ponistas vocitamus. Quo in genere plurimi tanta cum laude, suauitate, artificioque versati sunt, vt ambiguum relinquunt certamen principatus. Facilius quemque collaudes, quam cum inuidia anteferas. Quæ cum ita sint, multi tantæ artis iucunditate plecti, eam nullius fuga laboris condiscere insistant. Nec desunt magistri peritissimi, qui quæ ipsi norint, alijs communicent. Verum, quod bona eorum venia dixerim, modus ratioque docendi haud probari potest. Solent (nec tamen omnes credo) ad duos tresue annos suum detinere tironem, & longissimo ac molestissimo ambitu tradere, quod, si recta via aggrediare, breuissimo temporis spatio consequi posses. Primum enim docent duabus vocibus notam contra notam scribere, & fere sine præcepto, nisi ex errore scribentis. Tum ad contrapunctum deducunt tironem, rem alio, non hoc tempore tractandam, nec magni vsus. Inde ad fugas meditandas propellunt, quæ vel magistris negotium facessant. Qua ratione fit, vt nunquam vel post longam exercitationem ea, quæ ad propriam veramque notarum positionem pertinent, consequantur, cum principio statim hauriri ea facultas deberet. A contrapuncto ideo capiunt initium, vt arbitror, quia vident in principum Capellis pueros eum doceri. Docentur autem ideo, non vt artem componendi ponendi condiscant, sed vt ceteris musicis concinere possint ex tempore. Nostra tradendi ratio longe ab illa diuertit, cui subsignat experientia. Habuimus enim qui vno mense, tribus, duabus, vna hebdomadibus, vno bi-duo, fundamenta artis apprehenderint. Has igitur huius commentarij conscribendi causas habui: primum, quia huius rei nihil dum exstare vidi, quod satisfacere posse videretur. Deinde vt ad nobilissimam hanc artem citius, commodius certiusque adspirari queat, nec tædia tot sint deuoranda præsertim adultis & honoratis, quibus eiusmodi tricæ non possunt videri non odiosissimæ. Nostra si leges, videbis te ad recta statim duci, sique secundum illa fueris operatus, securus eris vitiorum. Sed nunc ad rem.

Interualla sunt simplicia & composita. Simplicia sunt Unifonus, Secunda, Tertia, Quarta, Quinta, Sexta, Septima, & Octaua.

Secunda duplex est, maior & minor: (vt veteres distribumi, Mi, re, fa sol, sol fa. minus est, Mi fa, Fa mi.

Tertia itidem maior & minor. Maior est ditonus, cum supe-fa, fa re: mi sol, sol mi, cum inferior est mi.

Quarta vocatur diatessaron.

Quinta, diapente.

Sexta maior & minor, seu hexachordum maius & minus. Maius est cum su-perius est mi, vel instar mi, difficile cantatu, proinde parum vsitatum. Minus est cum inferius est mi vel instar mi, facilius cantatu, & frequens, velut, mi fa, vel, re fa.

Septima minime naturalis est. Hodie tamen eam apud bonos scriptores nonnunquam reperias.

Octaua dicitur etiam diapason. Interualla his maiora vocantur composita.

CAPVT II.

MODI COMPONENDI.

TRes sunt. Primus Belgarum & quorundam aliorum est, constans decem lineis, in quibus duæ tantum claues ponuntur, Discanti & Bassi. Notæ inter sese sunt implicatissimæ propter vicinitatem & angustias spatiorum. Labor est discernere. Proinde aliqui discernunt diuerso colore, aut alijs characteribus vel punctis, ita vt Tenor vel Altus habeat alias notas v. g. quadratas vt à ceteris videlicet distinguatur, si cantio sic composita in notas sit separatim describenda. Modus iste familiaris est organistis, quibus notæ in suis spatijs ita visæ facilius veniunt in digitos.

Secun-

Secundus modus est facilior quia distinctior & vſitatiffimus : cum ſingulæ voces ſuas quinas lineas diſcrete habent : & compoſitio in tempora ductis per omnes voces lineis diſtinguitur.

Tertius modus eſt per litteras, hoc eſt, notas ipſarum clauium, quæ ſingulæ ſuis litteris noſcendæ proponuntur. Modus ſuperiori ætate vſitatiffimus: iam tantum non contemptus & vilis. Tamen commoda hæc habet. primum non eſt opus cartella, ſeu deletili tabula (quæ ad ſecundum modum pertinet,) ſed quæuis charcula ſufficiet, cui tua cogitata illinas. Deinde quod hic anguſto breuique ſpatio ſcribis, ibi (in notis) tertio aut quarto tanto ſpatio opus erit, plurimumque loci capiendum. Præterea vicinitas & diſtinctio clauium magnam lucem facilitatemque affert ſcribenti. Ad hæc facilius citiusque videbis ſi quid aberraueris. Vnicum incommodum eſt, quod puerum deſcribendo allegare non potes (vt in ſecundo modo) auctori que ipſi labor ille ſuſcipiendus. Hunc modum ad finem libri trademus. Nos in docendo iam vtemur ſecundo modo tamquam vſitatiffimo, oculisque magis patente: quoniam contra torrentem niti irritus labor eſt. Qui tertio velit inſueſcere, iſdem huius tractatus præceptis vtetur & adiuuabitur.

Nos omiſſa, quam in præfatione improbauimus, diſcendi ratione tamquam abſurda, & permoleſta, longe aliam incedemus viam breuiorem, vt ſpero, & faciliorem. Duabus tribusue vocibus componere ſingularis eſt artificij: de quo infra. Conſueſce initio ſtatim quatuor voces concinnare, nota contra notam. Idque poteſt fieri quacunque notarum forma, ſiue ſemibreuium, ſiue minimarum, ſiue ſemiminimarum, ſiue harum inter ſe permiſſione. Hæc enim ratio ſcribendi eſt ad omne genus cantionũ aptiſſima, & à bonis ſcriptoribus ſemper obſeruatur.

C A P V T III.

DE VNISONO ET EIVS STRUCTURA.

Initio diſce ſuper vna ſeu prima nota ſtruere. Poſito fundamento ſeu prima nota, omnis muſica duas habet conſonantias, tertiam & quintam: his adiicitur octaua quæ potius diſtantia eſt quam conſonantia, cum nihil habeat varietatis aut diuerſitatis. De ſexta & quarta conſonantijs obliquis & imperfectis alio loco dico.

Compoſiturus ergo primam notam inferioris vocis ſeu baſſi aut baſſos (vt quidam loqui malunt magis ingenioſe quam verè, nam ex Italico baſſo, quod eſt, profundum, inferius, &c. mutuata vox eſt, non à Græca baſi) pone vt voles: modo non ſit in h mi aut dieſi: ſuper ea pone tertiam, tum quintam, dein octauam, numerando merando ab ima seu infima nota. Hæc interualla possunt ac debent sapissime permutari, ita vt alicubi inueniatur tertia, alibi quinta, alibi octaua. Nam in quatuor vocibus non facile quinta aut tertia geminari repetiue debet. De decima, duodecima, decimaquinta, &c. compositis diximus supra capite primo. En tabula Vnisoni.

