

THE PHOTOGRAPHER SCHALL

"To me a locomotive is just as interesting as a pretty woman", said the well-known French photographer Schall who is called the "specialist in elegance".

This new star among photographers has become known very rapidly owing to the special atmosphere of his pictures. He has succeeded in catching certain ideas in a way that has not been seen before. He photographs a few top hats of figures in evening dress, a blaze of rockets bursting in the sky and the floating evening wrap of a woman in the shadow — and the quintessence of Parisian elegance is re-
