THE KINGSTON EARTHQUAKE.

London, January 29.

The Colonial Office has received the following cable from the Governor of Jamaica: The harbour-master reports that Mouton Point has sunk into the sea. The soundings in the vicinity are unreliable and ships are obliged to remain some distance out. There is, however, sufficient water in the usual channels to admit of safe passage. The lighthouse on Plum Point is working again.

NEWS FROM AMERICA.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

New York, January 29.

It comes as no surprise to a good many people in Washington to hear that another scandal is threatened in connection with the Panama Canal. It has nothing to do with the retiring Chairman of the Commission, but dates back prior to his having anything to do with the Isthmus. The alleged facts have indeed been common talk among all connected in any way with the canal project for two or three years past.

Among the men who will be implicated is a well-known politician who took a prominent share in bringing about the "revolution," which resulted in the establishment, so very opportunely for the United States, of the Republic of Panama. Another is a highly-respected gentleman, who is accused of having made three profits for his private account in connection with the acquisition and subsequent traffic in the option of purchasing the old French Company's property and concessions. One of the profits was a very big one, so it is said, and it was made at the expense of the United States by the illegal concealment of essential facts. Neither the Administration nor President Roosevelt desires that these scandals should be resurrected, but as an enterprising newspaper has got hold of some of the facts, and will probably get more, publicity, however undesirable, is now bound to come.

The story of the establishment of the Republic of Panama ought to make extremely interesting reading, but it is doubtful whether the newspaper in question is in a position to give the world the true story, although a fair number of people know parts of it.

A NEW IMMIGRATION STATION.

Washington, January 29.

The Senate has passed a Bill authorising the erection of an immigration station at New Orleans.

THE REDEN MINE DISASTER.

Berlin, January 29.

His Majesty the Emperor has sent H. R. H. Prince Friedrich Leopold to the scene of the Reden mine disaster to obtain information as to the situation there, and to report to His Majesty personally.

Metz, January 29.

The Lorraine official surveyer reports that he has made enquiries on the spot and has ascertained that 488 miners entered the workings of the fifth gallery yesterday morning; 63 corpses are lying at the scene of the disaster. Of the 23 severely injured persons who were conveyed to the Neukirch Hospital, 13 have already died so that the number of the dead brought out of the mine now reaches 76. The number of miners still in the gallery and apparently lost is, it is feared, considerably greater. Of the 488 miners who entered the workings, 60 found safety in the Heinitz shaft.

Later.

It is announced here from Reden that the local mine inspectors confirm the report that 77 corpses have been brought to the surface; the number of those who entered the workings is given as 163 with the proviso, however, that accurate figures cannot at present be obtained.

Saarbrück, January 29.

The Saarbrück mining company announces that mining operations were resumed in the Reden pits early this morning. The number of dead is estimated at 143, but this may be an understatement.

Essen, January 29.

The Committee of the Christian Manufacturing Association has decided to vote 5,000 marks to afford temporary relief to the relations of its members who lost their lives in the Reden disaster.

Reden, January 29.

The explosion, it appears surprised most of the miners as they were about to commence work. In consequence of the Emperor's birthday festivities, a considerable number of men had fortunately not entered the mine. A hollow sound betokened an explosion. A rescue party led by three mine inspectors succeeded in penetrating to a point just outside the explosion zone, where they were met by clouds of yellow smoke. The rescue party had to fly, but all reached the surface, though many were stupefied by the fumes.

St. Johann, January 29.

In the opinion of experts the explosion was so sudden and so violent that the victims must have been killed on the spot. Rescue parties from all mines in the Saar district came in special carriages and went to work at once. Up to the present 77 corpses have been recovered, but so mutilated are they that it is a matter of great difficulty to establish their identity; 25 persons more or less injured were also brought to the surface. The number of the dead and missing is placed at 158 by the mining company.

Up to the present 30,000 marks have been collected for the relations of the victims; many more contributions are expected. One widow has lost her three sons; another woman lost her husband, her brother and two sons. One woman became delirious at the sight of her husband's body; another fainted when her husband, believed to be dead, appeared safe before her.

Munich, January 29.