The image shows four staves of musical notation. The notes are diamond-shaped and arranged in a way that demonstrates various intervals and permutations. Below the third staff, there is a row of numbers: 1, 5, 6, 7, 7, 2, 3, 2, 2, 3, 3, 4, 4. These numbers likely correspond to the intervals or positions of the notes on the staves.

Hæc tabula seruit I. varietati, vt si in basso duæ notæ sunt in eodem loco, possis cum superstruendis vocibus cedere sursum aut deorsum: quod sæpe venustatem habet, & cantum facit mirabiliorem, quia pluribus motionibus constantem. Non tamen ea mutatio semper est necessaria. nam superstructæ voces in vnisono suo permanere possunt. II. necessitati. Si superiorum vocum aliqua aut plures plus æquo descendunt, possis exaltare, num. 2. aut deprimere, num. 3. aut vocum partes inter se permiscere, quod iucunde fit, num. 4. III. Si bassus alte ponitur, vicinissimæ sint inter se voces, num. 1. aut, si natura cantus ferat, maioribus spatijs distantes, num. 5. Si bassus sit depressior aut inferior, tum Tenor ponetur in octaua, &c. num. 6. Nimia tamen distantia est vitanda, num. 7. cum remota minus audiantur, vt etiam oculis remota minus videntur. Instrumentis Musicis indulgeri potest, quorum soni quoque grauiissimi acutissimis cantantium vocibus iucunde subsonant.

CAPVT II.

TABVLA NATVRALIS.

Hæc tabula maxime est necessaria, totiusque Musicæ fundamentum: iuxta quam, vbiunque potest, omnia componi solent ac debent: nec facile ab ea recedendum. Seruit clavi b mollari, & \natural durali. Vfus eius est eiusmodi.

Verbi gratia, pono duas notas motuum diuersorum, vno gradu, vel in secundam adscendentes: primam in D secundam in E. super prima posui ex tabula vnisoni tenorem in quinta, Altum in octaua, Discantum in tertia supra octauam seu decima. Tum scire vellem quomodo secundæ bassi notæ sint superiores superstruendæ sine vitio. Accedo ergo tabulam in qua quæro secundam vno gradu adscendentem. Mox reflecto me ad meam primam notam iam compositam, & dico: d & a est quinta: quæro ergo in tabula naturali etiam quintam super fundamento seu basso positam, vbiunque ea sit (nihil enim refert) & dico, c & g est

EX duabus prioribus tabulis facile cognosci poterunt. Hæc tamen etiam obseruanda veniunt. Perfectæ consonantiæ simul adscendere aut descendere non possunt in eadem specie, id est, duæ quintæ, duæ octauæ simul: in diuersa specie licet. In eadem specie possunt contrarijs motibus ferri. Ab his cantus legitime incipit & finitur.

DE MI.

Alamire habet suam quintam, octauam, tertiam. Potest etiam componi sicut diefis: sed cum iisdem motionibus: alioqui sequitur communem.

Elami in \mathbb{H} duro componitur vel communiter, vel (& saepe quidem) ut diefis. Elami in b molli componitur semper ut diefis, In chromaticis etiam quinta superstrui potest. Si mutatur in fa , praeposito b , componitur communiter.

CAPVT VIII.

DE VOCE INFRA BASSVM.

BAssus, ut fundamentum, ima inter voces tenere debet, aut eo pausante, alia vox. Accidere tamen potest ut infra eum alia vox descendat. Fit aliquando ut basso in sextam lineam verbi gratia adscendente, Tenor in eisdem octauam descendat. Tertia, siue integra, siue correcta ex quarta conceditur: hoc modo.

Tenoris in quintam descensus concedi potest, dum ne frequentetur, cum difficilem reddat compositionem: & raro necessitas cogat.

CAPVT IX.

DE QVARTA.

Quartas Zarlinus multis argumentis probat esse perfectas consonantias. Rancidi veteres usurparunt, vt in vulgatissimo illo Germanico Congratulamini, super voce Iesus Bassus habet Tenorem supra se in quarta. Sed hæc consonantia perquam raro recipitur in thesi, idque in motu tristitiæ, &c. ita tamen vt proxima descendens cum basi tertiam faciat. In arsi frequen-

In secundo Tenore integra quarta. Quarta vox cum basso in octaua conueniet. Pone mediam bassi notam in G infimo, & fiet legitima compositio.

DE SEXTA.

Sexta maior, cum proxima superior est nota, mi vel instar mi, rariùs vsurpatur quia difficilior cantatu, vt

Sexta minor cum proxima superior est fa vel instar fa, vt & hæc est frequens, componiturque vt tertia descendens.

Sexta maior descendens itidem difficilis ideoque inusitata. Sed sexta minor, cum inferior est mi vel diesis, cantari potest, & hodie valde vsitata: componiturque vt tertia adscendens, sed non ferme nisi duabus aut tribus vocibus, maxime vbi diesis intercedit. Hæc de sexta fundamentali. Alia est alicuius vocis supra fundamentum positæ. Hæc initio vix ponetur, nisi forte fugæ causa: in progressu sæpe, maxime post quintam. In his autem locis poni potest.

Musical notation for measures 6 through 16. The notation is arranged in four systems, each with two staves. Measure numbers 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16 are printed above the notes. The notes are diamond-shaped and include stems and flags. Some notes have a small '6' above them, possibly indicating a fingering or a specific note value. The notation is dense and covers the entire width of the page.

Musical notation for measures 17 through 24. The notation is arranged in three systems, each with two staves. Measure numbers 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24 are printed above the notes. The notation continues with diamond-shaped notes and stems. Some notes have a small '6' above them. The notation is dense and covers the entire width of the page.

Hæc omnia possent etiam simplicius componi: sed libet & licet subinde superbire. Eadem possunt etiam ad ligaturas referri. Denique hæc omnia & alia similia concisus & dimidiatis temporibus efferre licet: nisi quod ob celeritatem suam citius auribus eripiuntur: verum mensura paullo productior compensabit. Iam quod attinet ad septimam in ipso decursu cantionis positam, ea vero cum commode cantari nequeat, hac tamen ætate non est adeo rara apud proceres Musicos. Huius exemplum hoc habet ex Priolo: ut rationem eius componendæ videas.

DE NOTIS ABERRANTIBVS.

