

Méru, A. F. Bulard de - f. Bulard.

The page contains a large grid of faint lines, likely a table or ledger. The grid is composed of several vertical and horizontal lines. The top horizontal line is a solid line, while the others are dashed. The page is mostly blank, with some scattered small marks and faint text fragments, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.