AERIAL STRATEGY.

(By the late Clarence Stedman.)

V.

The most successful machines have demonstrated my early protest against car-leverage by placing the car and motor close to the end of the aerostat, and Zeppelin's magic attachment almost reaches my ideal of an integral moving body. The account of all this, regularly taken by me from the press for a quarter-century, is well condensed and illustrated in Mr. Augustus Post's first hand book of the Aero Club of America, with plenteous other matter. This book, the club, the experiments of its enthusiastic members, show how thoroughly the demonstration that the problem of aerial navigation is solved has entered into the mind, and has promoted the contests of sport and venturous amateurs, as of governments and savants. At this moment the highest mechanical genius of the world is applied to the perfection of motors and dirigible aerostatic ships, and to the solution of the problems of power and stability for aeroplanes and tetrahedral kites. Of all the dirigible fish patterns, those by the Germans are the most successful, and certainly most conform to my requirements of unity, rigidity, and front strengthened like the head of a fish; they are also the largest, profiting by the fact that, as Mr. Carl Dienstbach states it, "By the law of air accumulation in front of a moving body, the resistance becomes proportionately less for one big body than for many small ones," together equaling it in cross-section. This has virtually justified my argument for liberal outlay and magnitude of dimensions. Finally, at the present writing, England has waked up to the necessity of grappling the problem as a war measure, and her engineers are at work. Then our Government, viewing with sympathy the efforts for ultimate achievement and management of the aeroplane flyers and gliders, sees that the dirigible is already accomplished, and needs only a little further application to military needs, and has gone to work itself, with all the advances of other governments to start with. I conclude that the era of life and government as effected by man's conquest of the air is upon us; that certain radical results are to follow, as surely as the simple invention of the elevator has quadrupled the residence capacity of any given area of city, and the toy-bicycle, first, and the automobile later, have revolutionized road-building—to take only two of the modern inventions of general utilization; and that the aerial age is yet in its infancy.

But at this moment I am not half so much intent upon rehearsing my "told you so" as about completing the train of results which would follow upon even initiatory navigation of the air. For, in fact, I made the strangest possible omission—an omission that to me would be incredible, if I did not plead the absolute incredulity at that time prevailing as to the solution of the problem at all—a problem then classed with the squaring of the circle. It is true, I reflect with complacency, that I did devote picturesquely eloquent passages to what would follow man's conquest of the air, and I did say, as all have found obvious, that it would make war a hideous impracticability. But of late—that is, since the appearance of Captain Mahan's masterwork, in 1893, on the "Influence of Sea Power in History"—I have wondered how it was that, going at such length into the corollaries of the German nature, I could have failed to think of the one result—of that glaring concrete type which most impresses the unreflecting average class,—most instantaneous in existence, and most dramatic and startlingly recognizable and to be reckoned with.

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

LONDON, Saturday.—In the House of Commons, the Treasury's proposals for the repayment of the 1900 war loan were read a third time. Opposition speakers charged the Government with wilfully adding to the present financial confusion, but Mr. Asquith, in an energetic speech of defence, declared it was impossible to alleviate a situation directly brought about by the Lords, and for which the Upper House must carry the full responsibility. The sitting of Parliament had to be occupied until the end of the financial year with the settlement of the various Budgets, without which administration could not be carried on. In answer to the Opposition's proposals that a special Act should be passed legalising the income-tax proposals for 1909—10, the Prime Minister said that the Government refused to depart from custom in this matter. The Budget had to be passed in its entirety.

EVERETT (Wash.), Saturday.—It is now certain that the number of people who perished in the avalanche disaster in the Cascade Mountains, in which two trains were overwhelmed, is 118. Of these 84 were passengers.

POINTE A PITRE (Guadeloupe), Saturday.—The strike in Basse Terre is spreading. At Capesterre many workmen have broken into factories and private houses seeking for plunder. The mail service is totally disorganised, as mail vans are held up and looted by the rioters.

CALCUTTA, Saturday.—The Government's proposal to increase the duty on silver, petroleum, and beer was ratified yesterday by the Legislative Council.

