

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is heavily obscured by water damage and staining, making it largely illegible. Some faint words are visible, including "JANUARI" and "1711".