

Börsenblatt

für den Deutschen

Buchhandel

Eigentum des Börsenvereins der Deutschen Buchhändler zu Leipzig

Umschlag zu Nr. 217.

Leipzig, Mittwoch den 18. September 1935.

102. Jahrgang.

50 Pfg.

The Prince of Wales

Langenscheidt's

English Monthly

MAGAZINE

No. 1.

Vol. I. Berlin, October 1935.

"IF I WERE NOT THE PRINCE OF WALES," said the Prince, "there is one job that I would delight to tackle. Special correspondent to a newspaper. It must be one of the finest jobs in the world."

No one is more eager for the new sensations than the Prince of Wales. The latest song, the latest dance, the latest aeroplane, the latest speed record — all these things intrigue him as they do most men of his age. He very rarely plays a game of cards. It means sitting too long in stuffy, overheated rooms. There have been occasions when official duties have necessitated his staying in some such tiresome atmosphere for an hour or two. But the moment he is free to go, you will find probably that he walks directly towards his own motor-car, takes the wheel, and goes rushing into the night like a young man in search of freedom.

One of the penalties of being a Prince is that he cannot even slip into the darkened shadows of a cinema without being recognised.

The Prince likes enthusiasm. He appreciates these manifestations as a tribute, not to himself, but to the British nation in general.

Prince of Wales (prins v. weil) Fürst von W. lackie (lak) Bedient special correspondent (spe'jal kor'espondent) Sonderbericht-erstatte eager (e'ja) begehrt mit aeroplane (a'ro'plein) Flugzeug speed record (spi'd ri'kord) Schnellfahrrekord intrigue (intrig) Intrigue game (geim) Spiel stuffy (stufi) dumpfig overheated (o'v'hi:ted) über-heat duty (d'iti) Pflicht necessitate (n'e'se'siteit) not-wendig machen tiresome (tai'rum) langweilig probably (pr'ob'ly) wahrscheinlich motor-car (mo'to'ka) Auto (Auto) wheel (wi:l) (Steuer-)Rad in search (in'f'et) auf der Suche penny (pe'ni) Strafe, Schen-tenzelle cinema (si'ema) Kino recognise (re'k'gniz) (miebet-)erfennen (er'k'enn) (er-)kennen enthusiasm (en'theta'zi:m) Be-enthusiasm (en'theta'zi:m) lieben appreciate (a'pri'sie'iet) schätzen in general (in' d'zen'el) im all-gemeinen

Die neue Monats-schrift zur Pflege
und zur Förderung englischer Sprach-kenntnisse

Mit zahlreichen Abbildungen, Vokabelübersetzungen und Erläuterungen im Format des englischen Magazins.
Jedes Heft 50 Pfennig, vierteljährlich RM 1.35 (Z)

Die Langenscheidt-Sprachzeitschrift, die schon sehr lange erwartet wird!

Das Oktoberheft geht den Herren Kollegen vom Buch- und Zeitschriftenhandel in den nächsten Tagen als Probenummer zu.