COLOGNE, Friday.—While a balloon called the Clouth V. was being inflated here this morning, the violent wind tore it from its moorings, and the aerostat, already inflated to three-quarters of its capacity, soared aloft and disappeared in a westerly direction.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller's latest gift to charity has caused a sensation throughout the civilised world. According to latest reports from New York, the capital represented by this gift is no less than 300 million dollars, by far the largest amount ever donated by a single individual. It will go towards the formation of a Charity Trust, and the 300 million dollars correspond exactly to the value of Standard Oil shares now held by the Rockefeller family. The yearly interest from this vast sum will amount to 20 million dollars, which will be annually expended in the interests of humanity without distinction of race or creed. John Rockefeller, junior, on Friday last resigned his directorship in the Standard Oil Co., and, it is announced, he will also withdraw from every business undertaking in which he has hitherto been interested, so that he may be able to devote his entire time and energy to the management of his father's gigantic charity. Already there has been established a permanent council of advisers who will act in this capacity to "John D., junior," to whom will be entrusted the distribution of the annual funds. Mr. Rockefeller senior declares that he will in no way interfere in the conduct of the undertaking, but will give his son an absolutely free hand.

For the past few days New York has been in the grip of a fog which for density is said to rival even a London "particular." Up to yesterday morning traffic was everywhere at a complete standstill. Liners were unable to leave the harbour according to schedule, and ferry-boats between New Jersey and Manhattan had to cease running, as the signal lights were enveloped in vast clouds of dingy fog. Traffic on the elevated railway was only carried on under difficulty and with great danger, as motormen were unable to see the signals. Everywhere in the city there were street accidents, people being run over by the dozen and traffic becoming jammed at the cross streets.

According to a London telegram, a section of Ireland was despatched to the United States on Thursday, because a number of patriotic Irishmen across the Atlantic were determined to receive President Taft "on Irish soil" at the St. Patrick's day celebration. This little bit of the "Emerald Isle" was cut bodily out of a field and held together by peat. It was carefully transported to Queenstown and there placed on board the steamship St. Louis. On arrival at New York it will be forwarded to Chicago and there laid down. President Taft has promised to visit Chicago on St. Patrick's Day, when he will hold a speech with his feet on Irish soil. It is said that the cost of transporting this unique cargo across the ocean is enormous, as great care has to be exercised on account of its brittleness. As an example of practical "patriotism," this would be hard to beat.

LONDON, Saturday.—Ex-President Roosevelt left Mongalla on Thursday and continued his journey to Khartoum, where he is expected to arrive on the 17th instant. Mr. Roosevelt is suffering from a slight attack of dysentery, but the other members of his expedition are in the best of health.

NEW YORK, Friday.—Reports reaching here from Bluefields (Nicaragua) confirm the news of a decisive defeat sustained by the revolutionaries under General Chamorro on February 22, in the vicinity of Tisna. The Government forces, commanded by General Estrada, made a dashing attack and hurled their opponents back in disorder. General Chamorro himself escaped only with a handful of followers from the hot pursuit. His total losses in killed, wounded, and prisoners are said to total 1,800. The backbone of the revolutionary movement has been broken by this reverse, and it is expected that the war will now continue in the form of guerilla fighting.

BERLIN

Mrs. David Jayne Hill, wife of the American Ambassador, will be "at home" to all Americans residing or visiting in Berlin on Friday, March 11th, from four to six o'clock, at the Embassy, Bismarck Strasse 4 (am Königs Platz).

Among the interesting visitors to Berlin at present is Miss Emma E. Clark, of Chicago, director of the Illinois Woman's Press Association and chairman of the Correspondents and Contributors Department. Miss Emma Clark is one of the leading woman journalists of the "Windy City," being a regular contributor to the Music News of Chicago and an irregular one to daily papers and magazines. She is president of a school of music, and expects to remain in Berlin for a month or two longer, investigating musical and club matters. She is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and a Dame of the Loyal Legion of the U. S. A.

Many prominent clubs and people in Berlin are showing Miss Clark much hospitality, which she also enjoyed in the course of a trip through Italy and Austria. Today (Sunday) the management of the Kaiserhof, Wilhelms Platz, has kindly arranged for her to give a tea to some twenty-five Berlin friends.

Some particulars of the Illinois Woman's Press Association, its purposes and principles, as given by Miss Clark may be of interest to our readers. Among its honorary members are Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, author of the world-famous "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and Bertha Baroness von Suttner, Austria's great advocate of universal peace.

The Association was organized in May 1885 at the New Orleans Exposition. Mrs. Marion McBride, of the Boston Post, who was superintendent of the Woman's Press Department at that exhibition, conceived the thought of enlisting a body of penwomen into a society similar to the W. C. T. U., with state associations auxiliary to it.

Mrs. Frances A. Conant, of Chicago, one of the organizers of the National Woman's Press Association, interested Chicago woman writers in the matter, and thus the Illinois Woman's Press Association came into being in May 1885, the Press Club of Chicago courteously allowing the use of its rooms for the preliminary gatherings. After a few meetings, further action was suspended by the summer vacation. In January following, the society met at the residence of Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, and re-organization was effected on an independent basis.

