GENERAL NEWS.

NEWS FROM ENGLAND.

THE IMPRISONED AMAZONS.

(From our own correspondent.)

London, October 29.

Members of Parliament who sympathise with the female suffrage movement are exerting themselves on behalf of the ladies who were recently sent to Holloway Prison for various terms. In the House of Commons yesterday evening the Home Secretary was asked whether he would consider the possibility of treating three of the imprisoned ladies, Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Pankhurst, and Miss Pankhurst, as first-class misdemeanants. The plea was supported by such members as Mr. Keir Hardie and Mr. William Redmond, who are always to be found in the front rank of agitators for one form of faddism or another. Mr. Gladstone declared his inability to interfere with the magistrate's decision in this case, and during the ensuing debate the Suffragettes' champions were reminded that it lay in the power of the ladies themselves to secure their instant release merely by giving recognisances of future good behaviour. In the end the Home Secretary flatly declined to accede to the demand of Mr. Keir Hardie that the prisoners should be removed into the first class, a statement which was received with applause.

The Suffragettes attracted considerable attention in the West End yesterday by their novel manner of advertising their Albert Hall meeting this evening. About eleven o'clock an interesting procession left the offices of the Union at Clement's Inn. Miss Maude Joachim, the niece of the late Dr. Joachim, volunteered to further the cause on horseback. Placards were hung from the cruppers bearing the inscription: "Why the Pankhursts are in Holloway. Come to the Albert Hall, Thursday, at eight." As the lady rode up the Strand on her black and bay steed she created considerable stir. She rode some ten miles in all, and at least succeeded in arousing great interest in the meeting this evening.

THE CITY OF LONDON AND THE GERMAN EMPEROR.

London, October 30.

In his speech of farewell to the City Council yesterday, on the occasion of his retirement from office, the Lord Mayor of London remarked that he looked upon the visit of the German Emperor to the metropolis last November as one of the most memorable events which had occurred during his term of office. He noted with satisfaction that, in a recently published interview, His Majesty had recalled and repeated the assertion made on that occasion that his dearest desire was to live on terms of good friendship with England. Loud applause greeted the Lord Mayor's speech.

NEWS FROM AMERICA.

MR. ROOSEVELT AND KING EDWARD.

Washington, October 28.

King Edward sent the following telegram to President Roosevelt yesterday:—"I request you to accept my cordial congratulations on the occasion of your birthday, together with my best wishes for your welfare and prosperity." President Roosevelt was 50 yesterday.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

New York, October 29.

A bellicose lecture was delivered at San Francisco on Tuesday evening by Mr. R. P. Hobson, the well-known naval constructor of "Merrimac" fame. Mr. Hobson, who is an ardent apostle of naval expansion, cautioned his hearers against being lulled into a state of false security by the recent exchange of courtesies between the United States and Japan, and proceeded to contend that the latter country had in no way modified the attitude she had seen fit to take up against this country. "The greeting which she gave our battleships last week," said Mr. Hobson, "was only a ruse." This, of course, is by no means the first speech that the hero of Santiago Harbour has made to the same effect. Though a Democratic Congressman, he is strongly in favour of Mr. Roosevelt's naval programme, and of the maintenance of a permanent fleet in the Pacific. It is interesting to note that he describes himself as "an advocate of American leadership in the international movement for peace."

IN MEMORY OF BARON STERNBURG.

Washington, October 30.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the Diplomatic Corps, many high officials of the State Department, Cabinet, and other Government offices, besides representatives of the Army and Navy, took part in a service held yesterday in the German Evangelical Church here in memory of the late German Ambassador, Baron Speck von Sternburg. The Rev. Menzel and the Rev. Roland Smith delivered addresses eulogising the late Ambassador as a man and a diplomatist.

THE CRISIS IN THE BALKANS.

RUSSIAN MINISTER MOLESTED.

Belgrade, October 28.

The Russian Minister, M. Sergeieff, while returning last night from Semlin, on the Hungarian frontier, whither he had gone to meet his wife, who was coming from Vienna, was roughly molested by the Austro-Hungarian frontier police, who ransacked his baggage.

68,000 TROOPS ON THE FRONTIER.

Paris, October 28.

A telegram from Rome to the Petit Journal states that according to the members of the Montenegrin mission which arrived in the Italian capital on Sunday, the Austrians have massed 68,000 men at the Bocche di Cattaro, on the frontier of Herzegovina and Montenegro, and the Austrian officers and officials have sent their wives and families away to Fiume and Zara out of danger.

