

bellows - with my neighbours, who possess great money and have many businesses - I like more to eat daily cheese than that from Switzerland.

Don't get off to Munich.

5.

The sun shone yesterday and he was red; the moon is smaller than the sun, though she seems greater. In the street lies a stone; it is very hard. I have bought butter; it melts now.
I shall send you a man servant and he shall say to the maid servant, what she must do. The female goat is more useful, than the male.
This afternoon the count and the countess will come.

Have my most affectionate.

Our maid servant is stupid (more stupid) than our man servant, who is the most stupid of all men servants I know. His father was the fattest peasant and his mother the clearest country-woman, whom I have seen in my life. My friend is more diligent, than the most diligent scholar (scholar) in your school and he is more learned, than his brother. The clock was brought in our stage. You are our most obedient servant.