H. R. H. the Prince Regent has sent the following telegram to Berlin:

"To His Majesty the German Emperor William II, King of Prussia.

The staggering news of the awful calamity in the Reden mine has moved me deeply and impels me to give expression to my heartfelt sympathy and sincere compassion. Luitpold."

His Majesty replied by telegraph: "Painfully moved by the terrible calamity which has afflicted the population in the Saar district, I thank you most heartily for your telegram and kindly sympathy. William."

Rome, January 29.

His Holiness the Pope has expressed by telegraph to H. M. the German Emperor his deep sympathy with the victims of the disaster.

Paris, January 29.

President Fallières has received the following telegram from the German Emperor: "I am deeply moved by the kind expression of sympathy, which you have sent me on the occasion of the frightful catastrophe, which has claimed so many victims among our brave miners, and I beg you, M. le Président, to accept my warmest and most sincere thanks, and to rest convinced that the miners of the Saar district, who are thrown into mourning by this catastrophe, and the whole German nation will appreciate this testimony of your sympathy. Wilhelm."

CATTLE SMUGGLING ON THE GERMAN FRONTIER.

Berlin, January 29.

A large international cattle-smuggling band has been arrested on the Dutch frontier. The ringleader is a cattle dealer in Waldenrath and the smugglers made common cause with the issuers of the consignment certificates and introduced cattle under forged transport certificates. Ten oxen have been confiscated. Many persons living in the frontier towns are implicated in the affair.

EXPLOSION ON A SHIP.

Lisbon, January 29.

An explosion took place today on a Portuguese ship with a cargo of gasoline. The whole ship caught fire; 7 of the crew are severely burned and had to be conveyed to a hospital.

NEWS FROM FRANCE.

THE WAR AGAINST THE CHURCH.

Paris, January 29.

About 30 Bishops held a meeting yesterday presided over by Cardinal Archbishop Richard in the house of the conservative Deputy, M. Denys Cochin. A statement brought back from Rome by the Bishop of Orleans and approved of by the Pope was adopted. In this statement, the wording of which was already settled in the last Bishops' assembly in La Murette Castle, and which is published today in the Figaro, occurs the following passage, among others: "We remain immutably opposed to the Separation Law, and the other conditions attached to it. In common with the Holy Father we demand for the Church of France respect for her hierarchy, and the inviolability of her property and her liberty. The ecclesiastical properties, of which we have been so unworthily spoiled, will be claimed unceasingly by their rightful owners, into whose place no one can even temporarily step without special dispensation from the Pope. In the present struggle we will sacrifice everything in order to render possible to the last moment the holding of public divine service in our churches and to protect the consecrated buildings from every profanation. With this object exclusively we will allow ourselves to make an attempt to organise divine service, if the want of clearness in certain clauses of the 1907 law is removed. An agreement concluded between the prefects or mayors on the one side, and the bishops or priests on the other, will be able to ensure to the priests the usufruct of the consecrated buildings in accordance with the text of the Law. With respect to this agreement the law only lays upon the lay parties the condition that the usufruct must be gratis. We declare that the usufruct treaty must either be accepted everywhere, or we will accept it nowhere. These treaties will only come into force at the moment when their clauses are unanimously accepted by the representatives of the community or other authorities. The whole country will appreciate our conditions; it will see that we are only regarding the salvation of the souls entrusted to our care."

The statement contains the scheme of such a treaty between the priests and the mayors, whereby, among other things, the church police are to be left to the priests except in cases where the mayor is forced to interfere to restore order.

THE FRENCH CHAMBER.

Paris, January 29.

The House today rejected by 432 votes to 137 the proposal to dispose of the discussion of the Bill relating to public assemblies, down on the Order of the Day, until tomorrow.

M. Allard, Socialist, moved an amendment providing that the declaration in the case of public assemblies should remain obligatory, and accused the Government of weakening.

M. Briand, Minister of Education, opposed the Amendment and stated that it was the wish of the Government to continue their conciliatory, but firm policy. He relied on the collaboration of the majority to support him in this difficult task.

M. Allard's amendment was defeated by 501 votes to 63.

THE EXPLOSION IN A SERBIAN PALACE.

