Most honoured Sir!

The obligations, I am under to you for the kind, near, you did show me during my stay at Bonn, and the assistance you gave me in my study of Sanskrit, are indeed greater than I myself am able to express with words; and if there be any good in my edition of the radicals, whereof I allow me to present to you a copy of the first part, no one can better than I myself feel, how much I am indebted to your instructions. Therefore, if you would condescend to inform me about your opinion about the execution of what I have done, it would be of the greatest importance to me, and I doubt not thereby I would be able, to correct many mistakes in the following pages: I am most honoured Sir with the greatest esteem your most grateful servant

N. Westergaard.

Prof. A. W. v. Schlegel.
