THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

The House of Commons having rejected most of the Lords' Amendments to the English Land Bill the Upper House has been content to let them fall out; the Bill has accordingly become law exactly in the shape in which it passed the Commons.

In the same way the Upper House passed the Bills relating to patents and imported food stuffs.

The House of Lords concluded its legislative labours by accepting the proposal for an Imperial guarantee of the loan of 5 millions for the Transvaal Colony.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The Prime Minister replied in answer to a question that the documents relating to the Hague Conference would be published at the end of the Conference. It would then be recognised that the English Delegates had performed their task in a manner creditable to themselves and to the advantage of the country.

The Prime Minister announced that Parliament would be prorogued yesterday at noon.

A compromise having been arranged between the two Houses with regard to the Bill providing for the reinstatement of the Irish evicted tenants, the Bill has been passed. The Government considers that the value of the measure has been considerably reduced by the amendments carried.

UNREST IN IRELAND.

In the Tuesday edition of the official Dublin Gazette a notification was published that the Viceroy had been empowered to "proclaim" a county or a district and to reinforce the police in such county or district.

As a consequence of this notification several counties were "proclaimed" yesterday.

Legal proceedings have been commenced against Mr. J. P. Farrell, member for N. Longford, and the other 40 persons arrested on Tuesday. All the defendants have been admitted to bail.

ACCIDENT TO A BATTLESHIP.

H. M. S. "Commonwealth", twin screw battleship, 16,350 tons, has put into Devonport, having sprung a leak; the vessel grounded when entering Lamlash harbour in the Island of Arran; her plates were stove in for a considerable distance.

THE KAISER RECEIVES YACHTSMEN.

On Tuesday evening H. M. the Emperor who is at present at Hanover, received the American and German yachtsmen who took part in the race for special classes, and himself distributed the prizes. All the gentlemen, among them Messrs. Clarke, Howard, Stanckpole, R. Boardman, E. A. Boardman, Macomber, Tower, Bolles, Foster, Foster Jr., Claffin, besides the Naval Attaché Captain Howard, were invited to dine with the Emperor. At 9.30 a tattoo took place, performed by the massed bands of the X. Army Corps.

AMERICAN RAILWAY TARIFFS.

It is reported from Ashville, North Carolina, that Judge Pitchert of the District Court has issued an order whereby the Southern Railway Company can appeal to the Federal Court in the matter of the freight and passenger rates dictated to them by the State Commission, although the State legislature forbids such an appeal.

From Topeka we hear that the State Railway Commission has agreed to prescribe the two-cent passenger-tariff in Kansas.

GERMAN MILITARY BALLOONING.

The dirigible military air-ship and Major Parseval's dirigible motor air-ship made an ascent together on Tuesday afternoon. The former sailed to Spandau, returned after an hour, manoeuvred

Major Parseval's went straight to Tegel against a strong wind, sailed back and landed at the same time as the other air-ship, which had made a third ascent. The motors of both ships worked well and the vessels answered their helms. Landing took place smoothly.

BRAZILIAN WARSHIPS.

The Marine Insurance announces that the Brazilian Government has given orders for the construction of 3 battleships and two cruisers; the vessels will be built and fitted out by the firms of Armstrong and Vickers Maxim.

The same firms have been requisitioned to build and fit with engines two gunboats for Argentina.

PEACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA.

It is announced from Mexico that peace in Central America is now assured by the intervention of the United States and Mexico. The formal announcement will follow in a few days.

THE HAGUE CONFERENCE.

To yesterday's announcement of the statement made by the American Delegate Mr. Porter, respecting obligatory arbitration, it must be added that America's consent to obligatory arbitration was given with the express proviso that in every single case the agreement as to the summoning of the Arbitration Court requires the approval of the Senate. It is rumoured that a like proviso is made by nearly all Southern and Central American States.

THE FRENCH PRESS ON FRANCO-GERMAN RELATIONS.

In discussing the visit of M. Cambon to Prince Bülow at Norderney the Temps says that the charming reception accorded to M. Cambon shows that similar efforts have been made on both sides for improving the relations between the two countries, and that a noticeable détente has been entered upon simultaneously by the two Statesmen and the nations. After the recent Royal interviews this gives a new and serious pledge for the world's peace. The Temps adds that even if on either side of the frontier irreconcilable feelings worthy of all respect still endure, and cannot be extinguished, there is still room for agreement in many material questions. Public opinion in France will rejoice if other improvements follow the present one.

