

in the old English language literature & I believe a German scholar. He is passing through Bonn & will be much gratified by an opportunity of paying his respects to you.

I have not done anything lately worthy of your notice - my friend Prof. Johnson of the East India Company's college of Hartleybury has been lately engaged in preparing a few class books for that institute You will think you are probably acquainted