

Shoreham, Vt., and other places in that state near Lake Champlain; there are also quarries at Isle La Motte, near Plattsburgh, and Glenn's Falls, New York. Grey and dove-coloured marbles are common throughout the Western States. There are also varieties of shell marble, encrinital marble, and madrepora marble from numerous localities.¹

¹ Dana, Man. Miner. pp. 365-6.