Schauen" (Travelling and Seeing). Leo Faller's cards reveal him to be a graphic artist of a high order who with his fine sense of colour blends everything connected with his subject-matter into one harmonious whole. Those who scrutinize Faller's work with care will feel that his aim each time is to delight the eye with some new and charming detail. He loves detail and his work shows meticulous thoroughness but his own distinctive style as a creative artist is never lacking. These then are the characteristics of his delightful booklets "Reisen und Schauen" with their pictures of the Rhine and the railways of his