Belgrade, January 29.

It is stated officially that the reports appearing in foreign journals as to an explosion in the King's palace are incorrect and are based on the fact that owing to the carelessness of a servant, a small quantity of powder exploded in the Crown Prince's palace, which is a long way from the King's palace. No damage was done. Reports as to an attempt on the King's life are pure invention.

GENERAL NEWS.

(From our London correspondent.)

A new development has presented itself in the Whiteley murder case, as Mr. George Rayner, the alleged father of the murderer, who is recovering, has been found and interviewed. He denies that the young man described as Horace George Rayner is really his son.

It now remains possible that the murderer is after all what he has asserted from the first, an illegitimate son of the deceased.

Some trouble now is said to exist through the presence in court of Mrs. Harry Thaw's chorus-girl friend, Mrs. Mc Kenzie, at the trial of Harry Thaw, as she seems to have been seated each day next to Mrs. Thaw junior.

Mr. Thaw's leading counsel has objected to Miss Mc Kenzie's frivolous conduct and has threatened to withdraw from the case if she attends the trial, and by many this is regarded as the cause of the Countess of Yarmouth being absent the last two days.

Mrs. Harry Thaw is to be the first witness called by Mr. Jerome the District Attorney, and Miss Mc Kenzie to whose flat Mrs. Thaw fled after the murder will also be called by the prosecution.

Mr. Frank Gerald the secretary of the Music-Hall Federation, announced on Sunday night at the meeting held at the Surrey Theatre that the Alliance had secured the Scala Theatre which would be opened on Thursday with performances for the benefit of the strike funds.

The Alliance has the option of obtaining either a 20 years lease or a freehold of the Scala Theatre. Nothing was proposed respecting the Lyceum Theatre, but the meeting was of a very enthusiastic description, and was attended by Mr. Joe O'Gorman who presided, Messrs. Joe Elvin, Gus Elen, Wal Pink, Ryder Stone, Fred Herbert, Leo Dryden, Joe Tension and many others, but Miss Marie Lloyd was absent through indisposition.

A marvellous demonstration occurred in connection with the music-hall battle about midnight on Saturday, long after the performance at the Oxford Music-Hall had terminated. The supers could only get their money for two nights as Mr. Joe Elvin had struck and being naturally in need of their full salaries a remarkable scene took place. Mr. Joe Elvin came forward with his usual liberality and paid them out of his own pocket receiving cheers and cries of "Good luck, Mr. Elvin; what a pal!" this being a quotation from his sketch.

It has after all been decided to restore St. Paul's Cross in front of St. Paul's Cathedral, the Courts having agreed that the legacy of £6,000 left by the late Mr. Richards may be thus applied.

Mrs. Lowther will hold receptions at the Speaker's House on Friday, March 8th, and Friday, March 15th.

Splendid winter passages across the Atlantic are recorded. The Cunard liner "Umbria" which arrived at New York on Saturday with 700 passengers, only took 6 days 17 hours. The American liner "St. Paul," reached New York on Sunday and took 8 days 2 hours from Southampton and now goes into an American dockyard for overhauling.

The marriage is announced from New York of the popular actress, Miss Jessie Millward to Mr. John Glendinning who, like Miss Millward, has been playing a leading part in "The Hypocrites." The news has come quite as a surprise to their friends both in England and in America.

Among the passengers who returned to England on Saturday on board the Cunard liner "Carmania" from the United States were the Countess of Antrim, Sir Aston and Lady Webb, Captain Kincaid Smith, M. P. and Mr. C. D. Rose, M. P.

Sir Aston Webb brought with him President Roosevelt's gold medal, presented by the American Institute of Architects.

The Hon. Whitelaw Reid, the United States Ambassador, was able to travel from Liverpool to London on his arrival in the "Carmania" from New York. #### DRAMATIC NOTES.

LONDON THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS. (From our own London correspondent.)

REVIVAL OF "THE GONDOLIERS".

