebene Rede zu dem meinen Vortrage von Luthers von Richard über die Augustinische Missions zu geben.

Vollte ich nicht wissen, so wiere Hr. Löffler sie man mitteilen können. Ich habe davon was von Jhrer abgefordert, wie in Bezeichnung auf die vorliegende Untersuchung, dasen. Die Jhrer ich keine Exemplare mehr.

Zugleich habe ich einige von mir verfertigte Tafeln dazu mit der Lateinischen Übersetzung so wie ein ein Blatt: Hr. Letronne mochte als eine Bekräftigung und Lagen, daß ja nicht über die Indische Altertum wirklich abgehandelt, wenn man die Sprache nicht weiß. In der Tat sind mir an Hauptgrund davon laßt angeordnet.

Die Tafeln sind meine Lateinische Übersetzung der Rāmāyana nach dem, was ich von dem Inhalt. In der Anmerkungen habe ich die Zeit der Entstehung der Tafeln beigefügt.

Die Tafeln sind nicht so angeordnet, als die, die ich habe, anzunehmen können. In der ganzen, in einigen Punkten sind die meine Bekräftigung. Ich habe mir erlaubt, daß die Constitutionen der Hindu in Indien anzunehmen sind. Daß sie über den von dem

In dem letzten Lingen an mich will Hr. Letronne früher seine Hypothese nicht ansetzen, aber er scheint sich schon zum Kündigen nach Galien zu begeben, mit einer neuen, wie er Ihre Absendung kam.

In Bezug auf Ihre Notiz zu pag. 7 bemerke ich jetzt oben immer immer jüngeren Jahresten Ihrer, Hr. Geheimrath, eine Abhandlung über den wissenschaftlichen Charakter der Araber mit Ihren Worten lässt, worin er ein sehr gültiges Arabisches Zeugnis dafür anführt, dass die Araber bereits vor Jahrhunderten astronomische Länderkarten übersetzt hatten, und sie von den Holländern kamen.

Dear Sir

I take shame to myself for not having forwarded to you sooner, the accompanying Diploma of your Election to our Royal Society of Literature. But it happened by some accident to be placed out of sight while I was absent from town, and escaped my memory till another accident brought it forth from its concealment. I trust you will pardon my negligence, in consideration of the pleasant alacrity with which I originally promoted the payment of this tribute of respect to your genius.

Will you have the goodness to acknowledge the receipt of the Document to our President the Bishop of S<sup>t</sup>. David's, at the Society's Chambers happy to hear from you on this occasion or Di tutto ciò son grato a V. S. che vi compiacete farmi fare il pregevole acquisto.

La Vostra dimora in Parigi può essermi spai giovedì cazione di una raccolta la più estesa che mi sarà possibile di quelle Patere Etrusche con rami e spiegazioni, e ne ho già adunato un gran numero, ma renderla più completa vorrei averne di quelle che trovansi nelle raccolte di Parigi, come di altri Musei d'Europa. A tale effetto ho stampato il manifesto che qui accludo, invi-tare i possessori di queste Patere antiche a volermene mandare i disegni per esser pubblicati. Voi dunque potreste farmi il piacere di interporvi presso coloro in Parigi che hanno queste Patere, e ottenerne i disegni e mandarmeli, giacché l'invitare come ho fatto a mandarmene i disegni non basta per ottenerli, ma bisogna che qualche mio amico si prenda premura per affinchè quei che hanno le Cattedre Etrusche nelle loro raccolte di antichità vogliano determinarsi a concedermi questi disegni che io domando; altrimenti ne succede che o il manifesto lam-pato che fa pubblica questa mia domanda non viene ai D. possessori di antichità Etrusche, o venendo loro la mia domanda e non avendo meco veruna relazione nè titolo di favorirmi non si determinino a mandarmi i disegni, loche però che faranno per mezzo di un qualche mio amico che voglia prenderse premura per me costa in Parigi, quale però che sarete V. S. onde io da Voi in particolare mi lusingo ottenere la mia richiesta.

Sento con piacere che vi occupate delle cose Etrusche, le quali vi avranno data occasione di conoscere i monumenti che di tal genere esistono a Parigi, e fra questi saprete ove si trovano le Cattedre in bronzo manu-scritte che io cerco. Però che presto avrete impresso il vostro lavoro degli Etruschi, ed a me lo vedete subito, giacchè sarà moltissimo da me gradito. onoratemi dei vostri comandi, e conservatemi nella vostra, me pregevole amicizia mentre in attenzione

19 Great Cumberland Street 25 January 1824.

My dear Sir,

This will be delivered to you by my son Patrick - The anxiety which I feel to place him as soon as possible under your superintendence & the favorable opportunity which Mr. Lassen's departure for Bonn has afforded me <sup>offending</sup> him, have induced me to avail myself of your kind proposal to receive him much sooner than I intended when I last had the pleasure of seeing you. I trust that his arrival along with Mr. Clebrook will not interfere with any arrangements which you may have made upon the subject.

