

TILLY VOIGT

is an unusual master of advertising photography. She not only photographs the wares offered, but also creates a desire to possess them and that is the highest praise which one can accord to an advertising photographer.

Trans. by E. T. S.