IN motionibus seu decursibus continuis siue sursum siue deorsum, in fugis, & in contrapuncto vsitatissimæ sunt notæ aberrantes. Sunt eæ, quæ sequuntur thesin & arsin. Nam quæ in thesin & arsin cadunt, velut legitimæ sunt componendæ. Tamen haud raro videbis, notæ post arsin haberi rationem: imò inter tres nigras primæ & tertiæ, media in arsin veniente, vt in proxime superiori exemplo videbis, & in hoc Continentur semiminimis & fuis, aliquando & semibreuibus, in quibus (semibreuibus) consonare tantum debet thesis & non arsis, vt videre est cap. præcedente, num. 14. Vltimæ tamen habenda est ratio, vel etiam primæ aut secundæ aberrantis. Nam aliquando cum alia voce per quintam simul adscendit vel descendit vltima: tum tantummodo illam aberrantem dele, & exieris è vitio.

In quinto systemate, in alto & tenore nigræ post arsin habetur ratio. 6. male, nam bassus & discantus inferne adscendunt in octauam, quod & inuenustum est, & Musicis præceptis vetitum. DE LIGATVRA SEV SYNCOPATIONE.

Ligatura quæ & commissura est, quando dissonantia vel deterior consonantia corrigitur in meliorem. Hoc fit quando secunda & quarta in suam tertiam, nona in decimam, septima in sextam, sexta in quintam remigrat. De septima cap. 12. Syncopatio est cum maiores notulæ inclusæ minoribus contra tactum incedunt: idem est ligatura: VL.

Hæc ratio artificiosum & gratum & suanem reddit cantum.

CAPVT XV.

ORNAMENTA, DECORVM, &c.

EA vix doceri posse credo: sed ab ingenio cuiusque peti debere. Audiendis, cantandis, inspiciendisque varijs auctoribus, maxime qui excellentes audiunt, formare possis ingenium, geniumque Musicum. Nam quod natura non dedit, ars nunquam dabit. Si quis tamen scire expetat, quid maxime cantum ornare videatur, sic habeat. Primum omnium necessarium est dispicere, quo tono cantum formare velis. nam alioqui cantus nutabit & natabit, auresque relinquet incertas. Hæc primum. Iam ornatur cantus à sextis, à septimis correctis, à die si siue in basso siue in superioribus vocibus, a bono basso seu fundamento iucundo cantatu: a permutatione, cum dimidia pars vnus vocis in aliam migrat, & vicissim huius dimidium in illius locum, quod plus venustatis quam artis habet: valetque ad cantum vel extollendum, si depressior est, aut deprimendum, si altior: a variatione, cum super vna bassi clausula sæpius repetenda voces varie struuntur, non vno aut primo duntaxat modo: & hoc artis est: a syncope seu concisione: a paritate vocum, hoc est, vt fa & fa, mi & mi vel die sis respondeant, vt si in superiore voce posita sit nota in fa, in inferiore voce octaua proxima ne sit mi sed fa. Nam mi audire & mox, in eodem loco (in octaua inquam, vel in quinta etiam quartaue) fa, inimicum est auribus, sicut & fa ante mi. Hæc hodie fere negliguntur: & sæpe etiam nec obseruari possunt, nec debent. Ornatur quoque cantus mirifice imitationibus & fugis non tamen obruendis multitudine vocum, vt eluceant & percipiantur, nam si alijs vocibus consonantiæ causa impleas, obscurabis. Canat ergo iam vnus, iam duo, tertius accedat: plenus chorus instrepat: committantur voces inter se, bassus cum discanto, hic cum tenore, aliæque cum alijs voces. Iam tardius incedat, iam velocius incitetur cantus: aut vnus tardioribus notis canat, alter celerioribus intercurret. Sunt qui prius forment designationem bassi, quem vnicum pro arbitrato fingunt cum suis paulis & in alias voces excursibus. Bene quidem hi, vt securi inuentionis reliqua tantummodo superstruant: verum eripiunt sibi mutandi licentiam. Alij non semper occupantur in formando basso (id quod tamen frequentissimum & consuetum est) sed discantum v. g. venuste currentem aut meantem fingunt, quippe qui facilius audiatur; eique primum ceteras voces substernunt: & hoc maioris est artis. Maximum ornamentum est verbis eorumq; affectibus accommodare modulus: quo in genere non paucos peccare video, qui in rebus tristibus aut seueris, modulus adhibent leues ac saltantes, & vice versa. Denique ornatus petendus est ab ipso cantante, qui proprie, constanter, puriter, plena non hiulca voce, subinde tremula flexaque seu vibrante coloraturis, ut vocamus, si aorit, cantet. Nam qui nescit colorare, quæso absteineat, simplici puroque cantu contentus, ne choleram bilemue concitet audienti. Et vero vnicus cantor cantui potest suauitatem aut tædium conciliare. Adeo sunt omnia in eo posita: vt bona cantio deterior videatur negligenter & imperite cantata: mediocris (nam malis nusquam locus erit) ex bono peritoque audita laudem amoremque mereatur. Ad extremum cantui suauitas circumdatur, si cantores sint beneuoli, inter se amantes, concordēs, nec studijs aut voluntatibus dissidentes.

DE MVSICA FICTA.

Mvsica ficta est, cum in quacunque clauē quæcunque vox consonantiæ causa ponitur. Hæ coniunctæ seu adiunctæ vocantur, eo quod præter naturam canticis vel euphoniæ, vel perficiendorum modorum causa adduntur. Est autem coniuncta (vox) canere vocem in clauē in qua ea non est: vel, est, toni in semitonium, aut semitonij in tonum repentina mutatio. Harum coniunctarum duo sunt signa, b rotundum & ♯ quadratum: prius in locis ♯ durabilibus, posterius in b mollibus coniunctam facit. Possunt in omnibus vobibus fieri coniunctæ, in a, & e, & ♯ mi cum b molli: in b, c, d, f, g, cum ♯ duro. Saltus harum sunt de b ad b. hodie tamen sæpe de b molli ad durum præsertim in quartam deorsum fiunt. Vide exempla.

Talia subinde reperias hac ætate apud bonos auctores, nec frequentanda nimium, sed ubi verborum textus requirit assumenda. Posui quatuor voces, ut earum strurum structuram cognoscas. Primum systema in tenore frequens est. 2. est quasi in discanto canas fa mi fa: in alto re re vt re: in tenore la la la, in basso sol re sol. 3. quasi in discanto canas sol fa mi fa. 4. b in alamire tenoris hodie non nunquam vsurpatur. 5. illud bassi frequens. 6. quasi in discanto canas la fa fa fa: in tenore sol la fa la: in basso, vt fa fa fa. rarissimum. 7. in discanto fa, mi, mi, mi, in alto sol fa mi fa, in tenore la la la sol la: in basso, sol re la re. rarissimum. 8. vides in tenore quartam fictam. vsurpatur hodie. simplicius vsitatusque fecisses fa, vt, re, mi, vel fa sol fa sol, & discantum, re mi re mi. 9. in alto quarta imperfecta non infrequens.