The Journal des Débats says: We dare not remain systematically sceptical if we do not wish to be considered naive; for a European détente now exists between Germany and France. The interview in Norderney after the other interviews is likely to give that necessary moral frame in concluding concrete agreements the utility of which can make itself felt between Germany and France.

THE MOROCCAN CRISIS.

FURTHER FIGHTING.

An encounter took place on Monday afternoon between a reconnoitring detachment of Spahis and the enemy who occupied a farm about 5 kilometres from the camp. The Spahis dismounted and opened fire, but were attacked by a troop of 500 Moroccans who had been hidden in the vicinity. The Spahis retired slowly to their camp. A company of the Foreign Legion and a company of African riflemen with two guns came as speedily as possible to their help. They received the Moroccans, who were following the Spahis, with volleys. The Moroccans took to flight but rallied at a distance of about 4,000 metres. They were preparing to make a fresh attack when the 75 mm guns dispersed them with considerable loss. The Moroccans then fled in the direction of Taddert.

Plunderers who attempted to force their way into Casablanca by night, were received with rifle fire.

On Monday a native who was preaching the holy war to the Algerian volunteers was arrested.

The French Consulate at Casablanca is connected with the camp by telephone.

THE HARBOURS QUIET.

A telegram to Paris from Admiral Philibert on Tuesday stated that the transport steamer "Nive" had finished unloading on Monday evening.

The political situation in all the harbour towns is quiet. Movements of hostile cavalry are reported from Casablanca. No resistance is offered to reconnoitring parties.

NEWS FROM FEZ.

It is reported from Fez that the proclamation of Muley Hafid as Sultan is known there, but no one dares to express his views on the subject.

It is also reported that Cabyles have surrounded Sebou and are demanding money, food and ammunition; otherwise they will raze the place to the ground.

A deputation of leading citizens from Larash proceeded to Saffi and Mogador on Saturday to beg Ma-el-Ainin to use his influence for the restoration of order in the South.

THE FRENCH PRESS ON THE CRISIS.

The Petit Parisien writes: We do not believe that the Government contemplates the eventuality of an alteration in the Algeiras Decrees, and are sure that it has started no kind of negotiation for this end, whatever may have been said about it.

The Petite République believes that with regard to the proclamation of Muley Hafid as Sultan, France will confine herself to pretending to take action, since she will not interfere in the domestic policy of Morocco.

The Matin announces from Casablanca: The proclamation of Muley Hafid is definitely confirmed. He has ordered the Moroccans not to attack the French at Casablanca before his arrival. He added that he was on the march with many troops and several guns.

The same journal states that the Spanish who are still in the town have placed a guard at the Marrakesh gate without having informed the French commander in charge of the defence of the town. General Drude has been informed of the incident.

THE FRENCH CABINET SUMMONED.

Yesterday's Cabinet Council over which M. Clémenceau was to preside, will be followed by another at Rambouillet on Saturday at which M. Fallières will be present. To the urgency of this meeting of the Cabinet is due the fact, that all Ministers away on their holidays have been ordered to return.

A SINISTER RUMOUR.

The London Tribune's correspondent in Tangier announces that a rumour is current that the Sultan Abdul Aziz has been murdered in his palace.

THE MOROCCAN POLICE.

The Chief Police Inspector for Morocco, Colonel Müller, has chosen as his aide-de-camp the cavalry Lieutenant Arthur de Pury from Neufchatel, who at present is Attaché to the Swiss Embassy in Washington. The Federal Council has approved this choice.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

The P. T. A. is authorized to state that the announcement in several journals that Russia by a special secret agreement has granted Japan new concessions in North Manchuria not provided for in the earlier treaties, among them the inclusion of the Sungari valley in the Japanese sphere of influence, lacks all foundation.

PERSIA AND TURKEY.

An Irade, issued in Constantinople on Monday, orders the withdrawal of all Turkish soldiers who have crossed the Persian frontier.

At the same time a Commission with the Vali of Bitlis at its head has been appointed to clear up the matter.

THE BOY WITH SIX SENSES.

