PROTECTION v. POCKET-BOOK.

We have been favoured with the following communication:—

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY RECORD.

Marshall Field & Company,
Chemnitz.

Dear Sir,

Referring to the article "Protection versus Pocket Book" I am surprised that you should publish in your paper such a silly, blatant and incorrect article. Marshall Field & Co. have no foreign glove factory and have no money invested in any, and other statements are on a par with this. If you want to educate, give facts. If you don't care about that part, continue to encourage your breezy correspondent to make statements about things of which he appears to have no knowledge in fact. Such Americans should take up their permanent abode outside of the borders of the United States, because they are not worthy of the citizenship of a country which contains as many noble, and as high-minded men as any country on which the sun shines.

Yours truly,

Wm. J. Watson,
British-American.

Chemnitz, August 20th, 1909.

We accept Mr. Watson's correction on the one item mentioned, but we would point out to him that his letter contains little else calculated to throw doubt upon the statements made by our correspondent relative to the devious methods of the American Trusts. Abuse is certainly not argument. We would also point out that while it is permissible to criticise a letter or an article appearing in a newspaper, strong exception must be taken to criticism of the editorship of that paper. Because a letter or an article is published by the editor of a journal, it does not follow that the opinions voiced therein are those of the editor. We should have thought it unnecessary to emphasise that most elementary principle of newspaper correspondence.

We are not quite able to grasp why the fact of our correspondent having written an article that may have injured the delicate susceptibilities of Trust supporters should disqualify him for American citizenship. The writer of the above letter probably knows as well as we do that the abuses briefly sketched by our correspondent exist beyond all doubt, and that they are a source of grave anxiety to such men as Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft. In fact, the whole policy of Mr. Roosevelt while in office bore an anti-Trust character, and his attitude in the matter was heartily supported by the vast majority of thoughtful American citizens, who perceive the danger to their country and are not afraid to face it.

The nobility or high-mindedness of Americans was never brought into question by our correspondent who, it may be as well to say, is a native-born American himself. To paraphrase the last sentence of Mr. Watson's communication:—Americans who are fully aware of the Trust evil and its consequences if unchecked, and who still persist in closing their eyes and burying their heads in the sand, are not worthy of the citizenship of a country which contains as many noble, and as high-minded men as any country on which the sun shines. —The Editor.

TOPICS OF INTEREST.

ANOTHER MAURETANIA TRIUMPH.

A cable despatch to the Berliner Tageblatt from New York reports that the Cunard liner Mauretania has made an entirely new record for the Transatlantic trip. Following the shortest, or summer, route, the vessel crossed from England in 4 days 14 hours and 38 minutes, or 22 minutes less than the best passage of her sister-ship, the Lusitania. By this achievement the Mauretania has broken all previous records for both the western and eastern passages.

DANGEROUS NAVY COAL.

According to all accounts, the recent discoveries of explosives in coal destined for use in British warships is greatly agitating the British naval authorities. As we reported yesterday, the armoured cruiser Duke of Edinburgh was the scene of the last discovery, which consisted of four packages of dynamite distributed among the coal brought alongside. The great majority of coal for naval purposes comes from Wales, and is loaded at Penarth, near Cardiff. It is not impossible that the explosive is in reality blasting-powder used in the pits, which may have accidentally got among the coal; but as no fewer than four separate discoveries have been made within a few days, the theory of accident is discredited. It is estimated that these occurrences placed the life of 3,300 officers and men in jeopardy, because, had the stuff exploded, it would have blown the bottom out of the most powerful ironclad. A searching investigation has been set afoot, and all coal recently taken aboard at Portsmouth and Sheerness will be carefully examined before use.

ALFONSO THE BEARDED.

The Press Agency reports from Madrid that when King Alfonso arrived at San Sebastian on his recent visit to his consort, the Queen and her suite were astounded at his appearance. He had, it seems, taken the opportunity to adorn his face with a full beard, which struck terror into the hearts of all observers. The sudden appearance of His Majesty in this altered guise so embarrassed the ladies and gentlemen of the Court that they had great difficulty in suppressing their mirth. The shock was all the greater because the King had also had his hair cut very short.

CHINA AND JAPAN MAKE FRIENDS.

A memorandum has now been signed at Mukden by the Chinese and Japanese representatives whereby the Antung-Mukden railway dispute is practically settled. It states in effect that China withdraws all objection to the extension and improvement of the line, and a copy of the memorandum will be despatched to the Powers interested.

THE BLACK HAND IN AMERICA.