Last week the most important event was the revival of "The Gondoliers" at the Savoy Theatre, and in this opera there remains all the former popularity which has clung to it since its first production. Indeed the charm of Sullivan's music appears here to be greater than ever and Mrs. D'Oyley Carte is to be congratulated on the efficient company she has secured for this latest revival of the Gilbert-Sullivan operas. Mr. C. H. Workman, as the Duke of Plaza Toro, displayed his great talent as a comedian of the highest order, whilst Miss Jessie Rose sings and plays the part of Tessa in charming style and was the recipient of rapturous applause. The fine voice of Mr. Richard Green was much appreciated as Giuseppe, whilst nothing was wanting in either Miss Marie Wilson as Casilda or Mr. John Clulow as the Grand Inquisitor. "The Gondoliers" is being played on alternate nights with "The Yeomen of the Guard" an opera which also attracts good audiences.

Smetana's sparkling opera "Die verkaufte Braut" was produced at the German Opera, Covent Garden, last Thursday night under the most favourable auspices.

Herr Franz Naval sang and acted most admirably as Hans, and Frau Bosetti was seen and heard to great advantage in this tuneful opera, in fact she seems to gain popularity every time she is seen at Covent Garden. "Die verkaufte Braut" can be put down as a decided success in London.

Mr. Beerbohm Tree has now arranged to have the pit and gallery doors at His Majesty's Theatre opened for the evening performances, at ten minutes past seven and for the matinée performances at ten minutes past one.

In a few days Mr. Nation hopes to open Terry's Theatre with a new version by Mr. Chance Newton of "L'Heritage de M. Plumet" a play which was adapted twenty years ago for the Criterion Theatre by Mr. James Mortimer.

Although "His House in Order" might well continue its run at the St. James's Theatre until after Easter, Mr. George Alexander has determined to withdraw Mr. Piner's comedy soon, to meet the convenience of Mr. Frohman and Mr. Hare who require the assistance of Miss Irene Vanbrugh for "La Belle Marsellaise" at the Duke of York's Theatre.

The play which will follow "His House in Order" is by Mr. Alfred Sutro and will be called "John Gayde's Honour" with Miss Eva Moore as the heroine to support Mr. Alexander, who will have a very strong part.

During the coming season Mr. Lewis Waller will play Napoleon in a new drama entitled "1801" and Mr. John Hare will also be seen about the same time in the character of the first Napoleon.

On Saturday March 2 the "Beauty of Bath" will be withdrawn from the Hicks Theatre where "My Darling" is to be produced on the 5th of that month. "The Beauty of Bath" is to go on tour commencing on March 4 at the Shakespeare Theatre, Liverpool.

A new series of living pictures has this week been added to the entertainment at the Empire.

At the Camberwell Palace this week a new version of Sydney Carton's sacrifice in the "Tale of Two Cities" is to be presented. It has been written by Mr. E. Soane Roby.

Mr. John Valentine, who is generally believed to be an American, has written a comedy in "The Stronger Sex" which was produced at the Apollo Theatre with a certain amount of satisfaction to the author as it was well received and admirably acted, the chief parts having been undertaken by Miss Nina Boucicault, Miss Illington, Mr. Leonard Boyne and Mr. Paul Arthur.

PLOT. Rienzi, a Roman notary, abetted by the papal legate Raimondo dreams of throwing off the yoke of the haughty patricians. The head of the Orsini tries to abduct Irene's sister, but she is saved by Adrian Colonna, a member of the rival faction. The nobles leave Rome to fight out a quarrel and the people shut the gates and elect Rienzi tribune. A plot to murder Rienzi by the Orsini is betrayed by Adrian, and the nobles are condemned to death, but at Irene's entreaty Rienzi relents and pardons them. They again rebel and in a battle the chief of them are slain; this turns Adrian against Rienzi. The people begin to distrust Rienzi, the church excommunicates him. Adrian in vain implores Irene to fly with him. She and Rienzi retire to the Capitol, which is set on fire in the midst of a popular rising, and they, together with Adrian perish in the flames.

LOCAL.

