

some time past Erich Fornoff has held an appointment as art adviser and stage-scenery expert at the Municipal Theatre of Frankfort-on-Main where he gained that wide practical experience he now so successfully utilizes in his publicity work for the Frankfort Theatres. His activities at these Theatres led almost as a matter of course to his production of strikingly decorative, large-scale posters for theatres and for festive occasions that require an artistic note, such as music festivals and the like. This work of Fornoff's affords striking proof of his success in that field of advertising art lying outside of his