The Christiania papers have lately been full of accounts of a "boy with six senses" i. e. a boy who quite unexpectedly finds himself endowed with the gift of second sight. The things accomplished by this boy are so inexplicable that even scientific experts are completely puzzled. The boy, whose name is John Flöttum, is the son of a workman and is at present 13 years old. Some months ago he was playing hide and seek with his companions and when he covered his eyes with his hands he suddenly became aware that though he could neither see nor hear his comrades he could mark in his mind's eye the way of each to his hiding place. Without making a single mistake he found them all at once. After he had told his companions all about it numerous opportunities were offered of proving his miraculous gift. At one time a cow, at another a dog, and at another a ring were lost. In each case the boy after hard thinking, with his eyes covered, was able to discover the whereabouts of the missing property. The ring had been buried by its owner deep in a field. When on July 26 a man disappeared, naturally enough John Flöttum was called upon to discover him, and he did so. He was summoned fully eight days after the man's disappearance. Early in the morning he looked round the house and examined a photograph of the missing man. After walking round the house several times he suddenly rushed inside and began to draw a primitive sketch, upon which appeared by degrees the road the man had taken when he vanished. As the boy drew he covered his eyes with his left hand. The vision ended with the missing man lying under a large tree near a river; here according to Flöttum he was to be found. Search was made with the drawing as guide and sure enough under the tree was the mark of someone having lain there and the missing man's handkerchief. Further search had to be abandoned owing to the fearful excitement of the boy. Hardly, however—it was by now evening—had he returned home than he declared that he could now say where the man was, and when next morning, acting on the boy's instructions they rowed to a certain place, the body of the man was found at the bottom of the river. The boy has now been taken to Christiania to locate a little girl that has vanished. The child has not been found, but by reason of some most remarkable observations which have escaped the boy, suspicion has fallen on a pair of gipsies, who may have kidnapped the girl. The boy says he can only find things in land, on the water he sees nothing; the gipsies, however, left Christiania in a large steamer. The boy's gift is hardly, strictly speaking, second sight, for that usually applies to reading the future not the past, but even though he may not claim to be a prophet, his appearance is most opportune in view of the recent death of the famous detective Pinkerton.

CURRENT TOPICS IN AMERICA.

(By letter dated August 14th, from our New York correspondent.)

THE TELEGRAPHISTS' STRIKE IN NEW YORK.

As is so often the case in strikes, the tyranny of the Union's methods and their utter disregard of other people has been most apparent in the telegraphists' strike. The Associated Press telegraph employes suddenly demanded an eight hours day and the men employed at night demanded a weekly wage of 30 dollars. Only 6 days work a week is to be required of them and other demands were made. The employes required an answer to their ultimatum by 7.30 on August 11th. The General Manager of the Associated Press informed them that he himself had not the authority to grant their demands; for that, since an increased annual expenditure of about 200,000 dollars was involved, the authority of the superintending council of the Associated Press would be necessary. This council consists of 15 members living in various parts of the country. It was impossible to summon them to a council in so short a time, but he, the General Manager would be quite prepared to lay the men's demands before the council. He explained the character of the Associated Press, which was a concern based on reciprocity and to the working expenses of which all newspapers belonging to it have to contribute. In spite of this at 8.30 on August 11 the employes went on strike. Up to that moment in full work, the telegraphic apparatus of the Associated Press, used for forwarding and receiving news, suddenly stopped "ticking"; some of the employes did not even finish the word they were just writing. Many of the operators joined the strike very unwillingly, they would far rather have kept the good positions they held. For about an hour the work of the Associated Press was more or less interrupted. Then some telegraphists who had not struck were obtained and about two hours later work was resumed in the New York head office.

THE AMERICAN NAVY.

In Washington naval circles the news that England is building a new battleship which, as regards tonnage and armament will put the "Dreadnought" quite in the shade, has caused great sensation. It is rumoured that this battleship will have a displacement of 30,000 tons as against the "Dreadnought's" 20,000, and will have three guns in each of her armoured turrets. Although this news is not officially confirmed it has already been suggested that America should at once lay down the keel of a 40,000 ton battleship. Such a ship could be built at a cost of 20 million dollars.

A NEW MULTI-MILLIONAIRE.

