

Faint introductory text at the top of the page, possibly describing the content of the diagrams below.

Faint text caption located directly below the first diagram, likely providing context or a title for the drawing.

Faint text caption located directly below the second diagram, likely providing context or a title for the drawing.

