By 198 votes to 90 the House today passed a resolution recommending the disestablishment and disendowment of the Church of England. Mr. Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, supported the resolution, but said that the Government could take no responsibility in the matter as its hands were already full enough.

M. the King has directed that Prince Francis of Teek, cousin of the Queen-Mother of the Netherlands, shall be sent on an extraordinary mission to the Hague to hand the Prince the Grand Cross of the Bath in His Majesty's name.

NEWS FROM FRANCE.

THE WAR AGAINST THE CHURCH.

Paris, February 27.

This afternoon, in the building of the former Nuntiature, the papers of the archives of the Nuntiature were taken from the box, which was sealed by the French police, in the presence of M. Gavarry, accredited representative of the French Ministry of the Exterior and of the representative of the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, Count Nimes, and without any verification were packed in boxes and sealed with the seals of the French Ministry of the Exterior and the Austro-Hungarian Embassy; after the signing of a protocol as to the proceedings taken in the matter they were conveyed to the Austro-Hungarian Embassy. The Embassy will at once hand the boxes to the Advocate, M. Boyes de Bouillane, representative of Mgr. Montagnini; he will send them either direct to the Vatican or to the papal Nuntiature in Brussels.

The journals announce that M. Briand this afternoon discussed with M. de Selves, the Prefect of the Seine, the negotiations with the Archiepiscopal Chancery in the matter of the church lease contracts.

The enquiring magistrate, M. Ducasse, has ordered that the legal proceedings against the priest of the churches of St. Pierre and St. Rodin shall be dropped; on the other hand, Abbé Jouin, priest of the church of St. Augustin, is to be prosecuted under the Separation Law for an appeal published in his church paper in which mention is made of "armed grief". The proceedings will probably commence in the middle of March.

The Montagnini affair will be dealt with separately, but may be referred to the criminal court, though it is certain that Mgr. Montagnini himself will not appear.

The journal La Croix publishes the following statement: "The Archiepiscopal Chancery has received no kind of communication from the Government and does not expect one. The breach of the negotiations is a fait accompli. The Government is to add yet another monstrosity to its conduct by publishing documents contained among the papers confiscated in the former Nuntiature."

The evening journal, the Messidor, reports that various documents which were confiscated in Mgr. Montagnini's house have been handed to the counsel for the defence of the three priests accused of inciting to violence. Among them are letters from Cardinal Merry du Val to Mgr. Montagnini, and the latter's replies. The Messidor gives extracts from these documents, as for instance, a letter in which Cardinal Merry du Val wishes Mgr. Montagnini success in the agitation aroused against the taking of the church inventories, an agitation entirely in correspondence with the papal views and policy.

In another letter the Cardinal approves the proposal of M. Jacques Pion, head of the Voters Union Action libérale, to put up candidates in all districts, but suggests that these candidates must everywhere describe themselves as Republicans. From further letters it appears that Cardinal Merry du Val was against the appointment of Mgr.

Anette as coadjutor to Archbishop Richard, because he was too liberal. The Cardinal also disapproved of the appointment of the Rector of the Parisian Catholic Institute, Mgr. Vechinar, to a bishopric, on the ground that he was too orthodox.

NEWS FROM RUSSIA.

THE REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT.

St. Petersburg, February 27.

The Novoje Vremja announces that shortly before 8 o'clock last evening the conductor of the Grand Ducal train met, at the entrance to the Imperial waiting room, a man who placed a box containing a bomb on the rails. The man was followed, but escaped in a sleigh which drove rapidly away. At 8 o'clock the Grand Duke Nikolai Nikolajevitch, Chief of the St. Petersburg military district, was expected from Zarskoje Selo. A careful inspection of that section of railway has been ordered.

The bomb was cylindrical in shape, is about 22 centimetres long and 13 broad, and contained 3 lbs. of dynamite and 28 exploding caps; its explosive force was sufficient to have blown the whole train to atoms. Former employes of the railway are suspected of complicity in the attempted outrage. The train was shunted on to another line.