A new multi-millionaire has been discovered! In the quiet Glen Cove on Long Island lives Charles Elgar Appleby, an old man, whose name has recently obtained wide publicity by his discovery of one of the greatest forgery swindles of recent times. At the same time Appleby obtained wider fame as a millionaire 25 times over. He has amassed his fortune in perfect quietness, following the old methods. He lives in a past age and for his business transactions only rarely uses the telephone, without which any other financier in New York could hardly live a day. He was born in 1824. When he was 30 years old he devoted his attention to landed property. His first purchase was the plot of ground upon which stands the New York riding school. He only paid a few hundred dollars for it—that was 57 years ago! He made further purchases and has become a millionaire 25 times over. He still wears the "patricide" a collar which was the fashion half a century ago, and uses a red cotton handkerchief.

THE GERMAN-AMERICAN TARIFF COMMISSION NO. 2.

Officials of the State Department now declare that Congress at its next session will first occupy itself with the question of a reciprocity treaty with Germany, before the Government lays before it the commercial treaties with other countries, especially France. That means that the whole tariff question will be opened in the next Congress, for Congress will have to deal with the representations of the protectionist League, for whom the trifling concessions granted to Germany in the present agreement go much too far. They are especially opposed to the alterations effected by the Government in the customs administration system and to the recognition of the export price in levying duties. We may safely assume that heated debates on the tariff question will take place. At all events, in order to arm itself for all eventualities the Government has determined to send a second Commission to Europe which is to enquire into and collect material above all from German and French export trade, the trade, that is, of the two countries with which the Government desires to conclude a definitive customs treaty. The despatch of this Commission which will consist of the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. J. B. Reynolds, the General Appraisers, Messrs. Marion de Vries and Bryon S. Waite and which will probably leave America on September 15, is not to be regarded as a criticism of the first Commission but simply as a result of the opposition of the protectionists who are of the opinion that the acceptance of the export prices for wares destined chiefly for export may lead the exporters to fix that price at their own sweet will, and in their own interests.

WHO WHISTLED?

"Small causes, great results" is true of the telegraphists' strike in New York. The dismissal of an operator in Los Angeles which resulted in all the telegraphists belonging to the Union in Los Angeles quitting work, led to the present great strike. The demand that all non-Union men should be dismissed was followed by degress by other demands. In the whole strike, from its very commencement, the rage for striking among the younger elements of the telegraphists has been the predominant factor. So far as New York is concerned one may to a certain extent talk of a strike epidemic. The majority of the employes of the Western Union Company in New York, both male and female, left their apparatus the instant that the shrill tone of a whistle was sounded and many strikers, arm in arm with female colleagues, made their way laughing and singing down Broadway to the Bureau of the Postal Telegraph Company and waited there till their colleagues employed there came on strike too. Now there is a mystery to be cleared up. Who blew the whistle which gave the signal for the strike? The strikers do not know and the officials of the Union are equally ignorant. On the contrary, the latter were very much astonished when they heard that the New York telegraphists had also gone out on strike. It is true that the Union at once sanctioned the strike in New York. But many of the telegraphists have acted with criminal thoughtlessness. The older men were not at all in favour of the movement, they were forced, however, to cooperate and on doing so they hazarded the pension, allotted to all old employes of the two great telegraph companies.

"CONSUL" CAUSES A PANIC.

At Newport, where great rivalry rules amid the wives of the multi-millionaires—each one wishes to be the first to offer hospitality to the Crown Prince of Sweden who is shortly to pay a visit there—recently "Consul" was the hero of the day, a clever chimpanzee belonging to a travelling menagerie. In order to have a change a lady organised a meal at which the chimpanzee was the guest of honour. He sat up at table, showed the greatest intelligence and completely fascinated all present. Some days ago "Consul" came to New York and in company with his master was to pay a visit to the millionaire's son and murderer Harry Thaw, who lies in the Tombs prison awaiting his second trial. His owner had a card of admittance for himself and "friend"; as "friend" Consul was meant. The prison warden, however, thought the chimpanzee might alarm his prisoners and refused it admittance. An enormous crowd had assembled before the prison. Their shouting so upset "Consul" that he suddenly set on one of the warders and tore his ear. Enormous excitement arose among the crowd who had witnessed the incident and only the timely interference of the police prevented a panic. "Consul" and his master hastily drove off in an automobile.

A NEW SHIPPING CANAL.

