

Bernhard Peschke

CONCRETE CONSTRUCTION

Modern working methods and technological procedures have been introduced into the building industry in the course of its recent development. Concrete construction shows many advantages but calls for workers skilled in the tasks involved. This book is intended for construction workers who have found a job in concrete construction which is new to them. Starting with a discussion on the basic materials for concrete the book then deals with mixing, placing and treating concrete, the preparation of formwork and the various designs of formwork required, and, eventually the use of reinforced concrete.

Contents: Basic materials for concrete - Mixing, placing and treatment - Formwork - Reinforced concrete - Special types of concrete.

*71 pages with 150 illustrations. Already published in English, French and Spanish.
Price Dmarks 4.—*

Wolfgang Rodewald

PEST CONTROL IN AGRICULTURE IN TROPICAL AND SEMITROPICAL AREAS

First the author explains the major pests and disease pathogens in agriculture, their habits and range of distribution. The damage to tropical and semitropical plants caused by pests is demonstrated by numerous illustrations. Pest control with natural and chemical agents is described in detail.

Contents: Pests, their habits and range of distribution - Illustrations of damages to the major tropical and semitropical plants - Natural and chemical pest control.

*About 160 pages with some 60 illustrations. Edition in English to appear in 1964.
Edition in French and Spanish in preparation. Price about Dmarks 7.50*