

Christchurch Museum.

Carved boxes (waka-papa, or waka) for holding feathers and trinkets. The upper box is said to have formed part of Captain Cook's collection.