The beginning of next year is to see the commencement of the great shipping canal from Lake Erie to the river Ohio. It will be a work of the greatest possible importance to the coal and iron industry. After the completion of this water-way it will be possible for ships to bring iron on direct from Lake Superior to the smelting furnaces in the Pittsburg district and coal from West Pennsylvania to the harbours of the Upper Lakes. For many years it has been the dream of iron and coal mine owners to construct an unbroken water-way between the North West and the coal zone. It will take about 6 years before, at a cost of not less than 75 million dollars, the canal is finished. It will be 133 miles long, 177 ft. broad and 13 ft. deep. A special kind of boats will be constructed for this traffic. The canal will, as far as possible, follow the natural water-ways.

THE OIL KING.

John D. Rockefeller, the Oil king, has many a long year before him, according to his doctor's estimate he will live another 25 years although he is already 65. Longevity in the Rockefeller family is most remarkable. The father of the Oil King is 94 and is hale and hearty. As his doctor states,

Rockefeller was born twice. His second life began in 1893. In consequence of over-work he was a mental and physical wreck. He had absolutely no appetite, his nervous system had quite broken down. Then he broke loose from all business and lived as much as possible in the open air, devoting himself especially to golf. He now became as hale as a young man and people who have seen him playing golf, say he jumps about like a 14 year old. His cure has cost him 5,000,000 dollars, that is, he lost this sum by remaining away altogether from business. But, as his doctor assures people, Mr. Rockefeller does not regret sacrificing 5 millions. Even now he is devoting himself to golf, while round him is raging the battle against the Standard Oil Company, his creation. The embittered feeling against the Oil Trust, the most hated of all the Trusts, is also directed against Rockefeller personally. And how deep-seated this bitterness is, may be judged from the fact that many people hope it may be possible to take criminal proceedings against him for the breaches of the law by the Company.

Meanwhile things look black for the Oil Trust. If, as is announced from Washington, all the District-Federal judges who are busied with the Standard Oil Company or its subordinate Companies proceed against the Petroleum Trust with the same severity as Federal judge Landis of Chicago, there is a prospect of the Standard Oil Co. having to pay Uncle Sam more than 114 million dollars in fines. Charges against this gigantic Trust for breaches of the Federal Law in the matter of unclean competition, and acceptance of freight rebates from railways have been made by the grand juries of the following districts:

In the Western district of New York: 146 charges against the Vacuum Oil Co., 23 against the Standard Oil Co.

In the Western district of Louisiana: 32 charges against the Waters Pierce Oil Co.

In E. Missouri: 76 charges against the Waters Pierce Oil Co.

In W. Tennessee: 1,524 charges against the Standard Oil Co.

In N. Illinois: 6,399 charges against the Standard Oil Co.

LOCAL.

The Winter (Variety) Season at the Central Theatre begins on Saturday evening at 8 p. m.

The Crou of the entertainment will be, without doubt, the International Wrestling Contests for the Gold belt of Dresden and 5,000 marks in cash. Besides those competitors, whose names have already been announced, Albert Sturm, the well-known Berlin champion has sent in his name.

It goes without saying that the rest of the programme will be first as befits the reputation of the theatre.

Mention must first be made of the famous bicyclists John and Louis Boller. The two brothers will, among other tricks, perform their forward somersault on a bicycle, a feat not seen before in Dresden. The English Dance and Song Ensemble, the Sisters Julian, 5 charming young ladies, will doubtless sing and dance their way into the hearts of the audience. As a humourist Herr Walter Steiner, the most refined of variety artists, has been engaged. Great pleasure will be given by the "Schützenliedert" the well-known Lady Song-quartet. The Bavarian Peasant trio will, as they did two years ago, hit the mark with their screamingly funny songs. Further, we must mention Payne, the gymnastic automatic Pierrot, introduced by Mdlla. Lucie. The two real Chinese Princesses Tehong Say and Tchong Tsien enjoy a great reputation as equilibrists and contortionists. Each performance will conclude with an exhibition of living pictures on the biograph.

Every Sunday there will be two performances: at 3.30, at reduced prices, and at 8 at ordinary prices. At both all the artists without exception will appear.

The programme of this evening's orchestral concert at the Royal Belvedere, will be as follows:— (1) March, "Deutschland zur See", Fétras; (2) Overture, "Martha", Flotow; (3) Serenade, for strings, Pierné; (4) Waltz, "Myrtenblüten", Strauss; (5) Overture, "Parsifal", Wagner; (6) Otello Fantasia, for violin, Ernst; (7) Tonbilder, "William Tell", Rossini; (8) Grand Polonaise in E, Liszt; (9) Vorspiel, "König Manfred", Reinecke; (10) "Einzug der Bojaren", Hallvorsen; (11) Selma Mazurka, Trenkler.