FIGHTING NEAR CHARBIN.

Charbin, February 27.

A fight took place today about 30 versts to the North of Charbin between a patrol of Amur Cossacks and Chunchuses, in which 20 of the latter were killed. The leader of the Cossacks was slightly wounded.

In the Ninguta district a collision occurred between a cavalry patrol and 88 Chunchuses, the latter retired into the woods. THE SIEGE OF PORT ARTHUR.

London, February 27.

The Standard today publishes an extract 7 columns long from the secret report sent to the Czar by General Smirnoff, Commander of Port Arthur during the siege from February to December 1904. This document, on which was based the attack which led to an enquiry into the conduct of Generals Stössel and Fock as well as of Colonel Reiss, gives an extremely clear account of the course of the siege. General Smirnoff makes a violent attack on General Stössel, accusing him of cowardice, incompetence, favouritism, and indecision, which led to the surrender of the fortress before the resources for its defence were exhausted.

FIFTY YEARS WITH THE N. D. L.

The Nord Deutscher Lloyd Co. has recently been celebrating its jubilee and on the 25th of this month Herr Director Bremermann also was able to look back on fifty years spent in the service of the company, having been for 29 years manager of the Victualling Department. Those who have once wandered through the halls of the Victualling Department and have seen the enormous store-rooms, the laundry with its various branches, the wine-vaults, and the offices, will have obtained an idea of the operations of this department and the responsibilities incumbent upon its manager. And it is the unquestionable merit of Director Bremermann to have developed and extended the Victualling Department and its various branches, and to have made it what we see it today.

The old War Office in Pall Mall is already a thing of the past, and the Guardsmen who were a familiar and pleasing spectacle as they patrolled the pavement outside the dingy old building, have already been relieved of the duty. A meeting was held at the Cannon-street Hotel by the Channel Ferry (Dover) Company to discuss the scheme of a Channel Ferry in opposition to the proposed Channel Tunnel. Lord Weardale was in the chair, and stated that the ferry scheme which would be equally effective would cost only £1,000,000, and passengers would be able to cross from Dover without changing carriages. This undertaking would result in great financial benefit to the South Eastern and Chatham and Dover Railway. Within three years the service might be in full operation, and when once both sides were d'accord, there would not be the slightest difficulty in obtaining the necessary funds.

In the Deal shooting affray, Trainor was on Monday set free, and bound over, as the Judge's view of the case was that the prisoner shot Mr. Gould, who was a big powerful man, in self-defence. The fifth of the Royal Conservatorium concerts on Tuesday evening last was honoured by the presence of Her Majesty the Queen Dowager. The large hall of the Vereinshaus could hardly contain the audience. Not only was every seat filled, but improvised standing places were crowded. The first item on the programme was Liszt's "Totentanz" (in the old Doric D mode) for pianoforte with orchestra—one of the most characteristic works of the composer of Rhapsodies par excellence. The performance was made remarkable by the pronounced manner as well as the great musical talent of the pianist, a pupil of the class Urbach, who played as if possessed by the wildly weird spirit of the music. The style bordered on burlesque—so did Paganini's, and this seemed as natural as his—but the performance roused the enthusiasm of the audience, and the player was recalled 6 or 7 times. The orchestra, under Herr Striegler, also performed their part with great energy and precision.

The rest of the long concert comprised: a very good performance of two movements of a Concerto by Molique for flute, and orchestra, by a pupil of Herr Bauer, and the orchestra conducted by a pupil of Herr Striegler; an Aria from Zöllner's opera "Die versunkene Glocke", carefully and tunefully sung by a pupil of Fr. Sievert; a Recitative and Aria from Nicolai's "Die lustigen Weiber von Windsor" sung by a member of the class Frau Söhle, a young lady with a naturally flexible voice and good ear, but whose intonation in recitative lacked clearness; two movements of a Molique Concerto for violin and orchestra, played in good style by a pupil of the class Petri; an orchestral number from a symphony by a pupil of the composition class Draeseke; and the first movement of a Concerto for pianoforte and orchestra, in which the solo part was played by a pupil of the class Vetter, with considerable technical skill but more regard for forced tone than for the poetic capabilities of her instrument.—G.