My son is destined as you know for the civil service in India, but is very well

that he should remain with you, provided it should be convenient for you to keep him so long, for two years; when he will nearly have attained the age at which young men are admitted into the college of Kayleybury.

Mr. Colebrooke has given me the sketch of which I take the liberty to enclose you a copy. of the line of study which it may be advisable for my son to pursue, with a view to his Indian destination, your knowledge however of Oriental literature is the best mode of leading a young man to distinction in that pursuit as to much greater than that of any person I know, that he, you will make my son follow any studies which you may think most useful for him, I trust you will be assured that I shall place the most implicit confidence in any measures that you may be so obliging as to adopt with respect to his education. I need scarcely repeat how fortunate I consider myself in having my son under your care. I am certain, I feel, provided he exerts himself, of his deriving the greatest advantage from your able instruction.

As the meeting of Parliament will take place in a few days & as the towns will then begin to file, I expect that the number of subscribers to the Campaign will increase very rapidly. My business will when I have commenced, seem of the labor which you have undertaken of the encouragement which the application

such talents as you profess to so interestingly a work ought to receive in this country.

And myself the honor of calling along with my son upon Madame de Buttlar yesterday, was happy to find her looking so well. Lady Schuster my daughter are just returned to town for a few days & I hope that we shall in the course of this week be able to persuade Madame de Buttlar to favor us with her company a few hours. I shall, I presume you, Honour Lady Schuster. The rest of my family be most happy to show her every attention in our power, & I have no doubt that her merits as a poetess painter will acquire her the fame to which her talents so eminently entitle her.

Lady Schuster, altho' she has not the honor of being personally acquainted with you, desires me to express her warm regret that she had ~~not~~ the good fortune to see you when you were in England. I to present her best compliments to you.

Believe me with great esteem

Your very sincere Faithful servant.

Alex. A. Schuster

For a young man destined for the Civil Service in Bengal, the most essential objects of study are the Oriental Languages: Sanscrit, especially, which is a key to every Indian Dialect; & Persian which is the language of business in India. As the judicial branch is the principal one of that Service, it is desirable, that his attention should be directed to jurisprudence, & some elementary reading of civil law, or attending an introductory course or two. Mathematics should not be neglected. The study strengthens the mind; and the knowledge always comes to some use. A certain proficiency in Greek and Latin Classics is required at Calcutta. Arithmetic of course.

It does not occur to specify any thing else; but to say generally, the more his attainments are, the better, for in the Multifarious employments of Justice, there is no foreseeing what may be called for.
Every sort of liberal knowledge, has its utility. In the particular circumstance I should suggest Sanscrit as the primary object; with German, & French, keeping up Classical studies, & joining to them, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Natural Philosophy; & if there be time, Logic & Elements of Civil Law. I do not speak of other matters, as Chemistry, Natural History &c concluding there would not be time to enter upon them. I believe Lectures are given on History, Belles Lettres &c

Such courses of Lectures it would be advantageous for the Student to attend.

Concerning accomplishments, I shall only observe that Drawing is a very advantageous one.

Mr. Colbrooke will have informed you that I showed him your letter to me as you desired - Will you have the

My dear Sir.

I have had the pleasure to receive your letter from Bonn of the 4. Inst. and beg to return you both on my own part and that of Lady Somerset many thanks for the obliging things which you are so kind as to say relative to my son -

We are delighted to hear that he had so soon commenced upon his German studies. I thank both Mr. Colbrooke

(25) As I think that it will be of some use to your work that the Court of Directors should purchase it I spoke yesterday to Mr Edmonstone who is one of the Directors & a friend of mine upon the subject: he has promised to get the Court to agree to take the usual number of copies which I believe is forty: he suggested at the same time, that it would be advisable, if you have no objection to do so, that you should authorize me to say that you would dedicate it to them: may therefore let me know what you think of this plan I send you as soon as possible your instructions upon the subject: as follows

I can assure you to offer an opinion upon the occasion I should certainly say that it is a good one: I told Edmonstone that I thought it would be an honor to the directors to patronize in the most public manner a man of your distinguished talents & unequalled acquaintance in Oriental as well as in European literature. In the course of conversation I remarked to Edmonstone that it would be a great improvement to Kaye's College if a professorship of Oriental history was established at that Seminary: he well endeavored he says as soon as possible to get such a professorship instituted & he & I both agreed that it would be most desirable that we should get from you a sketch of your lectures on Oriental history as a model for the guidance of this new professor. Keep all the private for fear of exciting jealousy. Let me have your sentiments on this point.