The organizers of the Association designed to conduct it on a broad foundation, and a Constitution was framed to admit writers of all classes—authors, contributors, correspondents, and poets—as well as those who wrote for newspapers. It was not desired to make it in any sense a trade union, or for newspaper workers only, though it did propose to advance the interests of women as writers and along kindred lines. During its twenty-four years of existence, the organization has not omitted a regular meeting and has held many special sessions. A number of its founders are yet on the roll and are active in its councils. Various entertainments, banquets, receptions to prominent persons, and the annual midsummer reunion are pleasant features which are enjoyed by friends as well as members.

As previously announced, Miss Leila S. Hoelterhoff's song recital next Thursday, March 10, will take place at the Bechstein Saal. Appended below is the very interesting programme which this talented American vocalist will render:—

The song recital commences 8 at p.m. Mr. Fritz Lindemann will accompany at the piano. Tickets for this affair, which should possess great interest for members of the American colony, may be obtained from Messrs. Bote and Bock, Leipziger Strasse 37, from A. Wertheim, Leipziger und Kant Strasse, and at the door. Prices range from 1 to five marks.

In regard to the Exhibition of American Art, which is being arranged to take place at the Berlin Art Academy, contrary to expectation it is now authoritatively stated that no decision has been arrived at regarding the opening date and other details. Mr. Hugo Reisinger, who is in Berlin to represent American interests in the matter, is now negotiating with the Academy officials.

We hear on reliable authority that the plan of acquiring property for the purposes of the American Embassy in Berlin has been extended. Not only the house Bismarck Strasse 4, now occupied by His Excellency Dr. Hill, but also the adjoining mansion, situate in Alsen Strasse 6, are to become the property of the American Government. The two buildings are to be connected by a large hall, to serve representative purposes, which is to be built in the garden. The Bill relating to this purchase is before the Senate, and a decision in the matter is expected to be reached in June.

Ex-president Roosevelt will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Hill during his stay in this city.

Prince Henry of Prussia returned from his visit to the King of England last Friday by the Flushing route.

A German version of "When Knights Were Bold" will be produced at the New Theatre, Berlin, next Tuesday evening. For the event Prince Henry of Prussia has promised his patronage.

Since the police authorities of this city had forbidden a demonstration to be held here in the open air in connection with the proposed Prussian suffrage Bill, the social democratic Vorwärts has invited its readers to "take a walk" in Treptow Park this afternoon. This also the police interdicted, on the ground that such a "walk" en masse was the same as a demonstration such as they had forbidden to be held. The police notified yesterday that very probably it would become necessary to close the park altogether. We advise our readers to "keep off the grass," as otherwise they might have an unpleasant experience of a Sunday afternoon.

PARIS, Saturday.—(Priv. telegram).—The Seine appears now to be on the steady decline, and Paris is again in a fairly normal condition after the great floods. Yesterday afternoon the station at Quai d'Orsay was reopened by high officials of the Orleans railway, and traffic has been resumed from the Pont S. Michel station, which was completely inundated. The health of the city is absolutely satisfactory, and the death-rate is even below the average. Typhoid, of which there have been one or two isolated cases, is not assuming the form of an epidemic, and everywhere praise is heard of the municipality's prompt measures of disinfection which were taken after the flood subsided.

PHILADELPHIA, Saturday.—It is believed that 75,000 employés in all branches of industry joined the sympathy strike for the Philadelphia car men at midnight last night. The police fear disturbances. (LATER.)—The Federation of Labour committee confirms the assumption that at midnight 75,000 Union men and many non-Union workers ceased work. Cab drivers left their vehicles before concert halls, hotels, and cafés. Police and firemen have received orders to remain at their posts.

PARIS, Saturday.—Workmen belonging to the Electricians' Syndicate employed at elevator factories have decided to strike in view of their employers' refusal to raise wages. In the proclamation announcing this decision, which is signed by "King" Pataud, it is stated: "The workers permit themselves as lovers of humanity to give the following advice—if you value your life, don't enter a lift or elevator until the strike is ended!"

PARIS, Saturday.—Jeanne Marni, the well known novelist, died at Cannes yesterday at the age of 56.

ST. PETERSBURG, Friday.—On an inventory being made of the silver and gold wreaths on the coffins of the Czars lying in the Peter and Paul Cathedral here it was discovered that some twenty wreaths of great value had disappeared. These have probably been stolen and sold by some minor officials. An investigation has been instituted.

WIENERNEUSTADT, Saturday.—An engineer by the name of Warchalowsky won this morning the price of 5,000 kronen given by the Austrian aeronautic commission, with a flight in his aeroplane over 10 kilometres without an intermediate landing.