The two detectives who were despatched from America to Sicily and Italy to investigate the murder of Lieutenant Petrosino at Palermo by members of the "Black Hand" have now returned to New York and resumed their search for the confederates of the assassin. Inspector Baker has made a statement to the effect that the two officers have brought with them from Italy much valuable information respecting the organisation of the "Black Hand" in the States. They also arrived at an agreement with the Italian police, which should prove very advantageous for future cases. The Italian police will advise the American authorities every time a known Italian criminal emigrates to the States. It is further reported that the New York police have now an exact knowledge of the identity of Petrosino's murderers, and that in consequence of their enquiries a number of suspected Italians will be forthwith deported from America.

AMERICAN SHIPPING DISASTER.

A New York cable reports the sinking of the American fishing schooner Orinoco, some 22 miles distant from Halifax, Nova Scotia. Eleven members of the crew of 17 hands lost their lives.

DRASTIC LAW IN ARKANSAS.

The Frankfurter Zeitung reports from New York that the State of Arkansas has issued a decree prohibiting sixty fire insurance companies from carrying on business in that State, because the companies in question have formed a rate agreement between themselves.

THE RUSSO-GERMAN BALLOON INCIDENT.

We are informed from Berlin that an investigation of the envelope of the balloon Tschudi has been undertaken for the purpose of ascertaining whether the balloon was really struck by bullets. It has been found that a rifle bullet pierced the envelope and passed out and that the shot must have been fired by the Russians while the balloon was fully inflated and still over German territory. The investigation will continue in the presence of military experts.

THE KING OF ITALY AS ARBITRATOR.

A Rome despatch says that the Governments of France and Mexico recently approached the King of Italy and requested him to decide a dispute as to the sovereignty of the island of Clipperton, to which claim is laid by both Governments. The King has now accepted this office, and his Ministers will investigate the affair.

THE KING OF BULGARIA.

The Turkish Government has officially decided to recognise the title of "King of Bulgaria" as applied to King Ferdinand.

HEALTH OF THE NEGUS.

Mr. James B. Townsend, who represents the American Ambassadors' Association, has been staying in Berlin at the Hotel Adlon for a week.

Mr. Townsend has specially come to Europe to observe and study the conditions of the Embassy buildings and consulates of the various capitals. He left on Friday night for Copenhagen, en route for Sweden, and will return in some little time in order to proceed to Vienna, Buda Pest, and Constantinople.

Two important educators—Professor Logan MacPherson, of the Johns Hopkins University, and Professor E. R. Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania—have come to Berlin with the Waterways Commission to act in an advisory capacity to the Commission.

Colonel William H. Bixby, U.S.A., and Major Mahan, of the U.S. Engineering Corps, are also in Berlin with the same Commission, staying at the Hotel Adlon.

Major Mahan has for some time resided in Paris, but was specially detailed for service with the Commission as an expert on engineering problems.

On Thursday noon the American Association of Commerce and Trade, of Berlin, gave an informal midday reception to the members of the Waterways Commission at the Association's offices, Equitable Building.

Ambassador Hill, Consul-General Thackara, Vice-Consul Dorman, and Mr. Goldsmith were present. The members of the Commission stayed about an hour chatting with the officers and members of the Association.

In the afternoon the Waterways Commission visited the Teltow Canal on one of the municipal launches to inspect the canal and its workings. Geheimrat Sieben, the director of the canal, pointed out the various items of specific interest and skill, and his wife, Frau Geheimrat Sieben, and two daughters assisted in entertaining the members.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Scholle, and Mr. and Mrs. Shurtle, of the U.S. Embassy, Mrs. Cassidy, and Miss Thackara.

The members of the Waterways Commission propose making a trip on the canals in connection with the river Elbe, near Magdeburg, and probably will leave for Dresden on Sunday night or Monday morning.

Mr. Frederick Stock, the director of the Chicago Orchestra, and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wessels have arrived in Berlin. Mr. Stock hopes to go on to Munich.

Mrs. Daniels Sutro, of New York, will arrive in Berlin in a day or so by motor from Bayreuth—where she has been attending the festival performances—to visit her brother, Secretary Scholle, of the American Embassy.

Mr. D. M. Delmas, the well known attorney of New York, is registered at Hotel Adlon.

THE CRETAN CRISIS.

SITUATION LESS GRAVE.

London, August 20.

