

cello and violin, with his brother Renaud, entitled Face à Face; and Schubert's Trout Piano Quintet, which was hailed as the February 2005 Disc of the Month by Classic FM.

Since 2007, Capuçon has been an Ambassador for Zegna & Music project, which was founded in 1997 as a philanthropic activity to promote music and its values.

The acquisition of Capuçon's Dominique Pécatte bow was made possible in part by the Colas Group, which also co-produced with Virgin Classics, his most recent recording with Mariinsky Orchestra and Valery Gergiev. Capuçon plays a 1701 Matteo Goffriler cello.