PLOT. Oberon has quarrelled with Titania, and they have vowed not to be reconciled until they find a pair of lovers faithful in adversity. Oberon's servant Puck, wandering to find what his master needs, hears of Hüon of Bordeaux who, having slain Charlemagne's son in a duel, has been ordered to go to Bagdad to slay the favourite sitting on the Caliph's left and to wed the Caliph's daughter, Rezia. Puck makes Hüon and Rezia see each other in a vision and fall in love with each other. Oberon gives the former a magic horn and to his esquire, Scherasmin, a magic cup. Rezia is to marry Babekan, but she has hated him ever since she saw Hüon in her dream. Fatima, her maid, hears of Hüon's arrival in Bagdad. At the beginning of the second act the Caliph is about to celebrate his daughter's nuptials, but Hüon, recognising Rezia as the maiden of his dream, kills Babekan. The Turks attack him, but Scherasmin remembers the horn in time and on his blowing it, Oberon transports the lovers to the sea shore where, together with Scherasmin and Fatima, they embark on a ship. Oberon, to make trial of their mutual love in adversity, bids Puck raise the spirits of the storm. They are shipwrecked. Rezia is captured by pirates and Hüon, attempting to rescue her, is wounded and left senseless on the beach. Scherasmin and Fatima are sold as slaves to the Emir of Tunis. Hüon has been thrown into a magic sleep by Oberon and, on waking after seven days, finds himself in the Emir's garden. Fatima discovers that Rezia is in the Emir's harem. Hüon receives a message bidding him come to the myrtle tower at night, but is horrified to find the lady who meets him is Roschana, the Emir's wife, who has fallen in love with him. The Emir discovers the pair and orders Hüon to be burnt and Roschana to be drowned. Rezia begs for Hüon's life, but the Emir will not listen and orders her to be burnt with her lover. Scherasmin is in despair, but finding the horn, blows it and all the Emir's slaves find themselves compelled to dance to its strains. Oberon appears with his reconciled wife Titania, and conveys the lovers to Paris, where Charlemagne welcomes Sir Hüon and his bride.

ABSENT MINDED PROFESSORS.

Apropos of Professor Mouchot, the French savant who was on the point of allowing his belongings to be sold up in peaceful oblivion of the fact that he had been granted a Government pension, the Paris correspondent of a contemporary points out that it is hardly surprising that savants should frequently be guilty of distraction and forgetfulness. They live in the clouds, they are nearly always absorbed by some problem or calculation; and it is generally believed that that was the reason why the late Professor Curie, the great authority on radium, was run over in the street and killed by a passing cart. He was deep in some chemical speculation instead of watching where he was going, and in a moment of inattention he slipped and fell beneath the wheels of a heavy dray. It is told of the eminent scientist Ampère that one day, when he was walking along the street, absorbed in seeking the solution to a problem which had been occupying his attention for a long time, he saw before him a water-cart. Taking a piece of chalk from his pocket, he commenced to cover the end of the barrel with figures. The cart moved off, and the professor walked after it, still making his calculations, until a sudden cold douche brought him to his senses. After his election to the Institute of France, Ampère was invited to a grand dinner at the house of M. de Fontanes, Grand Master of the University. Some of his acquaintances had played a joke on Ampère by persuading him that he ought to go in his uniform as an Academician. On arriving at the residence of M. de Fontanes, the savant was embarrassed to find that he was the only one in uniform. He felt so ridiculous that he determined at least to rid himself of his sword, which kept getting between his legs. So he took it off, and, slipping over to a sofa, placed it behind some cushions. Dinner was served, and the old gentleman began to talk to his neighbours and gradually to regain his self-possession. But when the guests rose from the table, Ampère, a prey to some calculations which suddenly came into his head, walked over to the fireplace, and, losing sight of his fellow-guests, remained there unconscious of everything except the questions he was working out. He did not notice that everybody except himself had gone, and that he and Mdme. de Fontanes were the only occupants of the salon. Finally the savant finished his reverie, and remembered that his sword was hidden behind the cushions of the sofa. But when he went to regain possession of it, he found that Mdme. de Fontanes had fallen asleep on the sofa. As he did not wish to disturb her, the old professor dropped on his knees beside her, and, putting his hand behind her back, reached the handle of his sword, and commenced to draw it towards him. As bad luck would have it, the sword came away and left the scabbard, and in his disappointment Ampère gave vent to a profound sigh of despair. At that moment Mdme. de Fontanes awoke, and, seeing a man at her feet, armed with a naked sword, commenced to shriek for help. The servants rushed in, accompanied by M. de Fontanes in his dressing-gown and nightcap. Everything was soon explained, and Ampère's adventure caused much laughter; but the old professor went away covered in confusion.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

