Master School of German Handicrafts in Berlin. Here Prof. Harold Bengen developed Damsleth's aptitude for decorative art. The Norwegian artist today lives in his native land where in his capacity as art director and partner in the Publicity Agency and Advertising Office "Herolden" in Oslo he holds a big and important job, for in addition to work for private clients this large concern is responsible for the whole of Norway's State propaganda. The representative examples of Harald Damsleth's work reproduced here will give readers some idea of the extent of his activities. How
