

Handwritten musical notation on five staves. The first four staves contain dense musical notation with notes, beams, and slurs. The fifth staff has a large scribble. The word "forte" is written on the second staff, and "piano" is written on the third staff.

A series of ten empty musical staves with faint, ghostly impressions of notes and lines, suggesting bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

12