DOROTHEA SUFFRIAN

As a supplement to our historical survey of the artistic development of the postage-stamp, we publish some of the work of Dorothea Suffrian, a Berlin artist who shows a special gift for this particular branch of art. Once more the prophet has not been honored in his own country, for it was three South American states which discovered this young talent before her own home-country had paid any attention to her gifts. Dorothea Suffrian understands how to arrange a clear disposition of the elements of her picture in the smallest possible space and we take pleasure in calling attention to this artist. Precisely for graphic in miniature it is almost as difficult to find the suitable artists as to dig up appreciative clients.

Translated by Ethel Talbot Scheffauer.
