

Der letzte Magdeburger Zimigießermeister
 Behrens, Timplerbrücke. 78 Jahre alt

G. A. WOLFF

who think they know Old Magdeburg well will be amazed at the richness of the treasures collected in Magdeburg and its environs when they turn over Wolff's preliminary studies and sketches. Here is an artist who can sense and recapture the vanished romantic charm of the ancient fortified city on the Elbe. He is never dry and dull. The versatile use he makes of his media and the literary value of his work prevent this from happening. Moreover, Wolff always tries to enlighten and interest ordinary people. We should like to congratulate the City of Magdeburg both on its Museum founded just at the right time and on the excellent curator and collector of these local treasures, Gustav A. Wolff.
