

Old wood to burn! Old wine to drink!
 Old friends to trust! Old authors to read!
 Men would live exceedingly quiet if those two words,
 mine and thine, were taken away.
 He who loses money loses much; he who loses a friend loses more; but he who loses his spirits loses all.
 It is better to sit with a wise man in prison than with a fool in Paradise. Wise men change their mind; fools never.
 What you give of gold and silver stands for nothing;
 only as much as you have of soul avails.
 If all fools wore white caps, we should look like a flock of geese.
 In sleep, what difference is there between Solomon & a fool?
 It is the ordinary way of the world, to keep folly at the helm, and wisdom under the hatches.
 Nothing is more valuable than time, yet nothing less valued. Time and tide wait for no man.
 To know that you do not know is the beginning of wisdom.
 Better be poor and live than rich and perish. Better ten guilty escape than one innocent man suffer. Better cut the shoe than pinch the foot. Better suffer ill than do ill. Better die a beggar than live a beggar. Better wear out shoes than sheets. Better a witty fool than a foolish wit.

Central School of Arts and Crafts, Birmingham (Kunstgewerbeschule).

kaum zu erwartenden Ausmaße erfolgreich aus-gewirkt. Sie haben nicht nur, wie schon eingangs betont, die gesamte europäische Schrifterziehung auf eine völlig neue Grundlage gestellt und sich damit besonders in der Neugestaltung des sogenannten dekorativen Schriftunterrichtes an den fundamental change in the general attitude towards instruction in writing and lettering, regarding it not merely as a strictly useful discipline but as a legitimate means of expression in the realm of creative art is chiefly due to Edward Johnston. It may be taken as a proof for the produc-