Fashion photograph

A strong personality is revealed in all the work of the well-known woman photographer Regi Lang-Kurz who is known by the name of Relang. A glance will suffice to show that she is not bent on achieving a selection of effective motifs alone. Her photographs are not snapshots but are rather the results of good stage-mangement which frequently necessitates tedious efforts in order to obtain the best possible effect. Looking particularly at her fashion photos with this fact in mind, it will be seen that the artistic harmony of fashion, mannequin and pose assures a power of attraction in every case. So much beauty has been conjured into the picture that only a very obtuse person could fail to grasp it. This exceedingly happy combination of fashion-reviewer and artist-photographer does not, however, signify any particular specialization. On the contrary, it is not the subject that matters to her but the How. Whenever she selects a subject for reproduction, her creative urge and her inventive genius strive to obtain a really pictorial effect, be it by the choice of some unusual