Capt. Todd has just now written to me about a copy of the Ramayanam in his possession what he says may be interesting you it is as follows. "The Copy of the Ramayanam I possess was presented to me by his highness the Rajah of Bodepore the first among the Princes of kind - it is in a series of plates if I may so term descriptive drawings of the narrative with the subject matter written on the back of each plate. There were several hundreds of these but I am not exactly at this moment aware of the exact number of them however hope it is complete in all events the copy is a very uncommon one of some centuries old. I rather believe approached a tree - It was a parting gift almost I had little time to examine it with my old Jain Tutor upon whom I can do nothing in the original. I shall with the greatest pleasure place it before the Assistant of Professor Schlegel who understands is now collecting various manuscripts of this ancient poem. I shall also look out a Manuscript amongst those I have request you to Return you my sincere thanks for your letter of the 12th ult. & for the number of the Bibliogues Indienne which you were so obliging as to send me by Mr. Lafans. I need not thank you that I am extremely flattered by the kind manner in which you have done me the honor to mention my name in that work.

I have ascertained privately through Mr. Edmonstone that the Directors will be very much gratified by having your review of the Ramajana dedicated to them & I am therefore on the suggestion of Mr. Edmonstone, about to write to them upon the subject a letter which will receive from them such an answer as will convey officially to me their sentiments.

Capt. Todd is delighted with the present which you have made him & has begged your acceptance of three of his Sanscrit manuscripts which he desired Mr. Lafens to choose out of his collection which Mr. Lafens tells me he has forwarded to you by the Pussian messenger.

The Nabob of Oude or more correctly speaking the King of Oude has sent to the Court of Directors eighty copies of a Persian ~~copy~~ Dictionary which he has computed himself which he has caused to be printed by his own printers in the palace at Lucknow: as the Nabob has requested the Directors to distribute some of these copies amongst the most distinguished of the Sovereigns & Universities in Europe your university will receive one copy. The King of Prussia celebrity which you have so justly acquired for your knowledge of Oriental literature, makes that university as the one which was peculiarly intended in the Prussian dominions to this denotation. You must consider it as a proof of the estimation which your former services have universally in the opinion of the friends of Oriental literature in this country.

Allow me to return you my thanks for the account which you give me of my son - I am fully aware how little he learnt at his last school & am therefore quite satisfied that whatever proficiency he may hereafter make in his studies must be solely attributed to your exertions. I am very glad to hear that he has begun Sanscrit. I am most desirous

He is assured you most deeply impressed

My dear Sir,

I know your time to be so much so usefully occupied that I do not write to you so often as I should otherwise wish to do. a friend of mine Sir Charles Desvoeux has a son of about seventeen at present in France with Monsieur Bequet. he leaves Monsieur Bequet next February. Sir Charles requested me as a favor to ask you if you would permit his son to have the benefit of being under your roof & your superintendance as young Colonel Crooke & my son was for a year from next February at the end of which period Sir Charles expects to obtain a commission in the army for the young man. Sir Charles tells me that his son, who is 17, is quite as obedient & as anxious to learn as a younger boy might be. I have, as you may easily suppose, so often expressed the satisfaction & pride I feel at having my son under your superintendance care that Sir Charles Desvoeux as well as my other friends look upon my present situation as the most fortunate one in which a young man can be placed & you must therefore not be surprised at my being requested, as a most particular favor by Sir Charles Desvoeux to convey his wishes to you. I have ventured to say to Sir Charles upon the subject as I had formerly wrote to you but I at the same time informed him that I had not much hopes of your acquiescing in his proposal as he was aware that you had agreed to take young Colbrooke & myself merely as a personal act of kindness to Mr. Colbrooke myself for which we felt ourselves most highly indebted to you. Should you object, I almost anticipate that you will, to have Sir Charles Desvoeux's son in your house you may perhaps be able to recommend some person under whose care young Desvoeux might be placed at Bonn where, altho he might not be actually in your house, he might have

The benefit of having your superintendance direction of his studies, as his destination in the army has studies well for the most part, I must as we peculiarly adapted to that profession the young man, I am sure from what I have heard, will do credit to his instructors. Sir Charles is a great lover of the Marquis of Anglesey, the young man is therefore well connected in the world.

which I frequently receive from my son shows proofs of the rapidity with which his mind has been developed since he has been with you I afford my great pleasure to his mother the account which he has sent us of his tour in the Rhine is much above what a boy of his age educated in this country could have written - his grand uncle has given him a present of 20 pounds to buy out as he likes; will you be so kind as to advance him five pounds on this account I assure him to bring upon a book to send his uncle as some acknowledgement of his present. His uncle is one of the most distinguished classical scholars in this country & is completely master of French & Italian literature. The present will be generous but whatever it is, it will show be rendered valuable in the eyes of my uncle by his knowing that it which was assisted by your judgement in his choice of an appropriate book. May request that you will do me

My dear Sir.