By order of the authorities Montenegrin troops with guns are occupying frontier posts.

DRESDEN MUSIC AND ART NOTICES.

At the Central Theatre today (Reformation Day) there will be two performances. At 3.30 p.m., the Christmas play "Peter und Paul reisen ins Schlaraffenland" will be performed for the first time, at reduced prices. In the evening, at 8 o'clock, the sisters Wiesenthal will appear for the third time and the last performance of the October variety programme will take place. The prices in the evening are somewhat higher than usual.

Tomorrow the Christmas play will be repeated in the afternoon. In the evening the November variety programme—which includes a burlesque pantomime, "Susanna im Bade," Oriental dances by Mlle. d'Ertelle, and a one-act operetta, "Die süßen Grisetten"—will be produced. The ticket office will be open all day from 11 o'clock on both days.

A performance of sacred music will be rendered in the Roman Catholic part of the Garrison Church, Neustadt, on Sunday, November 29, at 3.30 p.m.

The I. chamber music concert of the Bachmann Trio—Herren Bachmann, Bärtich, and Stenz—will take place on Saturday evening next, at 7.30, at the Neustädter Casino, with the assistance of Herr Rokohl (viola). The programme will contain Schumann's quartet in E-flat, op. 47; Beethoven's trio in C-minor op. 103; and Brahms' quartet in G-minor op. 25. Tickets from H. Bock, Prager Strasse 9.

The Photographische Gesellschaft, an art publishing society in Berlin founded in 1862, has made arrangements which will render the large number of select works of art which the society has published accessible to the public on favourable terms. Yearly subscribers of 20 marks will receive really good examples of coloured facsimile engravings, photo-gravure and carbon reproductions. The artists represented will include Dürer, van Dyck, Gainsborough, Holbein, Filippo Lippi, Murillo, Raphael, Rembrandt, Reynolds, Feuerbach, Gebhardt, Klinger, Knaus, Leibl, Menzel, Thoma, Uhde, Leistikow, and Tadema. A handsome illustrated catalogue of the 70 works from which a choice can be made may be obtained from Emil Richter, Prager Strasse, the Dresden agent of the society, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of a written application. A complete collection of the year's productions by the society may be seen at the same establishment. (Continued on page 4.)

BERLIN

The cremation of the remains of Mr. McFarland, whose tragic death occurred on Saturday last, took place on Tuesday at the Crematorium of Hamburg. The service, which was a very impressive one, was led by the Presbyterian Minister; handsome flowers and wreaths were sent by Hamburg friends, and kindness was shown from all sides to the widow and her daughter. Among those attending the service were Dr. Pitcairn, Consul General; Mr. Mummenhoff, Vice Consul-General; and Mr. and Mrs. Couchmann. Mrs. and Miss McFarland sailed last Thursday, October 29 on the "Kaiserin Augusta Victoria," taking with them the ashes.

The late Consul-General at large was born at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, in 1858. He was appointed Consul at Nottingham, England, on January 7, 1899; and was transferred to Reichenberg on June 11, 1902. He was appointed Consul-General at St. Gall on March 30, 1907, and finally Consul-General at large on June 10, 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodkinson, of Kneesebeck Strasse, last night entertained a number of friends at dinner, including Mr. A. M. Thackara, Consul-General, and Mrs. Thackara, Mrs. Alexander Thackara, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Putnam-Griswold, and Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan.

Mrs. McFadden, of Bamberger Strasse 46, gives a lunch today to a number of young ladies to meet her niece, Miss Claire Biqelin, who arrived here a short time ago and will spend the winter in Berlin.

Last Saturday Mrs. A. M. Thackara gave an afternoon tea, to which many ladies who might possibly be interested in the formation of dancing classes, had been invited. Many plans were discussed with Miss Brigham who, in a beautiful national costume, gave several dances. Among the invited were Mrs. and Miss Montgomery, Mrs. Wilkie, Mrs. Ollesheimer, Mrs. and Miss Stephens from Detroit, and last, but not least, Miss Elsie Playfair, the celebrated violinist from Australia. Miss Playfair delighted the guests with Max Bruch's "Schottische Phantasie," and distinguished herself by the warmth of feeling and expression in her play. She was accompanied by Mr. Minor Gallup, who will also tour with her in Europe and America this season.

Dr. Hermann Brause, assisted by Professor Robert Kahn, on Wednesday gave his first song and ballad recital at the Singakademie, before a fair audience. Dr. Brause has a well trained and sympathetic voice, but his dramatic powers are undeveloped and need further training. The indulgent audience accorded hearty applause, however.

