

In nomine dei

Faint, mostly illegible handwritten text in a historical script, likely Latin or German, covering the majority of the page.

Fragment of text from the adjacent page on the right, including words like "mi", "ni", "ni", "res", "meo", "fug", "con", "Solend", "ter", "iuv", "pre", "uict", "idic", "Princ", "a ne", "teza", "publ", "hazis", "ovis", "le mi", "probi", "fregu", "concept", "vixi", "veni", "et hoc", "Nulla", "s alie".