

"You've given my husband a new wife, Jane Seymour"

"I've just woken up to the fact that my husband regards me as a piece of furniture!" said a woman to me some months ago. "I want to come alive again. Can you help me?"

"I'll try," I said. "But you mustn't expect a miracle. You've got the kind of skin that doesn't bear the neglect you've been subjecting it to!"

She had. It was the sallow type, inclined to be greasy. Fortunately I've got a special treatment for that.

"Stop using heavy cleansing cream," I said. "Wash your face with my Cleansing Milk instead. It's a real tonic, and quite wonderful for clearing up a dark skin. Then, for six nights, smooth in my Pore Cream. It's just what those big pores of yours need to discipline them. After that use Skin Food and Pore Cream on alternate nights. Whatever 'cure' you're giving your skin, it must be fed! For mornings, pat in my Brown Astringent. It will close your pores, and stimulate your circulation like fresh air. As a powder base, use my Petal Lotion with a generous dusting of my new Gossamer Powder. It's made specially to keep greasy skins matt—and looks lovely."

Well, she went away happy, and I hoped she'd do as I told her. She did! A few days ago she came in again — all gratitude — looking years younger. "You've given my husband a new wife!" she said.

You can get all these preparations from any smart shop, and do make a point of asking for my booklet 'Speaking Frankly.' It will tell you how to choose the right treatment. If you'd like special advice, come to my Salon or write. The address is Jane Seymour, 23 Woodstock Street, Bond Street W.1. Mayfair 3712