This page contains a handwritten musical score for a piece titled "PRIOR PARS". The score is written on ten staves, organized into five systems of two staves each. The notation is a form of mensural notation, where notes are represented by diamond-shaped symbols with stems. Many notes are accompanied by an asterisk (*), likely indicating a specific rhythmic value or a performance instruction. The first staff begins with a clef and a time signature of 6/8. The music is written in a single system, with various rests and note values throughout. The paper shows signs of age, including some staining and wear at the edges.

CAPVT XVII.

DE VITIIS.

QVI tabulam naturalem & necessitatis fuerit secutus, certus est se vitium nullum incursum. Quamprimum ad aliam notarum positionem te conuerteris, aut iam peccaueris, aut peccato proximus eris. Et vero in omnibus compositionibus videas a bonis musurgis tabulam naturalem obseruari, & si qua mutandi sit necessitas, ad eandem statim reuerti. Hic ridiculi magistri & infelices discipuli: quorum illi multa præcepta congerunt eorum quæ vitanda sunt: hi per longas ambages discere scrupulose coguntur. Præclarum sane docere per Negationes, nec tamen veram vnâque viam monstrare. Vt si tu multa vitiosa numismata singillatim recenseas, ac reiicienda dicas, non ideo sciam, quæ sit proba moneta, si dixeris, taliter impressa moneta proba est: facile colligam omnes alias huic dissimiles improbandas esse. Nec audio caluam excusationem vitiorum, consuli videlicet suauitati: quasi vero cantio suauiter condi condiri que nequeat nisi cum vitijs. Eodem modo dicas tu orationem elegantio rem fieri per barbarismos & solœcismos. Adde quod in vitijs nulla sit legitima varietas, quæ ad suauitatem cantus omnino requiritur. Nam duæ quintæ, &c. simul commean-tes quid obsecro suauitatis & non rusticitatis habent? præsertim cum talia facile vitari queant, & ex recto veroque maior & vera suauitas comparetur quam ex vitio oscitantiaque. Sic scribere, abuti est arte præstantissima: quam si præceptis contineri non putant, vehementer errant. Nonnulli infamant quoque Musicen, cum interrupta, fracta, volitantia, leuia, ridicula, sine iudicio scribunt, artem, si dijs placeat, ostentantes: quorum muscæ, vt loquimur, inter pocula non in templis strepere deberent. Aliud vitium est eorum, qui tonum nullum obseruant, aut eos, inter quos nulla proportio est, imperite monstrosequæ coniungunt. Vidi non paucas cantiones quæ proprie duobus e tonis conflatae sunt, ita vt dimidium in secundo tono versetur, alterum delapsum in sextum eodem finiat. Alij textum non suis & opportunis locis applicant, sed cantanti relinquunt. Itaque impetum melodiæ seu clausularum respiciunt, textum deinde cogunt & torquent, inimica re cantanti: cum notas syllabis, non syllabas notis accommodare deberent. Hactenus de alijs. Iam si quod tamen scribenti vitium (quod procline est) obrepserit, sic corrigat. deleat notam vitiosam, pausamque substituat: aut vitiosam notam alio transferat: aut si est ex aberrantibus, deleat tantum: aut secundam notam vitiosam in sextam collocet, & mox, si res patitur, in suam quintam restituat, vt

1. Bassus & tenor in quinta adscendunt & discantus in octava, male. 2. discantus corrigitur per pausam, tenor per sextam. 3. corrigitur etiam permutatione tenoris & discanti. 4. male in discanto & tenore. 5. corrigitur discantus per sextam, tenor per pausam vt num. 2. 6. male, quia tenor cum discanto adscendit per quintam. 7. tolle sextam in tenore. 8. vel fac sextam in discanto quæ mox in quintam redeat. 9. male adscendunt per quintam tenor & bassus. 10. corriguntur in discanto & tenore per permutationem.

CAPVT XX.

DE TONIS.

Tonus est regula, cursum naturalem cantus regularis, Principio, Medio & Fine determinans. Priscis quatuor erant toni, re, mi, fa, sol. Duorum sunt generum: Ecclesiastici & Musici. Illi sunt octo; hi duodecim. De Ecclesiasticis sic præcipiunt. Si cantus finitur in D, & incipit ab A, est primi modi seu toni. Si desinit in D, & incipit ab F, est secundi. Si A finitur & incipit a C, est tertij. Si in E exit & incipit ab A, est quarti. Si terminatur in F & incipit a C, est quinti. Finitus in F & coeptus ab a facit sextum. Desinens in G, & incipiens a d, est septimi. Denique finitus in G & coeptus a C facit octauum. Differentiæ tonorum a peritis repudiantur, vt quæ pro indoctis sint repertæ. Et vero ex earum terminationibus alij toni gignuntur. Hæc breuissime de choralis seu Gregoriano cantu.

Toni Ecclesiastici figurati.

HI omnino ex fine cognoscuntur. Vnde illud vulgi, In fine videbitur cuius toni. Sed Musici sæpe magis rationem ducunt toni quam clavis. Hinc tanta diuersitas clauium etiam in eodem tono. Et vero accipiunt clauem quam putant tono proportionatam, vt videbis in exemplis. Initia tonorum ordinariè debent esse aut ab ipsa finali clauē, aut ab eius quinta superiore. Medius decursus petitur ex tertia & quinta finalis notæ. Vt si cantus in d desinat, in decursu possis vti f, fa vt fa, & a, la mi la, & horum octauis. Idem de ceteris tonis dicendum est. Nam præcise in eodem tono, id est, eadem clauē finali hære, rusticam facit & pauperem cantionem: quæ alijs, id est, proportionatis tonis distinguere vult varietatis gratia. In alienos tamen tonos non facile migrandum est, nisi si velis peculiarem quempiam motum animi (de qua re in secunda parte) exprimere, Hasce mutationes apud auctores inuenias: in quibus quosdam tonos etiam ad alios referri videbis vt secundum ad tertium; quintum ad septimum, & vicissim. Quandoquidem autem omnes cantiones ex his octo tonis ordinarie formare, iudicare & metiri consueuimus, vt discernere possis qua cantio quali tono contineatur, tametsi ex modo positis cognoscere liceat, tamen lucis maioris gratia, verbis etiam explanare conemur, & singulas claues, quarum aliqua omnis cantio necessario continetur, examinemus.

D in \natural duro. Tonus I.

Si bassum clauis f supra signatum sine b aut tenorem vides desinere in d cogita esse primi toni. Hic tonus signatur etiam in g cum clauis f in medio & b molli. Ex hoc g enim transferri solet in d.

D in b molli. Tonus VII.

