

Zitrone
Lemon

satisfy woman's natural desire for adornment. This non-problematic attitude explains the extraordinary daring occasionally revealed in the designs of the fabrics. Not only do they betray a deep respect for artistic achievement and impeccable taste, they clearly show that in this domain of work there are no hard and fast rules to observe in so far as it is a matter of preserving the spirit and character of