

Christ pass'd by his brother's door,
Saw his brother lying on the floor.
'What aileth thee, brother?
Pein in the teeth? -
Thy teeth shall pain thee no more. In the name etc.
Cornwallis.

(R.Hunt, Popular Romances of the West of England, London 1865; 2, 215.)

auch gedruckt von R.Köhler in Germania 13. (1868), 180.