BERLIN, Saturday.—Herr Hintner, a painter, made a flight lasting six minutes on his monoplane this morning, covering about 7 kilometres at a height of 15 to 20 metres.

CHALONS, Saturday.—Farman has established another record for a flight with three passengers. He ascended with a journalist and a lady and covered 20 kilometres in 16min. 35sec.

LATEST AMERICAN MAIL NEWS.

TO THE UNITED STATES.
March 8.—Kronprinzessin Cecilie, from Bremen, mails due in New York March 15. Mark letters "Via Bremen," and post tomorrow (Monday).
March 10.—Oceanic, from Queenstown, mails due in New York March 16. Mark letters "Via England," and post tomorrow (Monday).

SPECIAL NOTICE.
Letters for the above steamers should be posted, in any boxes in Berlin or Dresden, not later than 1 o'clock p.m. on the days given.
Letters bearing a 10-pfennig stamp per weight of 20 grammes are only valid for transit by a German steamer sailing direct from a German port. They will not be sent by an English or French steamer.

TO CANADA.
Same as to the United States, but no 10-pfennig rate!
It may be mentioned that an "Empress" steamer of the C.P.R., or a steamer of the Allan Line leaves Liverpool for Quebec and Montreal direct every Friday. Letters intended for Canada by this direct route should be posted in Berlin and Dresden not later than 1 o'clock p.m. on Wednesdays, and be marked "via England," if marked at all. The "Empress" steamers deliver the mail in Quebec and Montreal on the following Friday, the "Allan" steamers on Saturday.

NEXT AMERICAN MAILS DUE IN BERLIN AND DRESDEN.
Today (Sunday), by the S.S. La Touraine, and the S.S. Geo. Washington, both left New York February 24.
Tomorrow (Monday), by the S.S. Oceanic, left New York February 26

As there are many of our readers who still appear to believe that letters despatched to America under the new cheap rate—10 pfgs. for 20 grammes, only by steamer sailing from German ports—are not forwarded by the express steamers, but are kept back for transference by "any old tub," we may state that, on the contrary, such letters are despatched by the first steamer on the schedule, be it an express or ordinary mail steamer. No distinction whatever is made, and full advantage of the cheaper rate may therefore be taken. Such letters may be sent by every steamer sailing from a German harbour (Hamburg or Bremen) which appears in our daily mail list.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR TODAY

DRESDEN

Newman L. Fielding, a young American musician from whom great things are hoped in the future, was in Dresden a day or two ago with his mother, Mrs. Sara Rose Fielding, of Chicago, who informed our representative that her son has been brought to Europe in conformity with a desire he had cherished for years.

The attitude of Mrs. Fielding and her husband, as expressed to our correspondent, seems a most sensible one, and one that might with advantage have been adopted by the natural guardians of a good many "prodigies" who have not fulfilled the first enthusiastic expectations.

At his second concert this season, which is booked to take place at the Palmengarten tomorrow at 7.30 p.m., Herr Max von Pauer will play the following programme:—Sonata in D, by Mozart; a small piece in E-flat minor, Adagio and Rondo op. 145 and Impromptu op. 142 No. 4, by Schubert; variation and fugue on a theme of Bach's, by Reger; two rhapsodies by Brahms; Sonette de Petrarca, Scherzo and March, by Liszt.

On Tuesday next, March 8th, the fourth chamber-music evening of the Leipzig Gewandhaus Quartet and Herr Emil Kronke will take place at the Künstlerhaus.

Mr. Percy Sherwood's last lecture in German on the "Götterdämmerung" next Wednesday, the 9th inst., will begin at four o'clock, instead of half-past four, and will end punctually at half-past five, so as to allow time for his hearers to get to the Opera.

Mary Wollen, vocal teacher at the Royal Conservatoire, will give a Musical Recital with some of her pupils tomorrow (Monday) at 4 p.m. in the hall of Hotel Bristol.

International Hygienic Exhibition Dresden 1910.—A few days ago a Danish Committee was formed at Copenhagen for this exhibition, among the members being the most prominent Danish authorities.

In connection with this exhibition there is in preparation an exhibition of Jewish Hygiene. Dr. Max Grunwald, editor of the Jüdische Volkskunde, is engaged on the necessary preliminary investigations: He will shortly issue invitations to the various Jewish corporations to contribute articles illustrative of Jewish hygiene.

The Anton Graff exhibition at the Galerie Ernst Arnold was opened on Thursday last, the 3rd inst. This highly interesting collection is hung in the two large halls of the ground floor and the two first halls of the first floor.