Clauis f in basso supra posita cum b molli si cantus in d finitur, faciet septimum tonum. Quidam ad quintum tonum reuocant. non recte. nam ad finem (qui est a) adijciunt adhuc d, quod quidem illi a recte consonat, sed alieni toni terminum constituit. Rectius faciunt, qui illi a finali tertiam subiiciunt finalem, vt f aut c. Hic tonus septimus a g debet incipere quasi in secundo tono, idque in decursu idem repertere. Aliqui terminant hunc tonum in elami, seu la, mi, la. quo modo & quintum; sic nulla vtriusque erit differentia; nisi quod septimus a d in a procedit; quintus a c in g. Sed, vt ante dixi, non tam clauem quam toni modulum quaesuisse videntur. Hinc illa clauium mutatio, cum isti toni voce vel altiore vel demissione cantari soleant. Idem septimus tonus in alamire desinit in clauis \natural duri: sed translatus seu transpositus in quintam facit finem in d, vt principio dictum, aut in quartam, & terminat in elami.

E la mi. Tonus IV.

Si bassus cum f supra desinit in e, hoc est, mi, la, mi, seu la re la, efficiet quartum tonum. Alijs quintus & septimus tonus etiam in e desinit, sed in la mi la; improprie proprie tamen. Si quis in clauē b mollis vellet hunc tonum representare, fingeret in A desinentem, hoc est in la mi, incipiendo a D: sed similis fieret tono quinto.

F in duro & molli. Tonus VI.

Clavi F. supra posita in cantu tam duro quam molli gignitur sextus tonus. Inuenitur etiam in clavi c, tum transponitur in quintam, hoc est, in f cum b molli. Videas etiam in B exeuntem: sed perraro, tumque transfertur in quartam, hoc est, in f sine b.

G in b molli. Tonus II.

Basso cum b & f supra constituto nascitur tonus secundus. Sæpe habet fa in b & e. Desinit etiam in a, clauē f in medio posita. Si transponatur in d cum b molli, fiet similis septimo.

G in $\bar{\text{h}}$ duro. Tonus VIII.

Basso cum f sine b supra signato, desinente in g oritur tonus octauus. Desinit etiam in c in b mollari seu $\bar{\text{h}}$ durali. Item in g cum clauē c supra & clauē f in medio. Sed hi transferuntur, in c clauē f supra posita.

A in $\bar{\text{h}}$ duro. Tonus III.

Clavi f in basso supra posita sine b procedit tonus tertius cantu in a desinente. Finitur etiam in e, seu re fa mi la, satis improprie, nam magis quartum tonum respiceret. F clauē in medio posita incipit etiam a c & in e desinit, hoc est, in sol re aut la re. Sed tum transponitur in d cum clauē f molli supra: & tum fit similis quinto aut septimo tono.

A in b molli. Tonus V.

Clavi f in basso supra posita cum b si cantus desinit in a, hoc est, la mi, erit quintus tonus. Verum hic sæpius in f medium cum b desinit: & aliquando sine b, qui transponi solet in c, clauē f in $\bar{\text{h}}$ duro supra posita. Aliqui in e durum aut d molle finiunt, non recte opinor, nam in e facit tonum quartum: in d, septimum.

Atque hi sunt illi octo toni cantus figurati in legitimis clauibus collocati. Ceterum, ne quid desideres, non nihil quoque de medijs clauibus tradamus. Si bassus f clauem mediam habet, & superiores voces constant ordinarijs & non transponendis clauibus, tum neque bassus transfertur, sed tonum habet, qualem in proxime ante positis descripsimus: si vero superiores quoque clauēs mutata loco sunt, ista obseruabis. Finem etiam, vt supra, cantionis intueberis, & inde tonum cognosces. Desinens igitur in Haecenus de tonis ecclesiasticis: Nunc etiam de tonis Musicis agamus, qui quamuis raro a Musurgis hodie vsurpentur; tamen quia veram naturalemque proportionem habent, non videntur praetereundi, praesertim cum eos ab alijs obscure ambiguaeque tractatos esse videamus. Nam semper duos tonos consequentes faciunt in eandem clauem desinere; vnde nullum inter hunc & illum discrimen appareat, cum re vera satis magnum discrimen admittant, vt in tabula exemplisque patebit. Atque hac ratione tantum essent sex toni, non duodecim. Nos autem duodecim esse confirmamus.

Octavi.

The Octavi section consists of four staves of musical notation. Each staff begins with a treble clef and a common time signature (C). The notation features diamond-shaped notes with stems, typical of early printed music. The first three staves are for the right hand, and the fourth is for the left hand. The music is organized into measures by vertical bar lines, with a double bar line at the end of each staff. The notes are arranged in a sequence that suggests a scale or a specific melodic exercise.

EADEM EXPLICATIVVS.

- I. Hilaris, alacris & grauis. Alijs, mæstus aliquantum.
- II. Simplex, humilis, tristis, funebris: contrarius priori.
- III. Austerus & iracundus. Martius tonus, impetuosus, religiosus, lugubris.
- IV. Blandus, humilis, ad fletum aptus. Item adulatorius & parasitus, qui heri sui affectibus inserviat.

- V. Asper, durus, acutus, vehemens, austerus, minax & querulus, aptus ad iugubria. Alijs, iucundus, modestus, delectabilis.
- VI. Lenis, tristis, aptus imprecationibus, cum quadam animi indignatione & fremitu. Modus deuotus, flebilis, grauis.
- VII. Mixolydius seu Mysolydius, mixtus ex Mysis & Lydis. Seuerus, austerus: sed non prorsus vt tertius. Alijs lætus & suauis.
- VIII. Placabilis & modestus, iucundus, delectabilis.
- IX. Suauis, iucundus, aptus grauibus pijsque rebus. Huius toni est illud, In exitu Israel. Alijs apertus & tersus, aptus lyricis versibus.
- X. Tristis, gemebundus, flebilis & placabilis.
- XI. Iucundus, delectabilis, modestus. Aptus choreis, viuus, plenus lætitia.
- XII. Flebilis, tristis, humilis, conueninat ei querelæ, epitaphia, lamentationes, preces, & similia.

Orti ex prioribus sunt fere tristiores, quia finiuntur in quartam deorsum, seu quintam sursum. Vnde dicuntur plagales a Græco πλάγιος, inuersus, propter quartæ inuersionem: & ij sunt pares, videlicet secundus, quartus, &c. Ceteri impares dicuntur authentici veluti domini, nam ascendunt in quintam, & hinc in quartam, cum plagales ex quinta descendant in quartam a fine prioris toni: vt cum primus ex quinta definit in D, tum secundus ex D finitur in A, & sic deinceps. Hactenus de tonis.

CAPVT XXI. DE CONTRAPUNCTO.

