

KURON

Victor Kuron is modern in the best sense. Bound to no special art form he employs whatever medium seems to promise the best result for the work in hand. He is a good draughtsman, a brilliant photographer and a reporter, who simply carries conviction. When necessary in the interests of clarity and point he writes the copy to the illustrations himself, and you feel, in every instance, it must be just so and not otherwise; all his solutions are perfect in their way.

Transl. by E. L. W-Williams.