I have to thank you very much for the obliging manner in which you answered my application relative to Sir Charles Des Voeux's son - as soon as I had received your letter I informed Sir Charles of what you had requested him to communicate directly with you upon the subject which he tells me has done him very much delighted, as you may easily believe, with the prospect of his son having the advantage of your superintendance & Society for such period as may elapse before he can procure for his son a commission in the Army which is at present extremely difficult for him with the greatest interest.

I have written to Patrick to day desiring him to ask you to recommend him such of our English authors as will enable him to acquire a good English prose style: I should wish him to read very little English only so much as may be necessary to enable him to acquire the style I have mentioned. I have also mentioned to him that the knowledge of natural history is so much cultivated at present in India that he should avail himself of his stay at home to acquire some knowledge of that subject provided you think his attending to it does not interfere with any other more useful pursuit.

I am extremely happy to hear of your intention to get a Swiss tutor for Tahiti.
Holebrooke when their present tutor leaves them I shall gladly accede to any additional expense which you may think necessary in procuring such a person, as it will afford the boys the best possible mode of obtaining a knowledge of the French language. Mr. Holebrooke seems equally well impreged with the advantage which the boys will derive from this measure. Mr. Charles Desrochers is most anxious to share in the expense of the measure -

I am going to the India House tomorrow & briefly for the purpose of reminding the Directors of the East India Company of the active patronage which they should take in your projects I have translation of the Ramayan I have no doubt that they will ultimately come forward in the manner now they ought to do on the occasion -

The Asiatic Society goes on well & I have no doubt that its numbers will increase most rapidly as soon as the account of its establishment has been generally circulated throughout India - Mr. Lapers who drank tea with us the night before last seems quite well - I believe me with great esteem & regard

My dear Sir
Yours very sincerely

I have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th Inst. the succession of Storm what we have experienced for the last month has interrupted the usual intercourse between this Island and the Continent for a considerable time. Accounts for the time which my letter had to reach home.

I have recently received a letter from Sir Charles Des Voeux informing <sup>me that</sup> in consequence of the augmentation of our army which will take place as soon as Parliament meets on the 3rd of next month he expects very soon to get a commission for his son which will prevent him from availing himself of your kind offer to receive his son under your protection & Superintendance at home - he desires me to say how extremely obliged to you he feels for your kindness & agrees to deare him. How highly gratified I should be would have been, had circumstances still permitted him to do so, to have placed him for tho' for a short time, under a person so distinguished as you are both in Germany from England for the extent of your literary knowledge & for those qualifications, which are so seldom united in one person: here you me to add that he would have had the pleasure of writing upon the subject, himself as intended to do, had not the unexpected interposition of Government to raise a considerable number of troops in consequence of the war in India & the state of Ireland, ordered it certain that he would almost immediately obtain a commission in the army for his son that it would be necessary for him to form his regiment as soon as he had received that commission.

I am very much pleased with the prospect what you say my son has made in French & Latin the opportunities which are afforded him of obtaining an insight into the different branches of science to which you allude - Mr.

Webster I think is very admirable that the boy should have a French tutor as you propose I am very glad to hear that there is a probability of your getting a French gentleman recommended by so good a judge as Baron Hacl.

As my son is destined for India I as it were be necessary to place him at Hertford College as soon as he is fifteen I think that I shall be obliged to limit his stay at Bonn to thirteen or fourteen months more but shall, in all probability, have the pleasure of seeing you either the latter end of Spring or the beginning of next Summer I shall be able, by that time, to know for certain from the friend who has promised to appoint him to India, at what period it will be necessary for my son to return to England

We reached London about a fortnight ago I immediately on my arrival delivered your letter to the

 I presented one of my copies of your poem to your

In consequence of your suggestion I have

I have little doubt that he will be elected.

you possess over all other persons of your society not only agreeable but most instructive to all eyes as well as to all nations.
The manner in which we found our own improvement in every respect is a subject to you may suppose of great happiness to ourselves here where which we receive the most flattering compliments from our friends & acquaintances.

I made Mr. Valpy's acquaintance on purpose that I might have the pleasure of presenting to him in person the copies of your papers which you sent by me to the Editor of the Classical Review. He spoke in the highest terms of your genius & of your works & assured me of my good fortune in having them under your superintendance.
We shall I think leave London for Paris in a fortnight or three weeks. If you will write me, should you be the owner of your correspondence with the Duke de Broglie, I mention that Lady Norton my daughter as well as myself have the pleasure of your acquaintance. We shall be at the Hotel de as I know the Duke de Broglie & the Baron de Stael, meet the Duke at Paris & as acquaintance of yours we may possibly receive a gracious reception on her part. Lady Norton my daughter

My dear Sir.

