

Entwurf
A A G E R A S M U S S E N
Design

mer nights, the beach, sleepy castles and massive lowbuilt farmhouses, cheerful pleasant towns, the fjords and colourful national dress, the country folk-dances, all appear akin to us but not too familiar. The bright flourish of colour lends wings to our fancy and carries our longing to the North, a longing as old as that of the South. For the Nibelungs also went to Northland.

Translated by Flora Salmond-Volkman