Contrapunctum ideo dictum, quod veteres pro notis, quarum nomina nondum habebant, punctis vterentur ad canendum. Sic hodie vocatur cantus Gregorianus seu choralis, siue in basso, siue in tenore ponatur, ornatus plurium vocum inæquali & iucunda concursatione. Eius duplex est genus: illud ore prolatum, hoc notis conscriptum. Qui canunt, his regulis vtuntur. Tertijs, quintis, octauis vti debent (quas ex tabula naturali petere licet) a sextis abstinent, ne alius te sextam canente quintam canat, dissonetque. Arti maiori que lepori potest indulgeri cum scribitur. Ad hoc scribendi genus facit caput 13. Præterea super integra choralis nota (quæ semibreuis vocatur musicis) non licet similem ponere: sed ea vel in eodem spatio dimidianda est, vel in diuersa spatia frangenda, puta in minimas, in semiminimas, &c. aut possunt esse semibreues, verum incipientes ab arsi, instar ligaturæ. Imitationes Gregoriani cantus de-

core adhibentur, quod artis est. proindeque difficilius: aut non habita choralis ratione, alia fugæ seu imitationes intexuntur. Pausæ ne sint multæ, nec tamen nullæ, vt respirandi sit locus.

CAPVT XXII
DE FVGIS.

E sic dicuntur, quod vnum incipientem proindeque fugientem insequitur alter, tertius, &c. pari aut proportionato passu. Duorum sunt generum: longæ deductæque: & breues seu imitationes. Longæ illæ per omnes voces vagantur, ac sæpius per quintas, quartasue repetuntur. Veteribus vsitata. Excelluerunt in his Homerus Herpol, Aloysius Prænestinus, Orlandus. Et in his eximius Hieronymus Frescobaldus. Is præter alia phantasia edidit prorsus admirandas, quatuor vocum, ita vt super subiecto, vno, duobus, tribus, quatuor eas confecerit, iam tardius, iam concitatus, iam per contrapunctum in voces alternatim diuisum, per triplam quoque proportionem ingeniosissime. Cuius exempla hic ponere supersedeo, quod longa sunt, & liber iste modum excederet: neque consultum fuit frustra singillatim proponere. In motetis locum habent. Hac ætate vix vsurpantur. Breues illæ seu imitationes plurimum gratiæ habent. Instituuntur autem per vnisonum, octauas, quintas, aut quartas, prout tonus fugæ patitur. Sic operare. Finge animo clausulam ab alijs imitandam. Eam principio pones in voce qualibet: tum eo vsque exspectet altera vox imitatrix, donec opportunum videat locum, vbi supra vel infra incipere queat in quinta vel octaua: qua tota scripta, iterum quæres locum commodum pro tertia voce, itidemque totam illam scribes imitationem: & sic de quarta voce. Nam in plures voces deducere, longum & laboriosum, imo & molestum est. Vacuos illos locos implere licebit alijs consonantijs, imo, quod ornatius est, quæsito loco, quo fuga vel integra, vel eius aliqua pars repetatur. Hoc deinde hinc nascitur, vt quod supra aut infra implesti, illud ipsum implementum possit esse alterius fugæ materia, eodem, quo supra, modo continuanda, ita vt fuga fugam texat pariatque. Aliud quoque in fugis ornamentum est, contrariæ fugæ, hoc est, cum vna vox vni clausulæ subiecta, paullo post supra ponitur, & superior infra. Qualis fuga est in Tiburtij Massaini Impetum inimicorum, & Puer qui natus est, &c. In quinque, sex, octo vocibus locum habent imitationes, quæ mirifice cantum condiunt, & simplicitati eximunt. Exempla passim videbis, maxime in Casentino. Similia quoque videre licet supra in capite 14. num. 11, 12, 13, 14.

CAPVT

DVÆ REGVLÆ GENERALES.

Pro fugis & pro multis vocibus, vbi non potest (nec enim semper potest) obseruari tabula naturalis, hanc vnicam regulam obserua. Ita dispone notas (quæ quidem extra tabulas poni debent) vt & sint cantabiles, hoc est, vt cantari possint (ne sint v. g. septimæ, falsæ quartæ, sextæ minores : quamuis & hæc hodie maxime, non raro vsurpentur, &c.) & vitio quintarum, octauarum, vnisonorum simul commeantium careant. Verbi gratia, super has notas, fa, vt, fa, licebit ponere la, mi, la, autre, sol, re, & sic de ceteris. Latissime patet hæc regula. Altera regula summi & necessarij vsus. Quidquid est intra octauam, est extra vitium. Intelligitur de vltima clausulæ nota, intra quas aliarum vocum ascendentes per quartam (quod licet) ascendunt : supra octauam, essent duæ quintæ. Exempla habes in cap. de sextis, & Notis aberrantibus. Tamen & hic ponam lucis & veritatis gratia.

1. Si discantum poneris in tenore, concurrerent duæ quintæ. 2. Si tenorem discanti loco poneris. 3. Si discantum & tenorem permutes. 4. Si tenorem in discantum. 5. itidem. 6. Si altum in discantum, & hunc in illum. 7. Si tenorem in discantum. Si errasti, tolle sextam seu notam aberrantem, aut quintæ præpone sextam. Hæc regula millies obseruanda venit.

DE BICINIIS ET TRICINIIS.

DUÆ voces gaudent tertijs, sextis, ac septimis in sextas, secundisque in tertias correctis. Fugis & imitationibus commendantur. nam aliter factæ gratiam non habent. Clausulas quintarum descendentium, seu quartarum adscendentium refugiunt. Hæ enim sunt pro tribus & pluribus vocibus. Hæc tamen ætas ista minime obseruat. Sed eo excusari potest, quia talia bicinia canuntur ad organum, estque quasi pluribus vocibus composita sit cantio. Tricinia ea optima sunt quæ sua tertia quintaque constant sæpissime. Sic enim cantus plurium vocum esse videbitur. Exempla vtrorumque habet optima Orlandus.

CAPVT XXV.

DE PLVRIBVS VOCIBVS.

QUATUOR & quinque vocum cantiones sunt omnium ornamentorum capacissima. Varia vocum coniunctione strui possunt, omnino pro arbitratu & facultate componentis. Sex voces aptæ sunt choris, vt terni vtrimque canant: vel quatuor, duobus pausantibus, & his vna cum tertio quatuor succedentibus. Porro si omnes vis (quod sæpe decet) conionare, vna ex quinque, & duæ e sex vocibus vtentur tabula necessitatis cap. 5. vel regula generali cap. 22. Cæteræ voces componentur ex tabula naturali. Inter multos seu omnes illos concinentes licet omnino pausas alicuius minimæ, & semiminimæ ponere (quamuis alij negent fieri debere propter breuitatem temporis. Sed ne simus tam duri nobis & hic conuiueamus) vt difficultates collocandi aut frangendi notas effugere possis. Si quis tamen nolet: en tabulas pro quinque vocibus.