As I have not had the pleasure to hear from you lately I am anxious to learn when you think of making your intended journey to Berlin & what tour you propose to send which Holbrooke upon during the Easter vacation. When I was last at Bonn you mentioned to me that you had some idea of sending the boys with Mr. Lafren into Holland for a fortnight. This seemed to me to be a desirable arrangement if should Lafrens not have returned from Paris, you may perhaps not think it proper to hasten them with any other person. I shall approve of whatever employment of their Easter leisure you may think most expedient. What be happy to hear from you as soon as is convenient upon the subject. Patrick tells his sister in his last letter to her that he understood you mean to take him to Eupfeldorf. Hope to have good accounts from you of Patrick's attention to his studies & of his conduct; he says he begins to speak French tolerably well have you commenced Spanish with him or do you wish him to make further progress in his other studies before you allow him to begin the study of a new language?

Assured, when at Bonn, to make Patrick a present of a new book as I shall send him one from this country he need not purchase one in the continent.

Mr. Lockhart told me the other day that he had settled all the necessary preliminaries with you that he was in great hopes that you would write a paper soon for the Quarterly Review - German Literature. The German language, judging from the great numbers of German German Grammars, which have been recently sold in England, has become extremely popular amongst my countrymen & my paper of yours upon the subject will be read with the greatest interest. What has become of Mr. Prebushin? I wrote to him a long time ago through the Prussian Ambassador to this country but have not yet received an you had met with a loss in your family

I have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your last letter & shall answer it more at length in a short time - As I find, considering the professional views which I have for my son, that he must be in England as I formerly mentioned to you as soon as he is fifteen years old which he will be next month has I had now learn from Mr. Colebrook that he has ordered his son to return immediately to England I can't myself of the opportunity which this circumstance will afford the two young men of travelling together to request that you will send Patrick off along with young Colebrook. Mr

My dear Sir,

The shortness of the notice which I received owing to the circumstances that Mr. Colbrooke mentioned to you, of the intended return to England of his son of the necessity, was underwriting to you by the same post as Mr. Colbrooke, but which should have the opportunity of travelling with young Mr. Colbrooke, prevented me from writing to you so much at length as I should otherwise have done on that occasion.

I delayed answering your letter of the 7th of April till I had ascertained for certain whether I was or was not likely to get such a situation for Caboch as I had applied for in the Diplomatic line. Shortly after before the date of my last letter to you I received an answer from the Foreign Office which put an end to the plan I had formed for my son to travel in India I obliged me again to think of India for him. I accordingly consulted upon the subject with a friend of mine who is thoroughly acquainted with the arrangements which are about to be made by the Government relative to the young men who are destined for the Company's Civil Service. He advised me to send for Patrick as soon as possible in order that he might be admitted if necessary into Hazelbury College as soon as he had attained his 14th year. I proceed to India, should I wish it, as soon as he had attained his 18th year. If a person be destined for India, it is an office of the greatest importance, in the present state of the service,

service, that he should enter upon his career in that country very young. I therefore determined, as Patrick will be 16 next month, to avail myself of the opportunity which young Colbrooke's return afforded him, of having a fellow traveller with him all the way to England. Allow me to repeat what I have already so often said to you, how sensible Lady Somerset is of the very great attention & kindness which you shew to her servants he has been with you. How much I think we both were with the great improvement in every respect which we perceived in him when first at home. I need not trust, I add that I should have felt myself most fortunate if circumstances had permitted of my doing so. To have continued Patrick for a longer period under your care I that it is with the utmost regret I am obliged to recall him. May that you will have no scruple in letting Mr. Colbrooke I am now what I have & I think you may have received under a belief that our sons would have remained with you longer than they have done.

My dear Sir

(40) I have had very great pleasure in receiving your letter of the 7th April & am extremely obliged to you for the trouble which you have taken in forwarding Patrick's books which are all arrived in perfect safety, & good order. My banker Messrs. Drummond & Co have paid into the house of James Cazemore £50 according to your desire the little balance of £7. 19 on your account

I need not shew, assure you, how sorry I am to hear of your having suffered so much of late from domestic misfortunes I am happy both Lady Somerset & I shall to learn that your very amiable niece Madame de Butlaer is perfectly recovered.

Which shows the good effects, & his present studies, of the great care & attention which you were so kind as to pay to his education - The act of Parliament which Mr. Wynn has brought in renders it no longer necessary that young men, before going to India, should learn Kayserburg two years, provided when they have attained the age of 18, they are able to pass the examinations which is fixed for their qualification - I am therefore keeping him very hard at work in the office of a gentleman who is an old friend of mine who is the law adviser to the Secretary of State for the Colonies. The education which he receives here, added to that which he has already received from you, will fill him, by the time he is 18, either to hold an office in the King's colonies or in the Company's service & should then allow him to decide for himself he is very assiduous in reading he is equal to German works which you recommended to him & I must do him the credit to say, that he is perfectly sensible of the benefits which he derives not only from your tuition, but also from your invaluable conversation, which has given <sup>him</sup> ideas upon literary subjects farthers, which no young man of his age who has been educated in this country ever acquires.