Reuter learns that the Collective Note addressed to Turkey by the Powers contains nothing that is peremptory either in the wording or the matter. It expresses regret that Turkey had not left the settlement of Cretan affairs in the hands of the Powers who had shown every disposition to protect Turkish interests on the island. With respect to Macedonia, the Note suggests that, in the interests of peace, the best way would be for Turkey to appeal to the Powers signatory to the treaty of Berlin, before whom all her complaints might be laid.

Canea, August 20.

The Cretan Government received a telegram from Candia last night that quiet had been restored there through the intervention of the Metropolitan. The people had themselves hauled down the Grecian flag and handed it over to the Gendarmerie authorities.

Constantinople, August 20.

The situation in Crete is considered in influential circles here to be satisfactory, the action of the Powers having relieved the tension on the island. The Porte regards the hauling down of the Grecian flag and the promise that it shall not be hoisted again as a guarantee that the Powers will preserve Turkey's suzerainty over Crete. That was a point of vital interest to Turkey, who had never wished for war but only to defend her rights. In view of the turn affairs have taken, the importance for the Turkish Government of the answer of Greece is declared to be secondary, though, speaking generally, the Note answers expectations.

TOPICS OF INTEREST.

SPANIARDS KILL MANY MOORS.

The Spanish artillery at Melilla bombarded the Moorish positions on Friday, and was supported by the guns of the warships. The tribesmen lost many killed and wounded.

KING EDWARD VISITS CARLSBAD.

King Edward arrived at Carlsbad by automobile on Friday afternoon as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, and was entertained at lunch in the Savoy Westend Hotel. The Marquis de Soveral, Princess Hatzfeldt, and the Marquis Villaveja were among the other guests. The meal was served in the garden of the hotel, and at its conclusion the King and his hosts visited the café Helenenhof, where they inspected the apartments occupied by M. Clemenceau, the ex-Premier of France. Tea was served later, and a move made to the golf links, where his Majesty's automobile met the party. Shortly after five o'clock the King bade farewell to his hosts and returned to Marienbad. It may not be generally known that the land on which the café Helenenhof stands is the property of Lord Westbury, who intends to build an hotel in the vicinity.

AMERICAN LADY ROBBED IN LONDON.

Mrs. Moser, an American visitor to London, who is staying with her husband at a fashionable hotel in the West End, was robbed on Friday of jewels valued at £4,000. On returning from a walk Mr. and Mrs. Moser discovered that the jewel case had been wrenched open and its contents abstracted. The missing jewels include some of a rare variety. The police have an exact description of the articles, but no trace of the thief has been found.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE SMASH IN AMERICA.

Indianapolis, Ind., was on Friday the scene of a shocking automobile mishap, which cost the lives of two men. A car occupied by a gentleman and his chauffeur was turning a corner at high speed, when it swerved from its course and crashed into a wall. The car was splintered to atoms and the two occupants killed on the spot. More than 12,000 people witnessed the catastrophe.

SUFFRAGETTE ENTERPRISE FOILED.

A number of militant Suffragettes were found to be assembled on the roof of St. Andrew's Hall at Glasgow on Friday, where Lord Crewe, a member of the Cabinet, was due to make a speech. The ladies were removed from their coign of vantage before the arrival of his Lordship, and it transpired that they had been on the roof the whole night through, with the firm intention of breaking-up the meeting. They were drenched to the skin by the torrential rain that fell in the night. How they came to be on such a dangerous place—the roof is a sloping one—is not yet known.

GERMAN-AMERICAN YACHT RACING.

The trials for the selection of three American yachts to compete in the German-American special-class yacht-races at the end of the month took place at Marblehead (Mass.) yesterday. Nineteen yachts started. The three finally chosen to represent America were: Ellen, belonging to Mr. C. P. Curtis, of the Boston Club; Joyette, owned by Mr. W. Shield, of the Benson-Hurst Club; and Wolf, the property of Mr. Caleb Loring, Eastern Club. The German yachts entered are Hevelle, Seehund II., and Margarete.

SPANISH REINFORCEMENTS FOR MELILLA.

Paris, August 21.

The Matin publishes a report from Melilla, dated the 18th instant, that the Spanish Government had informed General Marina that whatever he required would be supplied; but that he should incur no risks. General Marina had therefore asked for an Infantry division of 8,000 men in addition to the troops already provided. This will raise the forces under his command to 48,000 men.

DR. ELIOT'S FIVE-FOOT BOOKSHELF.

Dr. Eliot has at last replied to the criticisms levelled at his "five-foot bookshelf" collection of the world's best books. The Professor has been deluged with letters of protest from people all over the country calling his attention to the notable omission in his list of both the Bible and Shakespeare. Up to the present he has maintained a discreet silence; but the Professor now declares that his omission was intentional. He never imagined that anyone who read books at all would be without the Bible and Shakespeare's works; and he drew up his list on the assumption that these two greatest of all books must necessarily be the nucleus about which even the smallest library was formed.