In answer to general requests Frau Alice Wittmund will give a second recital of fairy tales tomorrow, March 2nd, at the "Saal der Kaufmannschaft", Ostra Allee 9. The programme will be changed, and old melodies on the violin are to accompany the recital. Tickets may be obtained from Richter's Kunsthandlung, Prager Strasse.

The guards in the city today are furnished by the Schützen Regiment No. 108. The band plays about 12.30 p. m. in the Schloss Platz.

THE SENTRY'S REASON.

A soldier at the Toulon Arsenal was on sentry duty the other day outside a powder magazine, when an officer came up smoking a cigar. "You must throw that away, sir," said the sentry, and after a moment's hesitation the officer obeyed. Almost immediately afterwards the officer returned, and saw the sentry smoking his cigar. He was about to call the guard, when the soldier said: "I am not a smoker, captain. I was merely keeping it alight to show the corporal, when he comes round, that I was right in ordering you to throw it away." The captain smiled and walked on.

THE TWINS.

Concerning the Lord C. Beresford rumours, Black and White recalls a story often told by the gallant Admiral—how a few years ago a railway porter wrote to him saying, "Our home has been blessed with twins, and I write to ask your lordship if you will ask the Princess of Wales if we may call the little girl Princess of Wales Brown, and the little boy Lord Charles Beresford Brown." Lord Charles procured the necessary permission from the Princess, and sent it, together with his own. A month later came the following from the same man: "My Lord,—I am happy to inform you that Lord Charles Beresford Brown is well and hearty, and that Princess of Wales Brown died this morning."

On Bartolo's return a quarrel ensues which is only ended by the guard. The Count gets into Bartolo's house for the second time disguised as Basilio, a musician. Figaro bribes the real Basilio when he appears. Rosina is overjoyed to find that Lindoro and the Count are one and the same. DRAMATIC NOTES.

LONDON THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

(From our own London correspondent.)

The majority of play-goers in London were astounded to learn that the recent season of German opera in London had not been a financial success and that many salaries had not been paid. However, on Saturday last came the announcement that these were to be settled on Monday and it seems that the deficiency is generally believed to have been caused by the inability to find German tenors with well-produced and musical voices to sustain the chief rôles. The scheme has nevertheless been remarkable for important artistic results, for there can be no doubt that never before had such fine orchestral playing been heard at Covent Garden as that of the London Symphony Orchestra, which is composed of British instrumentalists. For the first time Herr Nikisch, who hails from the Gewandhaus at Leipzig, conducted there in opera and made a marked success, so much so that it is hoped he will often repeat his visit to England. Nor can those able conductors Herren Reichwein, Schalk and Ysaye be too highly praised. The German Opera Syndicate is composed of well-to-do men so that there seems no doubt that all will be satisfactorily arranged with the artists and that we may look forward to their return next year.

"The Little Admiral" is the title of the new play which will be produced by Mr. Lewis Waller at the Lyric Theatre on Saturday, March 9. In the cast will be Miss Evelyn Millard, Miss Carlotta Addison, Messrs. Charles Groves, C. Fulton, C. M. Rowne and A. E. George.

Miss Edith J. Millar, the Canadian contralto, had the honour of being presented to King Edward after the Royal Amateur Society's smoking concert at Queen's Hall. In consequence of her success in the "Dream of Gerontius", she will sing in Elgar's "The Kingdom" at the Albert Hall on March 14.

"Peter Pan" finished its third season at the Duke of York's Theatre on Saturday night last. The entire company left Euston on Sunday morning for Glasgow where Mr. Charles Frohman presented the play on Monday night.

