

produced as the work of James Rodge, or his contemporaries,

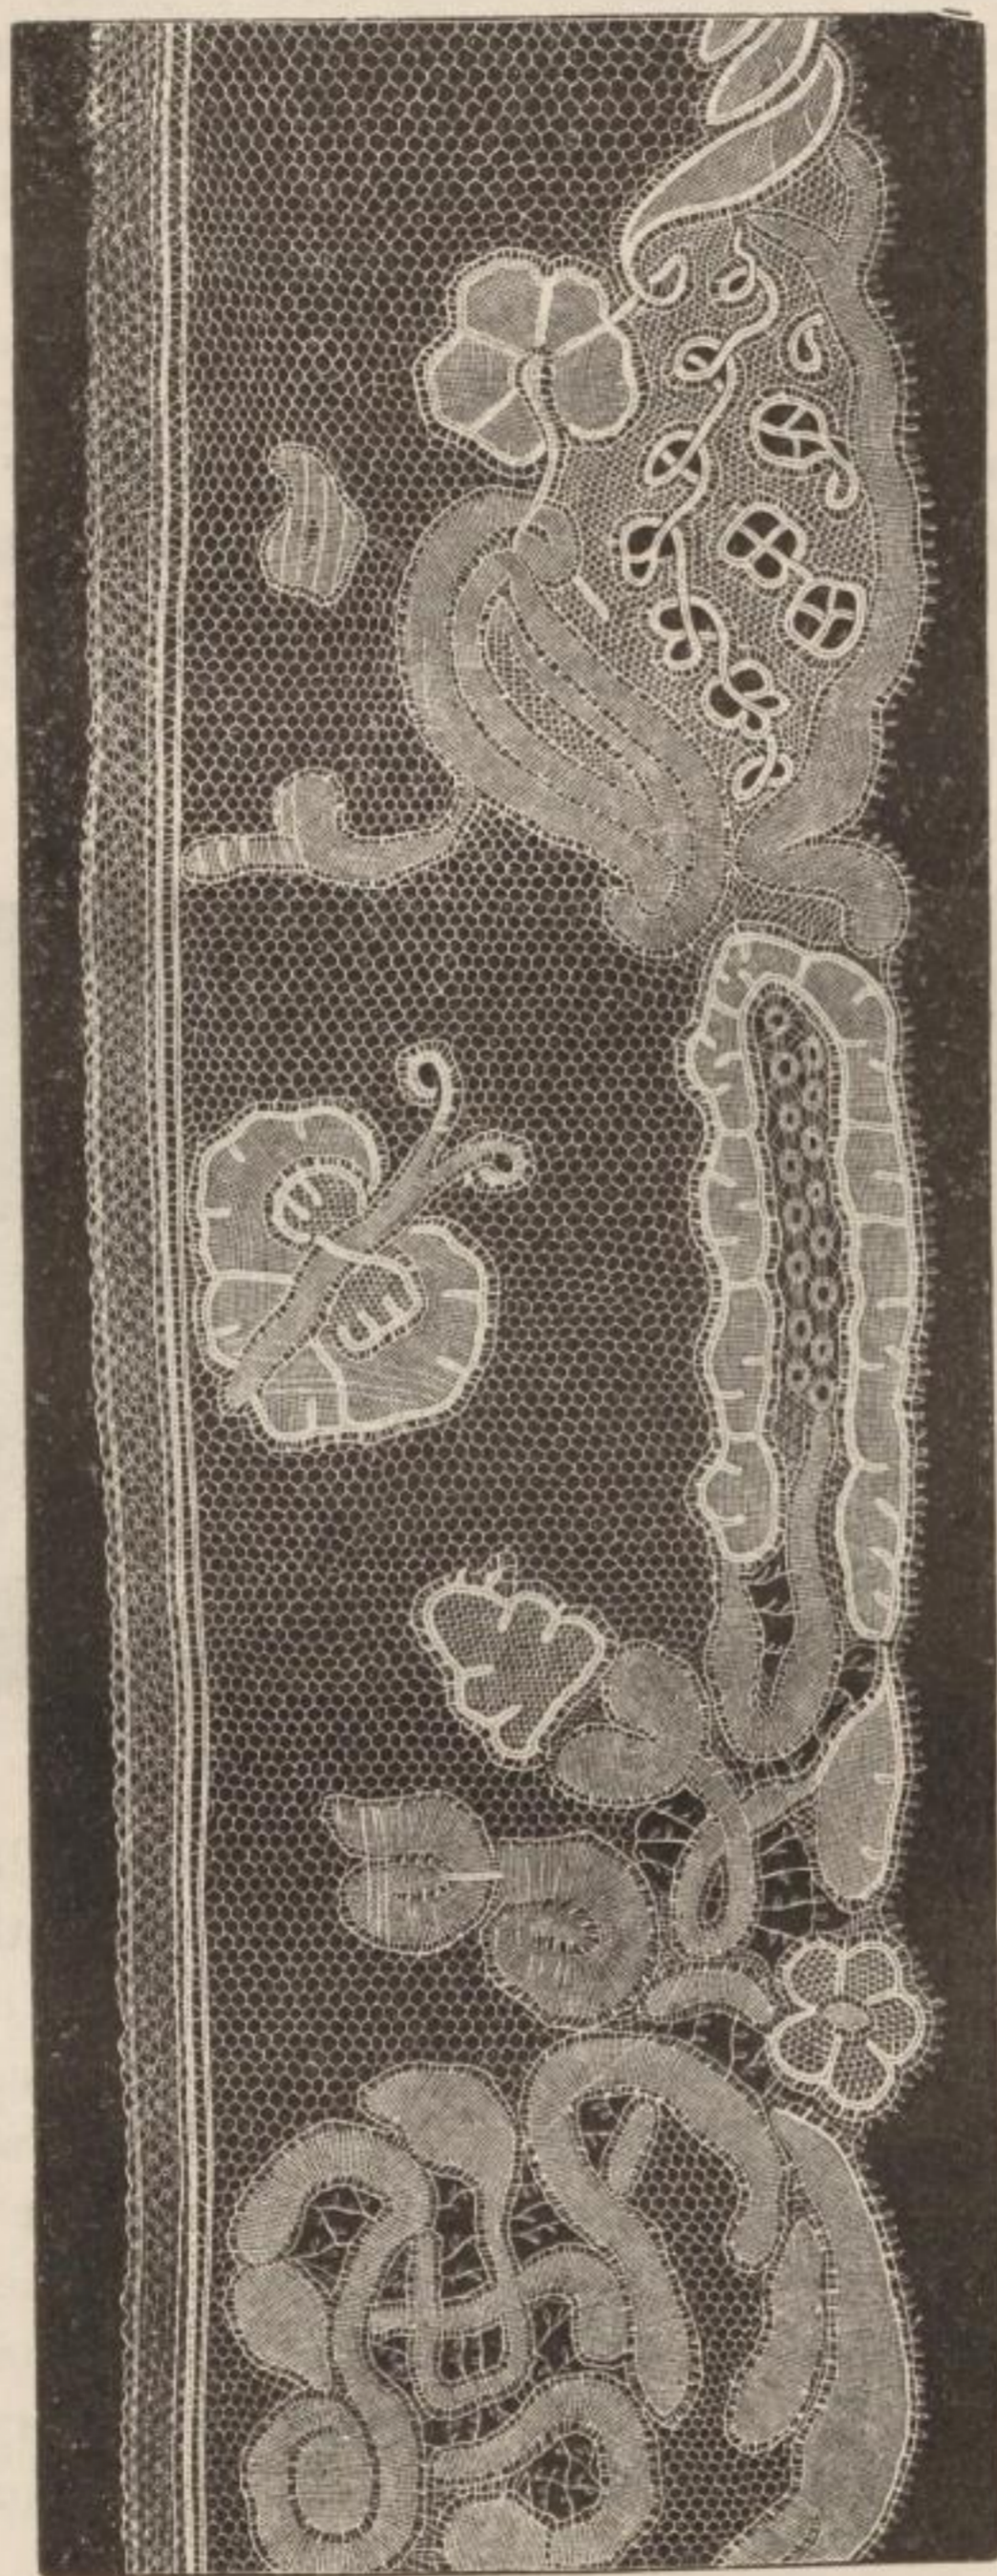

Fig. 140.

Old Devonshire.

consist of large flowing guipure patterns, united by brides, and later worked in with the Brussels ground.