

Faint handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or page number.

The first four staves of the manuscript contain handwritten musical notation. The notation includes various note values, stems, and beams, typical of 18th or 19th-century manuscript notation. A dynamic marking 'p.' is visible on the third staff. The paper shows signs of age, including foxing and staining.

The lower portion of the page consists of several empty musical staves, indicating that the music on this page is incomplete or that these staves were intended for further notation.