Lady Schomberg's only daughter & father desire to be most kindly remembered to you & am with great esteem
My dear Sir,
Yours very sincerely

I return you a great many thanks, for the you have so kind as to send me. I have read them

My dear Sir.

Allow me to congratulate you on the publication of the first volume of the Purnagaram. It is a most beautiful work universally admired in this country.
The types are most distinct & the letters appear to me to be better formed than any I have seen either in this country or in India. All the people here who are capable of forming a judgement upon the subject are quite surprised at the perfection to which you have brought your work. The title requires your labors will be properly appreciated.

to the attention of the general meeting to see the members to take every step in their power to secure its circulation in England & India. As I am sure that the native Princes in India will be highly delighted with it. I have spoken upon the subject to the friends in this country of the King of Tanjore & Rajah Jendernan Rajander who are both very distinguished Chiefs in the South of India the former the chief of Schwabty who is a great speak to the friend of the Rajah of Sattara the Chief of the Marattas I have no doubt he will also put his Rajah's name down on the list of subscribers.

You will perceive by the proceedings which I have sent you by Aves that the Asiatic Society is getting on remarkably well. Have you read Mr. Uppham's work on the worship of Demons & on the Astrology of Ceylon. Both these principles have enormous influence upon the minds of the people of Ceylon & the rest of India & I want you to write an article upon Uppham's

My dear Sir,

I have already had the pleasure to write you twice lately I await myself now of the departure of my friend P. Rosen to write you again: he will inform you of the resolution I proposed & examined in the committee of correspondance of the Asiatic Society by which we determined that we should take every means in our power to get the notices of distinction for reward for cast & for talents in India to come forward as subscribers to your Annals by way of showing their respect for the great learning & talents which you have displayed in publishing the best edition that was ever seen of the most popular poem which will do the literature of the nations of India more honor in Europe than has ever been done to it before & will thereby increase the interest which is excited in favor

The people of India in this country - whom in the best means has caste adopted for improving their condition by making our Government & Parliament aware of the value of the country & the people has extraordinary circumstances have placed under our government. I have already made great things add to the list of persons the name of Raja Inderman Kelauder shall also soon hope to have an opportunity of adding that of the Rajas of Tanjore Sattarab Merar as well as those of many of the most distinguished names of other learned men in India.
I have spoken to Mr Todd upon the subject & says he will place the name of the Rajas of Bidjore upon the list. I shall be able to mention them to all the other persons I have requested their friends to write - I have by this opportunity sent you a copy of the report which I made to the Society on their anniversary in 1828 as Chairman of the Committee of Correspondence. It has been printed by the Society at the request of the meeting for president Mr Wynn circulated with the next number of our proceedings. In order however that you may see it without delay for our proceedings have the pleasure of sending you a copy by Dr Rosen you will see in page 12 that I have endeavored to state shortly the opinion of all who know you have formed of the debt of gratitude which Oriental Literature owes to you & the high estimation which is formed by your own services by your own country of your extraordinary merits & a rewardment -

I have also the pleasure to send you by Dr Rosen a copy of Miss Baillies drama called the Bride which she wrote at my request for the instruction of the people of India. I have directed some of my friends in India to get translated into about 16 different languages which are common in India to order that the people of the country may have it acted through Asia in the manner in which the Indians themselves have been accustomed from the earliest periods to have every drama acted which was written by their own countrymen to convey to them any moral regulations or political sentiments which they wished to inculcate

Miss Baillie has acted with the greatest liberality upon the subject. She gave the manuscript to me & authorized me to have it printed for the benefit of the natives of Caylon. She receives no part of the profits herself: whatever sum is produced by the sale over & above the expense of publishing it, goes to form a fund for establishing a general system of education for the natives of Caylon: the nature character are well delineated; the country is well described. The particular description of Jealousy is well chosen as is the paper which prevails to the greatest <sup>extent</sup> among all claps of people in Asia particularly among the highest & the most noble claps among them. The ~~particular~~ <sup>particular</sup> method Miss Baillie describes for ~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> manner in which the doctors christianizing mitigate this passion with their art upon the minds of the of the people without alarming their religious prejudices. I am persuaded that Miss Baillie would feel most highly flattered by your reviewing favorably this drama to some German periodical work. If you could send me the amount you give you will prevent it being <sup>in</sup> your name - her respect for your opinion is so high that you would show gratify her much by this mark of your attention. I think you might also by calling the attention of people in Germany to the idea of opening Moral & Political institutions to the natives of India by dramas induce some intelligent writer to write some things for them - if you have time you might do a great deal of good in India by writing some dramas especially for the Indians generally. They would have it translated into the vernacular Indian languages in a very short time after you have sent or done. Your name will be so generally known so universally revered in India persons having given so authentic proof as editor of the Ramayana that any work composed by you will be received in every part of India with the greatest admiration - pray turn this all in your