The page contains ten staves of musical notation, organized into five systems. Each system consists of two staves. The first four systems are labeled with the numbers 1, 2, 3, and 4, and the fifth system is labeled with the number 5. The notation uses diamond-shaped notes on a five-line staff, with stems indicating pitch and rhythm. The first four systems each have a clef at the beginning of the first staff, and the fifth system has a clef at the beginning of its first staff. The notation is arranged in a grid-like fashion, with measures separated by vertical bar lines.

1. Tenor cedit: Hic & in sequentibus maxime quinta & octava geminari possunt: tertiae possunt, sed hærere diu non debent, maxime ubi est mi actu vel potestate, quod propter acrimoniam soni facillime sentitur auribus, ideoque geminatum, ferit & iniucundum est. In transitu non diu commorante, & propter necessitatem (si quidem nihil pausare velis) ferri debet, ut in tenore inclinato in mi geminatum vides. 2. maxime curandum ut excellentes (altiores illas, ut discantos vocamus) semper sint legitime ex tabula naturali compositæ: quia primæ audiuntur, & cantum commendare suauitate debent. Tamen non raro videas discantum ex tabula necessitatis petitem, ut num. 2. Mediæ voces patiuntur omnes flexus & gradus, maxime tenor secundus, si duo sunt, ideoque veteribus dictus Vagans. 3. discantus, ut modo dixi, hærere in tertia geminata, sed mox in quintam geminam adscendit. 4. in hac necessitate sæpe in vnisono contingunt se voces: nec refert: ut in tenore participante d cum alto. 5. mi medium in basso non facile geminari potest, præsertim in adscensu, propter imperitiam cantantium, qui plerumque eo in loco fa canerent. Tamen hoc modo, ut in discantis vides, venuste geminatur, propter opportunum super mi adscensum & inde descensum. Eadem positura permutatis vocibus adhibebitur, ubi duo sunt tenores & vnus discantus.

Tabula pro sex vocibus.

The image displays six staves of musical notation, each representing a different voice part. The notation consists of diamond-shaped notes on a five-line staff. The staves are arranged vertically, with the top staff being the highest and the bottom staff being the lowest. The notation shows various intervals and geminations (double notes) as described in the text. The bottom staff has the numbers '1' and '2' written below it, indicating specific intervals or positions. The notation is organized into measures by vertical bar lines.

CAPVT XXVI.

DE OCTO VOCIBVS.

EÆ apud vetustiores incondite sane fiebant. Hodierna ætas ornatius scribit, atque ita disponit dispensatque bassos, vt alter sine altero chorus cantari posset. Nam choris commodissime scribuntur octo voces: ob id faciliores, quod fugarum & imitationum tractibus fere carent, quamuis ingeniosiores etiam fugas imitationesque illigant, sed cantantem ad maiorem attentionem alligant. Varie pro ingenio ac voluntate scribentis struuntur. Ad amplificandum & producendum valet repetere quæ prior chorus cecinit: id quod concinnius fit si repetantur in quarta aut quinta, prout tonus requirit. Sub vltima mensura prioris chori posterior incipit: non raro etiam sub penultima, quod est plausibilis. Duo bassi octauis aut quintis quartisue mutuo ad se accedunt, & a se recedunt. Semper ergo conueniunt in octaua aut vnisono, vno descendente, altero scandente. Aliquando tertiã distat bassus a basso, ita vt supra se sextas habeat & tertias. Quintæ ita dispensandæ sunt, ne duæ in vnum chorum conueniant, quoad fieri potest: nam alter tunc carere debet, & habebit tanto plures octauas aut vnisonos. Eodem modo si fieri posset (potest autem a prouido & oculato) curandum est, vt quisque chorus suam tertiam, quintam, octauam habeat. In vtrouis choro semper sint aliquot legitimæ consonantiæ ex tabula naturali, adiuncta voce vagante, idque fere in tenore, vbi minus animaduertitur insolentia mutationis. Nec diu simul vterque concinet propter difficultatem compositionis & multitudinem perstreptuum vocum. Vt hic generalis concentus rectius faciliusque fiat, bassi per tertias, quartas, quintas, octauas meabunt. nam per voces continuo motu sine interuallo componere octo est inusitatum & difficillimum, & iniucundum propter vocum horribiles saltus & concisiones.

Porro cum lubet musurgo omnes octo voces consonare, obseruavi in bonis auctoribus bassum vtrumque sæpe simul in vnisono incedere (quasi vna sit vox) vt in exemplo Prioli (quod in altera parte cap. 6. adduco in secundæ cantionis verbis VITAM MEAM) patebit. Id quod in alijs quoque vocibus inter diuersos choros repetitis deprehendi. Immo in quodam antiquiore Tenorcum Discanto per plurimos tactus in octaua com meat: quod ego quidem imitari nolim. Satius est in vnisono vocem repeti, ad vitandam compositionis difficultatem & concisionis insuauitatem. Si hoc licet in octo, quid ni liceat in 12. vel tribus & pluribus choris, vt eadem simul in alio loco repetas?

The image shows a page of musical notation for eight voices, titled "PRIOR PARS Tabula pro octo vocibus." The page contains eight staves of music, each with a clef and a key signature. The notation is a form of tablature using diamond-shaped notes and asterisks on a five-line staff. The music is organized into measures by vertical bar lines. The bottom staff has four numbers (1, 2, 3, 4) written below it, corresponding to specific notes in the piece.

1. Rarum & difficile compositu propter primas duas bassi notas. Et vero quis vult se cogere ad hanc difficultatem? 2. recte. 3. non malum, Sed 4. melius, Cetera omnia sic fere componentur.