As Mr. Tree is most anxious during his forthcoming visit to Berlin to present "Twelfth Night" before the German Emperor in complete style, he has obtained permission from Messrs. Gatti for Mr. Courtice Pounds to perform the singing part of the clown. Mr. Pounds will only be absent a few nights from the cast of "The Belle of Mayfair."

The title of the new ballet at the Alhambra is "The Queen of Spades". The scenario is by the Alhambra's own maitre de ballet, Signor Curti, and the music is by Signor Mario Costa, who wrote "La Frangesa". Mdlle. Alexia, the famous dancer, plays the chief part and Miss Julia Seale is in the caste after having had some Continental appearances.

March 25 is the day fixed for Mr. Benbrick Blanchard to open his season at the Waldorf Theatre with the new musical play entitled "The Gipsy Girl" which has been cut down and greatly improved since the trial matinée, three weeks ago. Miss Sybil Arundale will play the title rôle and in the caste are also Miss Grace Arundale, Miss Phyllis Broughton, Mr. Fred Eastman, Mr. Arthur Fitz Gerald and Mr. Edmund Cooper.

Mr. Seymour Hicks, who is going with Miss Ellaline Terris on tour, will remain in town to conduct the final rehearsals of his new musical comedy "My Darling" which will be produced at the Hicks Theatre on March 2. Miss Marie Studholme and Mr. A. Lytton are engaged for the chief parts.

"The Great Conspiracy" is the title finally selected for the adaptation of M. Pierre Berton's play "La Belle Marsellaise" in which Mr. John Hare and Miss Irene Vanbrugh will appear at the Duke of York's Theatre on March 2.

Mr. James Welch was unable to appear in "When Knights Were Bold" at Wyndham's Theatre last Wednesday afternoon, owing to indisposition and he has now found it necessary to limit his performances to seven a week, for which reason the Wednesday matinées are discontinued.

On Friday March 8, Mr. George Alexander will present Mr. Alfred Sutro's new play "John Gladys's Honour" at the St. James's Theatre and there is to be a dress rehearsal of it on the previous evening.

When Mr. Tree returns from his visit to Berlin, the annual Shakespeare festival week at His Majesty's Theatre will immediately follow. Mr. Tree will open on Monday, April 22 with "The Tempest." This is to be followed by: "The Winter's Tale", "Hamlet" (matinée), "Twelfth Night", "Julius Caesar", "The Merry Wives of Windsor", "Julius Caesar" (matinée) and "The Merry Wives of Windsor", but there will be no performance that week of "Antony and Cleopatra."

A rapid and excellent recovery is being made by Mr. Charles Hawtrey from the operation he had to undergo on Thursday last. In consequence of his illness the production of Mr. W. J. Locke's comedy "The Palace of Puck" at the Haymarket Theatre had to be postponed for a few weeks, and meanwhile the run of "Peter's Mother" will be continued at that theatre.

Planquette's "Rip Van Winkle" was revived last week at the Shaftesbury Theatre by the members of the Stock Exchange Dramatic and Operatic Society, who gave an admirable performance.

In the innovation whereby at the Playhouse all seats from half-guinea ones in the stalls to shilling ones in the gallery are bookable in advance, Mr. Cyril Maude has not met with opposition such as caused the late Sir Henry Irving to drop his similar reform at the Lyceum.

The end of the music-hall strike has been marked at the Tivoli this week by the re-appearance of Mr. Arthur Roberts in a new version of his merry sketch "Where's the Count."

Mr. H. B. Irving starts on March 25 at Aberdeen a tour of the provinces, which is to last until the first week in June, during which he will play the characters associated with his father's name in "The Bells", "The Lyons Mail" and "Charles I."

In "Hedda Gabler" which is to be revived at the Court Theatre next week, Mr. Laurence Irving will again be seen and Mrs. Patrick Campbell will herself play Hedda.
