

Handwritten text at the top of the page, likely a title or introductory paragraph, written in a historical script.

Handwritten text block located below the central illustration, continuing the text from the top of the page.

Additional handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a concluding paragraph or a separate section.