

1

Paris at Home

Fantastically, extravagantly at home. The more tense the atmosphere in Europe, the more they seek escape in realms of fantasy. 1. When Comtesse Jean de Polignac retires, she throws her dressing gown over a luscious siren, lifted singing out of the waves by the hand of an eighteenth-century Venetian artist.

2. Madame Deharme's bedspread is real black

Chantilly over pale pink satin.

A1