

PLAKATE · POSTERS

The most outstanding representative of naturalistic art in Hungary is undoubtedly Julius Fejes. He expresses himself for the most part with vigour and displays a sure certainty of hand, generally speaking with little regard for detail. His posters, on the other hand, are highly pleasing in offset, and these he works out with what might be termed photographic accuracy and a meticulous observance of