Miror plerosque musicorum scribere solere multas cantiones in clauibus altioribus seu medio loco linearum positas, cum sciant eas, si quidem cantari velint, in grauiorem seu inferiorem clauem transponendas esse: alioquin in priori clauē omnes voces nimis acutæ forent & minime humanis vocibus idoneæ, instrumentis aptius sonandæ. Adde quod transpositæ (quod necessario fiet) grauiorem reddunt sonum, maxime discantistis, quibus voces ita graues fiunt vt altista canere posset: aut si exaltare cantum volunt, in sextam vsque lineam adscendunt, vt discantus sui similitudinem naturamque habeat. Quod incommodum (sextæ lineæ) facile vitari potest, si cantus in clauē communi, hoc est, infimo loco sita formetur. Miror inquam duplicem insumi laborem & scribentis & aliter cantantis. Causæ videantur esse ostentatio artificij, & suauitas: atqui ea etiam in clauē legitima obtineri queunt. tonus item: sed & is quicumque sit, in communi reperiri potest. Denique descensus in basso in quintas, nam in clauē communi sexta linea addenda esset, vt

Hæc ratio non est nulla. Verum eiusmodi descensus ab organistis & instrumentis musicis facilius impetrari potest quam a cantante. pauci enim bassistæ in E, D, C æquali tenore contentioneque vocem deprimere possunt. Quod igitur inferne cani non potest canatur superne in octaua, vbi consonantiæ necessariae, nihil deest: ornamenta instrumentis relinquamus. Vt tamen etiam hac de re non nihil differamus in gratiam organistarum aut eorum qui cantionem pro organista transponere volunt (nam ad hos ista pertinent, non item ad musurgos) hæc erunt obseruanda. Si clauis est \sharp duri, tum cantus transponetur in b molli in quintam inferiorem. quod organistæ quidem facilius erit, non item cantori. nam omnes tunc voces erunt infra suum statum grauiores, aut (vt vulgo loquimur) profundiores: discantus habebit instar alti, altus tenoris, tenor semibassi. Huic incommodo vt occurratur, transponunt in quartam inferiorem, cum \sharp duro: quod pro organista maioris est artis. nam clauem f semper ex die si pulsabit vt mi audiatur, nisi cum apposito b fa canendum est. This page contains ten staves of handwritten musical notation. The notation is a form of early printed music, likely square notation, where notes are represented by diamond shapes. The staves are organized into four systems of two staves each. The first four staves (top system) use a soprano clef (C1). The fifth and sixth staves (second system) use an alto clef (C3). The seventh and eighth staves (third system) use a tenor clef (C4). The ninth and tenth staves (bottom system) use a bass clef (F1). The music consists of rhythmic patterns of diamond-shaped notes, some with stems, and rests, separated by vertical bar lines. There are some decorative flourishes and asterisks in the lower staves.

The piece concludes with a double bar line and a repeat sign.

Hactenus de affectibus motibusque exprimendis. In his autem magnam libertatem esse scito, prout scribentis est ingenium. Non enim vna motus exprimendi via est, sed modi plures esse possunt. Exempla vero celeritatis, leuitatis, grauitatis nulla proposui, quod cogitarem ea & facilia esse, & passim inueniri. Nam ad celeritatem declarandam quiuis videt modulos concitatiores esse adhibendos: ad grauitatem tardiores. Immo ad gratiam cantui conciliandam non solum facit notarum cum verbis consensus, sed etiam ipsius cantantis tenor & accentus, seu vocum perita mutatio & ad verba accommodatio. Nescio quam enim gratiam cantioni etiam non optimæ circumdat eleganter cantans; cum e contrario oscitans & imperitus cantor etiam bonæ cantioni omnem detrahat leporem ac venustatem. Denique qui in musicis proficere cupit, scribat oportet varia & breuia & frequenter: cantet in symphonijs & quid iucundius accidat auribus, obseruet. potentissimum est inspicere ipsas bonorum præsertim auctorum cantiones, easque (nec laboris pigeat) membratim vocibus infra serite collocatis diuidat, & identidem discendi gratia contempletur.

Canto o Tenore Coloraturæ, Ignatij Donati.

Felix si non &c.

The page contains ten systems of musical notation, each consisting of three staves. The notation is a form of early musical shorthand, possibly for lute tablature, using diamond-shaped notes on a six-line staff. The first system features a complex, dense sequence of notes. The second system has fewer notes, with some appearing as vertical stems. The third system is mostly empty. The fourth system contains a dense sequence of notes. The fifth system has fewer notes. The sixth system has fewer notes. The seventh system has fewer notes. The eighth system has fewer notes. The ninth system has fewer notes. The tenth system has fewer notes.

The musical score is written on aged, yellowed paper. It features six systems of three staves each. The first staff of each system is a treble clef staff, the second is a middle staff, and the third is a bass clef staff. The notation is dense and includes various note values, rests, and clef changes. The paper shows signs of age and wear.

The third system consists of three staves. The top staff is a treble clef with a key signature of one flat and contains a complex melodic line with many beamed notes. The middle staff is an alto clef with a key signature of one flat and contains fewer notes, some with stems pointing downwards. The bottom staff is a bass clef with a key signature of one flat and contains a few notes, including a diamond-shaped note.

This page contains a handwritten musical score for the section 'ALTERA PARS.' The score is written on ten staves, organized into five systems of two staves each. The notation includes various clefs (treble and bass), a key signature of one flat, and a time signature of 3/4. The notes are primarily diamond-shaped, characteristic of 17th-century manuscript notation. The first system consists of two staves with a treble clef on the top and a bass clef on the bottom. The second system also has two staves, with the word 'fc' written below the bottom staff. The third system has two staves, with a treble clef on the top and a bass clef on the bottom. The fourth system has two staves, with a treble clef on the top and a bass clef on the bottom. The fifth system has two staves, with a treble clef on the top and a bass clef on the bottom. The notation is dense and includes various rhythmic values and accidentals.

The first system consists of three staves. The top staff is a treble clef with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature (C). It contains a complex sequence of chords and single notes, ending with a fermata. The middle staff is an alto clef with a key signature of one flat and a common time signature, containing a few notes. The bottom staff is a bass clef with a key signature of one flat and a common time signature, containing a few notes.

The second system consists of three staves. The top staff is a treble clef with a key signature of one flat and a common time signature, containing a complex sequence of chords and single notes, ending with a fermata. The middle staff is an alto clef with a key signature of one flat and a common time signature, containing a few notes. The bottom staff is a bass clef with a key signature of one flat and a common time signature, containing a few notes.

The musical score consists of three systems. Each system has three staves: a vocal line (soprano, alto, and tenor/bass clefs), a right-hand instrumental line (treble clef), and a left-hand instrumental line (bass clef). The notation is in a historical style with diamond-shaped note heads and stems. The lyrics are written below the vocal staves. The first system covers the first two lines of the page, and the second system covers the next two lines. The third system covers the final two lines of the page.

The first system consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. It contains a melodic line with lyrics 'i' and 'ta' under the first two measures. The middle and bottom staves are instrumental staves, likely for a lute or similar stringed instrument, with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. They contain a complex rhythmic accompaniment with many beamed notes.

The second system also consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. It contains a melodic line with lyrics 'i' and 'ta' under the first two measures. The middle and bottom staves are instrumental staves, likely for a lute or similar stringed instrument, with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. They contain a complex rhythmic accompaniment with many beamed notes. The word 'tem.' is written below the middle staff.

The third system consists of three staves. The top staff is a vocal line with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. It contains a melodic line with lyrics 'i' and '2' under the first two measures. The middle and bottom staves are instrumental staves, likely for a lute or similar stringed instrument, with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. They contain a complex rhythmic accompaniment with many beamed notes.