Professor Adler, although a comparatively new arrival in Berlin, occupies already a very prominent place in the American colony, and his eloquent speech at the Anglo-American Medical banquet the other night has gained for him the esteem of everybody who had the privilege of listening to it or reading the account in these columns. It will therefore be of interest to many to read the following biographical sketch: Professor Felix Adler, the third Roosevelt Professor at the University of Berlin, has been for over thirty years an influential figure in the world of educational, social, and political reform of New York city. Educated in the public schools of New York and graduating from Columbia University at the age of 19, in 1870, he came to Germany, and, after a stay of three years, received the degree of Ph. D. at Heidelberg. On his return home he was made Professor at Cornell University, filling the chair of Oriental Language and Literature. In 1876 he exchanged his quiet college life for a busy public career in New York. As leader and lecturer of the society for Ethical Culture he has represented the most advanced thought of the day in educational, economic, and political problems, but his attitude has been absolutely conservative in regard to the home and the family. In the philanthropic field the Society has led the way to the introduction of the first free kindergarten institution in New York, of the first trained nursing organization among the poor, of manual training in the schools, of special instruction for crippled children, etc., this being only a fraction of the pioneer work it has accomplished. Professor Adler as member of the first Tenement House Commission was one of those who succeeded in effecting so great an improvement in the condition of the tenement inhabitants of New York. Interested for years in all educational and charitable work relating to children, he has during the past five years given special attention to the task of combating the evil of child labour, which in the industrial sections of the country, especially in the South, has been growing to large proportions. The National Child Labour Committee, of which he is chairman, introduced preventive legislation and has succeeded in a large measure in modifying the evil conditions.

In politics, Professor Adler is numbered among the Independents, and he has been especially prominent in municipal reform movements, having been one of the "Committee of Fifteen" and of other reform organizations. In 1902 he was appointed Professor of Social and Political Ethics at Columbia University, while still continuing his public platform work. As Roosevelt Professor he represents the University at which he has been student and Professor, his particular subject being American ideals and their influence on the political and social development of the United States.

Mrs. and Miss Stephens, of Detroit, at the Hotel Adlon on Tuesday entertained at lunch Mrs. A. M. Thackara and her two daughters, and Mrs. Alexander Thackara, Jr., on which occasion the ladies had a chance to see the Empress, who paid a visit to the Hotel and who most cordially acknowledged the greetings of the party. Afterwards the ladies were joined by Dr. Hill, who invited them to join him at coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, of Chicago, arrived in Berlin on Sunday and are staying at the Hotel Bristol, where Mrs. Palmer is unfortunately laid up with the influenza.

The Harvard Club of Berlin, which is composed of former Harvard students, and has a membership roll of about 15, will hold its monthly meeting and supper on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Kaiser-Keller in Friedrich Strasse.

Mrs. Henssenberg at her residence, Kurfürsten Strasse 128, on Thursday entertained a few friends at tea.

Eugen Bachmann Master of German elocution

Tempelherren Strasse 17/IV.

The Presidential election campaign in America will be the chief topic of interest next week, and nowhere is such interest displayed in the probabilities of the campaign as amongst the American colonists of Berlin. Elections, however, Presidential and otherwise, pass and are forgotten in an incredibly brief space of time, as other important events spring up in their turn. But there is one thing in Berlin which remains as fixed and immutable as the laws of the Medes and Persians. We refer, of course, to the standard of quality maintained at Steinert's Weinstube, in the Kurfürstendamm, a standard which is based on the sound principle of the maximum of value at the minimum of price.

MUSIC AND ART NOTICES.

At the Ehrlich School of Music (under the direction of Herr Paul Lehmann-Osten) the first performance by the pupils will take place in the rooms of the school, Walpurgis Strasse 18, I., on Tuesday evening next, November 3. Two of the teachers—Frau Goerisch-Medefind (recitation) and Fr. Grieshammer (pianoforte)—will assist at the concert. The programme will include modern as well as classic compositions, for the voice, pianoforte, and violin; and the arrangements for the evening include the public awards by the Director of prizes and certificates of merit to 86 pupils. Cards of admission may be obtained on application to the Secretary at the above address.

At the art-gallery of Emil Richter, Prager Strasse, a portrait of King Friedrich August, painted by Georg Meckes, is being exhibited for a few days. The picture represents his Majesty in the uniform of his battalion of Marines at Kiel, to which the portrait is to be presented.