The Houses rose yesterday. In the Speech from the Throne, mention is first made of the visits of the King and Queen of Denmark, and of Prince Fushimi of Japan, and England's relations with the Powers are described as lastingly friendly. The Government was animated by the wish to contribute in every way to the maintenance of peace, as was evidenced by the agreement with the Spanish Government with reference to the mutual interests in the Mediterranean, and by the fact of a British representative having been nominated for the Hague Conference. The Speech then alludes to the measures taken for the amelioration of the Administration of India, and makes mention of the recent Colonial Conference, the introduction of self-government into the Transvaal and the naval revue which had left a deep impression owing to the excellence of the ships' condition and the splendid bearing of the crews. The Speech continues by alluding to the successful organisation of the home forces, and concludes by giving a survey of the legislative proposals which have become law during the session.

Sofia, August 28. On the occasion of the Prince's jubilee today the German Consul General presented the congratulations of the Kaiser and of the Imperial Government. The Kaiser also sent a telegram direct to His Royal Highness.

Calcutta, August 28. During the hearing of the case against two "national volunteers" who had been arrested for assaulting the police at a boycott anniversary gathering, a great tumult was created by a number of students. They were turned out into the street, where a fresh collision with the police occurred. Ultimately the students were dispersed by mounted police.

Calcutta, August 28. Five "national volunteers" at Chandpur threw the civilian surgeon Comilla into the river. The doctor narrowly escaped drowning.

St. John, Newfoundland, August 28. The German cruiser "Bremen", which has been visiting the Esquimaux coast, has returned Southwards and passed thro the Belle Isle straits on her way to Montreal.

Paris, August 28. It is reported from Fez that the Sultan is not in a position to undertake the intended journey to Rabat, as the unruly tribes on the road leading to that place have banded together to bar the way against him. The Sultan has ordered 2,000 mounted men to Sfu, a town six hours distant from Fez, which was besieged by two united Berber tribes. The Shereefian troops have suffered a loss of 20 men in attempting to collect taxes in the district of the Zrana tribe.

Paris, August 28. According to a newspaper announcement today's Cabinet Council came to a conclusion as to the personnel of the police to be organised in Rabat, Mazagan and Mogador. Since the natives in Morocco are not to be trusted, French officers and non-commissioned officers are to be drawn for these posts from Tunis and Casablanca; 150 Spahis destined for Casablanca have arrived in Oran.

Constantinople, August 28. The Porte yesterday handed to the Persian Embassy a Note in connection with the Irade already published. It is short and merely contains the names of the Turkish members of the joint Committee of Enquiry into the Turco-Persian frontier dispute. Besides the Vali of Bitlis and the Mutessarif of Kerkuk, the counsellor of the Cour de Cassation, Emin Bey, a Brigadier General and a Colonel are nominated to the Commission.

The Persian Ambassador did not regard the Turkish Note as satisfactory especially as it contained no statement as to the withdrawal of Turkish troops, and he has today taken fresh steps with the Minister of the Exterior and the Yildiz.

Paris, August 28. The Prime Minister M. Clémenceau expressly refused to make known any details with respect to the deliberations of the Cabinet Council held today. In reply to numerous questions asked by journalists at the close of the sitting M. Clémenceau confined himself to the following statement: "We have examined the Moroccan question as a whole and in all its details. What is worth knowing is that perfect agreement was reached, and that that result was attained without the slightest difficulty." Thereupon the reporters asked whether reinforcements were to be sent to General Drude. M. Clémenceau answered that more had been given to General Drude than he asked for. He, the Premier, had during his stay at Karlsbad and purely on his own initiative advised the Minister of War to send a battery of Artillery to Casablanca. "But," added M. Clémenceau, "General Drude will receive all the troops that he will require for carrying out his orders." M. Clémenceau further stated that the Government had put several questions to General Drude. "We expect his answer at any moment," said the Minister, "and it is possible that we may receive it in the course of today."
