Triumph in Photography!

THE AUTOMATON PHOTOGRAPHIC CAMERA.

For Wet or Dry-Plate Photography.

Enabling the Photographic Artist to manipulate and to produce Negatives of Large or Small Dimensions in the midst of Daylight with ease, comfort, and certainty, without any special apparatus independent of the camera, which has hitherto been unattainable satisfactorily. This invention is about to be patented. To carry out its objects a Gentleman of means would be taken as a Partner, or it would be sold. Application to be made to the Inventor—

FRANCIS S. BEATTY,
30, Summer Hill, Dublin.

Only surviving Photographic Artist of 1839. See PHOTOGRAPHIC NEWS, August 8th, 1879. Patentee of the Photo-lithograph Transfer, 1860, and inventor of many useful processes in Photography and Lithography.
