

A page of aged, yellowish-brown paper with ten horizontal musical staves. The notation is handwritten in dark ink. The first staff begins with a large, ornate treble clef. The notes are mostly circular, with some stems and beams. There are several double bar lines (||) interspersed throughout the notation. The paper shows signs of age, including some staining and a small tear at the top left corner.