Had me hear from you soon upon the subject. The establishment of the Asiatic Society in England has turned the attention of the public very much to India. The discussions which will take place next year before both houses of Parliament will make every thing relative to India to read with great avidity here come next year. The great question of the government of India will be brought before Parliament. The education of the people as well as their education will be the two most interesting topics for consideration. Should any work of yours appear about that time it will excite great interest in this country I have communicated my ideas upon this

 months for the purpose of learning to speak French with fluency - I have desired him to consult you who are so admirable a judge of this language & say they connect with it as to what place he should go to in France for that purpose he must be back in London by the 14 or 15 of Nov. at the latest in order to keep his Law term therefore his stay abroad is very limited - he wishes at first to go Geneva but when we consider the time he will be getting the term he will be returning from thence, as is obvious that the greater part of the time he is to be abroad would be spent in his journey -
 to recommend him to some place to France

When there are no English Men constant opportunities of speaking French he may use in the limited time he is over, make considerable progress. We shall not think his constitution is such as to suit an Indian climate. He is likely to give up all idea of his going to India. I consequently determined upon making <sup>from</sup> study the law. He called to the bar which in our country opens a fine career for every man of ability. He has kept 4 terms. I must keep 8 more before he can be called to the bar. I am therefore very particular about his returning to England again in proper time to keep his term to the bar. I am considering the disipation of Paris not a very good place to go there but I dare say you know of some place where he may study with a private family in some parts of France where he will acquire the faculty which has distinguished himself.

I have desired Patrick to speak to you about the drama called the bride called by Miss Bailey at my request for the benefit of the people of India. I think you a copy of this play by Rosen. I think from your knowledge of India that Indian literature you would sketch out a series of dramas for the people of India which partly under my own directions & partly from his own acquaintance many persons in Germany might see if you could find time yourself to prepare a drama for India you would be writing a masterpiece upon the people of the country & should very easily have it translated in all of the most popular languages of the country - pray then this week to your friend that we hear from you upon the subject.
I also had a pleasure to

And you a copy of my report of the proceedings of the Comstock by Com-mission of the Society which is published in my Journal. Periodical work would give the people on the continent some idea of the different objects we have in view of the various measures by which we are endeavoring to attain our object.
I have written to all my native friends in India accordingly, the appearance of the first volume of the Magazine I have particularly called the attention of the Raja of Tanjore to the subject most of the Bramins & the prominent of India are in correspondence with my friends in the peninsula of India through them. I have little doubt that your work will be hailed <sup>in India</sup> as a surprise to the with admiration & surprise for

They will scarcely believe it possible that any one can have attained such a perfect knowledge of Sanscrit as you have done in this way being less a way than of India. All our Mental Scholars in this country are proud to bear witness of your work & Mr. Keble whose former Professor at the University College at Kebleton, last week met me at the British being of your the most flattery account what is possible of the opinion which he had formed of the merits of your work.

As I which has been unwell for some weeks I shall be anxious to hear from you how you think whether Walter would advise him to pursue any particular course. If he seems at all unwell I must beg that you will tell him to return immediately to England as I shall be Very anxious to know how he leaves

My dear Sir,

Allow me to introduce to your kind attention Col. M<sup>r</sup> Blair who has been a great deal in India & who are thoroughly acquainted with all those parts of the Company's dominions which are under the Bombay <sup>Presidency</sup> Col. Blair when at Bombay was military secretary to Sir Charles Colville while he was commander in Chief of the Army under that Presidency. Sir Charles Colville was very regular in making circuits through the different Provinces where the troops were quartered & of course handled upon those occasions with all the influence which his situation gave him. It was thereby enabled to see places & collect information about the country

The inhabitants in a way which few other persons could do. Col. M<sup>r</sup> Blair always accompanied him on his tour. M<sup>r</sup> Blair draws most beautifully and Zealous in taking views of the most celebrated temples, temples &c & in the country he has given some drawings of places which are highly celebrated in Indian history had never before. He went to them, been visited by many Europeans. Some of these places are alluded to in Col. Todds work. M<sup>r</sup> Blair, who requires much curious new information respecting these places. All these circumstances make him a very interesting person. You will, I am sure, like his society. As Col. M<sup>r</sup> Blair will much to become acquainted with some of the distinguished literary characters in the above Kingdom you will do me a favor by giving them

