Last May the German Goldsmiths' Society inaugurated a Competition for the purpose of acquiring a selection of Christmas and New Year cards. The number of entrants was highly satisfactory. The results of the Competition were recently announced, and we have pleasure in reproducing some of the winners as well as a few of the cards recommended for sale. The work shows throughout the serious endeavours of the competitors to do their best in solving the task allotted them. The whole idea of the Competition was to vivify the good old custom of sending artistically designed cards
