

of the most distinguished sculptors of Greece; —
23. Head of a Grecian statue of Alexander; —
25. Hermes, in a sitting position; — 28. Niobe
and her Children; a beautiful group in Florence; — 32. Menander, the distinguished poet of the New Comedy at Athens. In the Vatican; — 38. Aphrodite parting with Anchises. Bronze relief discovered in Epirus; — 43. Hermes, as patron of all gymnastic games, and protector of all Palestrae or Gymnasia; — 48. The Borghese Gladiator; a well-known statue; at the Louvre;
— The Grinder; a small copy of the celebrated marble statue at Florence; — 51. Serapis, an Egyptian divinity; colossal marble bust in the Vatican; — 54. Infant Zeus suckled by the goat Amalthea; in the Museum of the Capitoleum; — 62. Apollo; — 64. Relief from a tomb, representing a repast; in the Louvre; — 67. The dying Gladiator; in the Museum of the Capitoleum; —
68. Juno; — 79. The Capitolian Venus; —
80. The Venus of Florence; — 83. The Venus of Medicis; at Florence; — 85. Youthful Athlete;
— 87. Bacchante riding on a Panther; marble relief; — 93. Indian Bacchus; in the Vatican; — 94. Leda and Swan; in Florence; — Endymion, a youth renowned for his beauty and his perpetual sleep; discovered in the villa Hadriani near Tivoli; — 107. Silenus drunk, held by a Satyr;
108. Apollo among the Charites; an excellent marble relief from Capri; — 115. Zeno, the founder of the Stoic philosophy; — 118. Germanicus, a Roman general who fought many battles against