London
2<sup>d</sup> June 1826

My dear Sir,

I ought to have writtlen to you some time ago but always being prevented either by visits or by looking at the great alterations that have taken place since the last time I was in London, I have not been able to take up my pen till this moment. I was highly gratified with the whole of my journey in that singular country, Holland, where one element is kept in check by another, where the sea rages on the outside of immense dikes, and where water is advantageously employed in any use to which human ingenuity can make it applicable. Holland is a hive swarming with a numerous, active, industrious population and the conveyance by canals must be very delightful, for they bring you in two or three hours to a delightful and well inhabited town, with public buildings worthy of attention and well stored with choice collections of the finest pictures of the Dutch and Flemish schools. The only town we stopped at on our journey was Brussels, and that we did ~~only~~ in order to rest ourselves but more so to see that remarkable and in the history of our nation noted Waterloo. The day after we came to Ostend, and found that the steam boat had already started for London, we therefore went on to Calais though it rained the whole day, and embarked the same night at 12 o'clock for London where we arrived Wednesday last after being 5. days on the road one of which we spent at Brussels, so that in fact we might have done it in four days. The Dutch language appeared to me rather harsh, though spoken in a lively and rather vehement manner; it is easy to understand particularly when one knows German and English. The custom house officers in England made me ~~deutlich~~ pay duty for my little edition of Schillers and Boileau's works which I took with me from Bonn. I suppose you have heard that Pichurpore was taken by storm on the 18th January, and that Doorjun Sal, and his son were made prisoners, with the whole of their army; they say the British lost 500 men, and 18 officers. My Father wishes you to send the books in the way you mentioned, by Dr. Ueber the bookseller, and I suppose I shall have them in three or four weeks. I remain Dear Sir your grateful and affectionate P. F. Johnston.

I cannot allow my son to love his letter dear Sir without acknowledging my gratitude for your kind protection of him during the time he has been in due your work and my sense of the great improvement he has made and he seems sensible of the

48

As I am uncertain what place my son Patrick went to from Bonn or whether he is still at Bonn I take the liberty of troubling you with a few lines instead of writing to him direct that till you have the kindness to tell him that in consequence of my being in Scotland I did not receive his letter from Bonn of the 23<sup>d</sup> August till a fortnight ago. he tells me Dr. Walther thought him weak & persuaded him to stay 10 days at Bonn in order that he might have the benefit of his advice I am as you may suppose, not having heard from my son since the 23<sup>d</sup> of August very worried about his health altho' I am much consoled to think he remained under such good advice as the doctors. My son tells me how kind you have been to him & that you have pointed out either Geneva, Strasburg, or Nancy as the places where he might make the most rapid progress in French. I shall be most perfectly satisfied if he has followed your advice upon the subject as no person can be so good a judge as yourself & I may stake the liberty of his Mother & I are both very anxious about his health to require that you will have the additional kindness to let me know as soon as possible how Walter thinks his health that you will <sup>at</sup> suggest to him that I should have written to him myself had I known to what place to direct to him. Will you also tell him that I am very anxious that he should be in London by the latest on the 17th Nov. next as it is most important to his interests that he should be in London in time to attend his law term which he cannot do unless he is in London by that day. Indeed for fear of his being unexpectedly detained upon the road or at Calais which is now common in the month of November from stormy weather I should wish him to take all these things into calculation I leave Germany so as to be in London about the 10th or 11th of November at the latest. I have lately been staying at Taymouths Castle in Perthshire with Lord & Lady Breadalbane who tell me they had the pleasure of knowing you in Switzerland with Madame de Staël they to be remembered to you - Lady Malcolm whom I have lately does the same. her husband is expected home next year. Lady Somerton fr. Gaßdoflyebasen, sehr in die Höhe bringend einige kleine Zeitschriften und literarische Zeitungsbelegungen in gewissem Grade zuzufinden, welche dem festste, mein Freund der Herr J. N. Gass von Sabro, Gaßdoflyebasens Consul zu Lening, nach und nach zusammenbrachte, und welche er mir aufbewahren ließ, Ihnen zu überreichen. Der Inhalt dieses, zum Theil sehr reichhaltigen Zeitschriften, ist die Beschreibung einer der alten, ausgezeichneten spanischen Dichtung und Dichter, so wie der Kunst, von fr. Gaßdoflyebasens zumeist aufgestellten Grund sätzen der Kritik, gegen die in Spanien sehr wichtige Kunst, die nach Goethe's - Kallimachos's Kunstlehre entstanden und schon Dichter, dem Geringeren die, auch in Aristophanes's Gimpel's sehr verdienstlich Cronica de Madrid ist. Darin in der Geschichte leben. Sie sind gewiss zu besprechen gewohnt, so daß man in dem Buch von Herrn Sabro's Dichter Josef z. 8. folgenden Artikel liest.
