

the existing forms of government in the Mother Country, now finds its culmination and crown in the final phase of the development introduced by Signor Mussolini for the systematic realisation of his colonial plans. The technical arrangements of this section of the Exhibition which the Fascist Party had planned were in the hands of Professor Erberto Carboni. He was eminently successful in displaying impressively and vividly the magnificent achievements of the Italian people under Fascist rule which ultimately led up to the founding of an Empire. Worthy of particular mention is what may be termed a monumental exhibition poster