DRESDEN MUSIC AND ART NOTICE.

In the Ernst Arnold gallery, Schloss Strasse, are now to be seen some of the best works of Professor W. F. Pauwels, who painted in Dresden from 1876 to 1904 and is well-known by his frescoes in the Aula of the Fürstenschule at Meissen. The examples here exhibited are six two-meter paintings, representing scenes in the history of Ypres, which were reproduced by the artist in much larger dimensions for the fine Gothic cloth-hall of that old Flemish town. These paintings are of interest for their historic character as well as for their colour and drawing. Other examples by the same hand are: "Der Dokumentendieb," "Der Kardinal," and "Der gefährliche Weg."

A plot to murder Rienzi by the Orsini is betrayed by Adriano, and the nobles are condemned to death, but at Irene's entreaty Rienzi relents and pardons them. They again rebel and in a battle the chief of them are slain; this turns Adriano against Rienzi. Herod, who entertains a gilly love for Salome, implores her to dance before him, offering her any reward she may choose. She finally consents, and at the conclusion of the dance demands the head of John the Baptist. Herod upholds her demand, and Herod, reluctantly consenting, the head is brought on a silver charger. DRESDEN, BISMARCKPLATZ 10, CLOSE TO THE

for the benefit of their compatriots who have not so recently been home.

Mr. J. Barclay Saunders, of Columbus, Ohio, is among the recent arrivals in Dresden. He spent some time at Carlsbad and Prague, and will continue his journey to Leipzig and Hanover in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George German, of New York, are visiting Dresden and are staying at the Pension Fricke, Räcknitz Strasse. Mr. German is a prominent American educational authority.

Mr. Wilson M. Riley, accompanied by his two daughters, reached Dresden by automobile yesterday from Berlin and will proceed to Bayreuth this week. Mr. Riley is the proprietor of a large Brooklyn hotel. When asked his opinion of the alleged decline of alcoholic consumption in the United States, he eloquently replied: "Shucks! Somebody has been telling you fair tales. The humidity of New York, at least, remains stationary, and I haven't noticed that the water-wagon is better patronised than of yore. Most of us have still got cold feet on the camel proposition. Who wants to be a camel?"

Mrs. Murray Loftus, and daughter, of London, and Miss Mary Rowlett, of Oxford, reached Dresden yesterday for a week's visit.

The Rev. William Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, of Toronto, are making a tour of German art centres and passed through Dresden yesterday. Mr. Campbell has for many years conducted mission work among the Indians who, he said, are rapidly losing all their original racial characteristics. More than a dozen young "braves" fill positions of trust in Toronto business houses, displaying intelligence, integrity, and a remarkable aptitude for hard work.

Services are held today in the Scots Church, Bernhard Strasse, at 11 and 6 o'clock, conducted by the Resident Minister, Rev. T. H. Wright. All visitors to Dresden, especially British and American, are cordially invited. During the brief evening service a lecture will be delivered on the Holbein Madonna, the famous copy of which is in the Dresden gallery.

Among the latest arrivals at Dresden are Mrs. Theodora Warner and Miss Grace Warner, of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. William Munsen, of Watertown, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. James Henry White with Miss Ethelyn White, of New York. They have taken up quarters at Pension Blech.

The Hanseatic towns Hamburg, Lübeck, and Bremen are well represented at the International Photographic Exhibition, and shown to be places of first-rate commercial importance. Hamburg is the resort of the Vierländer, the inhabitants of a low-lying fertile tract of country on the right bank of the Elbe, and retaining many peculiar old-world characteristics. The somewhat triste "beauties" of Bremen landscapes are made the most of by the Worpssweder artists; and the architecture of the fine villas and churches of Lübeck gives an idea of the prosperity of this oldest of German republics.

Today, Sunday, parties will be conducted through the Korn tele-photograph section from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 3 to 5 o'clock p.m. The music will be supplied by the band of the II. Grenadier regiment No. 101; the concert beginning at 4.30 p.m., and lasting till 10.30.

The price of a season ticket is only 3 marks.

The last sentence of the business notice published in this column on Friday relative to Herr Paulk's course of hypnology should have read:—A book to which Herr Paulk has contributed a short sketch of his art-of-life philosophy has been published by the Pentagramm-Verlag, in Jena and Dresden (Schnorr Strasse 38).