It is proposed to hold a Subscription Costume Dance for members of the British community and their friends, with a view to affording a pleasant social gathering before Lent. As the expense of organising such in a public Hall is considerable, Mrs. Baumfelder has most generously placed her etage at the disposal of the All Saints' Church Committee, under whose auspices the dance will be given. It will, therefore, be held at Mosezinsky Strasse 21, III. on Monday, February 11th. The issue of tickets at 7 marks each the number of which will be limited to 100, will begin tomorrow, Friday; they may be obtained from the Church Committee at Struve Strasse 5, I. up to Friday, February 8th. The profits of the dance will be applied to the All Saints' chaplaincy funds; increasing demands upon these make an extra effort to raise money necessary, and the Church Committee hope that this attempt will not only result in the desired augmentation of the Funds but will serve as well to gather the community together in a social and sociable way.

Costumes are of course left to the taste of the individual, but the Committee suggest simplicity on the lines of a Calico Dance.

The annual meeting of the Anglo-American Club was held on Tuesday afternoon. The Committee for the ensuing year was elected. Mr. T. St. John Gaffney was appointed Chairman, Mr. V. I. Clarke, Secretary and Messrs. Johnson, Ogden, Kranich and Moss were elected on the committee.

The meeting decided to at once proceed to re-decorate the Club premises and to arrange for meals being served in the Club from the Hotel du Nord.

The programme of this evening's orchestral concert at the Gewerbehaus will be as follows:—

- (1) Overture, "Der Schiffbruch der Medusa" Reissiger.
- (2) Folk-song, "Ringerl und Röslerl" Suppé.
- (3) Gondoliers, "Im schönen Venedig" (first time) Jahn.
- (4) Three numbers from the "Music to Sigurd Jorsalfar" Grieg.
- (5) Overture, "Rienzi" Wagner.
- (6) Violin solo, "Hungarische Rhapsodie (Herr Korb)" Hauser.
- (7) Tonbilder, "Zauberflöte" (arranged by Kempter) Mozart.
- (8) Overture, "Fra Diavolo" Auber.
- (9) "Die Seligkeit für einen Kuss" (first time) Lagio.
- (10) Air Bach.
- (11) [a] Ungarischer Tanz (Brahms) [b] Slavischer Tanz Dvorák.

On Saturday evening next the Sixth Symphony of Beethoven will be performed.

Mr. Sherwood will give a Lecture on Beethoven's ninth (Choral) Symphony on Thursday, March 21st (in German Wednesday, March 20th) before the Performance by the Royal Orchestra on Palm Sunday.

The subject of the getting-up and setting-out of advertisements, which is so important to every one who advertises, is treated exhaustively in the Newspaper Catalogue for 1907 just issued by the advertising firm Rudolf Mosse, in a separate appendix bearing the title "Das Cliché-Insert" and containing several hundred specimens of illustrated advertisements.

The firm Rudolf Mosse, which on New Years Day entered on the 41st year of its existence, has from the first endeavoured to offer advertisers new suggestions in each issue of their Catalogue, and the present edition is a good example of their success in that endeavour. The Catalogue contains all the particulars which advertisers should know, arranged in a manner convenient for reference. One advantage of the publication is that it affords the means of easily and with certainty calculating the number of lines required, if it is used in conjunction with Rudolf Mosse's standard line-measure. That advantage should constitute the Catalogue an indispensable handbook for all who advertise. The appearance of the Catalogue this year has been somewhat delayed for the sake of greater completeness and correctness. The many alterations made or contemplated in the price of advertisements, as a consequence of the new book-publishers' tariff, had as far as possible to be noticed in the text. The form of the Catalogue—that of a writing folio—is the same this year as before. As its contents bear clear testimony to the efforts of the firm Rudolf Mosse, as advertising agents, to serve their customers, so the type and style of the folio prove the capability of the printing department of the firm.

WINTRY WEATHER IN ITALY.

The sharp weather has been producing strange effects in Italy. Without mentioning matters so commonplace as railway and other communications, a result has been produced in Venice which is far removed from the ordinary. There the public cemetery is situated on an island of the lagoons, but the channels are so full of ice that it is dangerous, and Venice is a city without funerals. In Rome, on Thursday evening, during a night fête to mark the rare appearance of snow, a diplomatist addressed a remark to a young woman which so enraged her that she fractured his skull with a champagne bottle.
