- ELLIS, W. S., the antiquities of heraldry, collected from the literature, coins, gems, vases, and other monuments of pre-christian and mediaeval times; with a catalogue of early armorial seals, tending to show that modern heraldry embodies or is derived from the religious symbols, the military devices, and the emblems of the heathen deities of antiquity. 8. London, J. R. Smith. Cloth 15 s.
- Mr. Ellis endeavours to prove that our heraldic charges are derived from the most ancient religious symbols, just as at page 72 he traces the cross to the Phallus. At the end of his volume he gives lithographic illustrations.
