This image shows a horizontal strip of musical notation on five-line staff paper. The notation consists of vertical stems with small diamond-shaped heads, representing individual note heads. There are also vertical stems without heads, representing rests. The stems are positioned above the top line of the staff. The notes and rests alternate in a repeating pattern across the strip.

A single line of musical notation on a five-line staff. The notes are represented by diamond-shaped heads with stems extending either upwards or downwards. Some stems have small dots near the head, indicating pitch. The notes vary in duration, some being longer than others. The staff begins with a sharp sign on the far left.
