

Radioplakat

Radio poster

OTTO STANZIG is one of those conscientious advertising artists who is not merely content with executing what he has been commissioned to do in a form that is graphically good and certain to make an appeal to the public. Rather does he belong to that group of artists who fully conscious of what is expected of their art, feel the urge to improve upon and make