

Handwritten notes at the top of the page, including the name 'Nenzing' and dates like '1871' and '1872'.

A large, dense table with multiple columns containing handwritten entries, likely a list of specimens or locations. The text is written in a cursive script and includes various numbers and names.